THE BROOKLYN EAGLE ALMANAC.

VOLUME XVII.

JANUARY, 1902.

No. 1 of EAGLE LIBRARY.

THIS is the seventeenth year of publication of the EAGLE ALMANAC, a sufficient time in which to establish a record for trustworthiness. The first number of the EAGLE ALMANAC, published in 1886, was a book one-third the size of the present volume. Each year since, the ALMANAC has increased in size, in importance and prestige, until to-day it has become recognized not only in New York City but throughout the United States as a statistical annual second to none published in this country. The first volume was prepared with special reference to the then City of Brooklyn. The scope of the book every year has been enlarged until now it contains a record of every interest of importance of the entire City of New York, of Long Island and, in a general way, of the United States.

The year 1901 has been a notable one in the history of the BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE. This paper has not only maintained its place as the leading journal in its own locality but has extended its fields throughout all the boroughs of New York City and, in a marked degree, throughout the country. Its circulation was never larger, its advertising patronage was never greater, nor was its influence and reputation more extended than it is to-day. In December, 1901, the EAGLE opened its new Manhattan office in the World Building. It is regarded as one of the handsomest business offices in Manhattan. On December 13, 1901, the EAGLE announced the erection of a large addition to the EAGLE Building, work to begin next Spring.

The EAGLE's Sixtieth Anniversary was celebrated on Thursday evening, October 24, 1901, by a reception held at the Pouch Mansion tendered by the owners of the paper to the people connected therewith. It was a notable event in newspaper circles. An anniversary souvenir was published on October 27th.

Following its example of the World's Fair at Chicago, the EAGLE maintained a bureau in Buffalo for the special benefit of the visitors of the Pan-American Exposition. The office was at 233 Main street. The rooms were fitted up in a magnificent manner and every possible attention was shown to visitors. The Bureau was very largely patronized and was thoroughly appreciated by New Yorkers. A special number of the EAGLE was published, giving the complete history of the Exposition, as was a special edition issued at Buffalo, on Brooklyn Day, October 9th. The Paris and Washington Bureaus were maintained as usual.

The EAGLE Information Bureau continued during the year with its work of giving information with reference to hotels, boarding houses, travel, etc., and furnished data concerning educational institutions. It published a handsome book containing a list of all the summer resort hotels in the country, and also a book giving a complete list of educational institutions. In addition to these valuable publications it also issued a series of other complete and valuable guide books, one to Paris and the Pan-American Exposition, another to Washington, another to New York City, and one to the Brooklyn Navy Yard. These books were uniform in size, were illustrated, and were given out gratuitously.

Among the EAGLE publications for the year, in addition to those already noticed, were the EAGLE Index, a valuable reference book to the paper, and the following numbers of the EAGLE library:

No. 49, "The Proposed Charter of the City of New York;" No. 50, "American Communes;" No. 51, "Christian Science Claims, Un-Christian and Un-Scientific;" No. 52, "Studies in American Character;" No. 53, "The Tenement House Law;" No. 54, "The Revised Charter of New York City;" No. 55, "The Pan-American Exposition;" No. 56, "Summer Resort Hotels;" No. 57, "The American Soldier;" No. 58, "Educational Institutions;" No. 59, "McKinley Memorial;" and No. 60, "Public Officials in New York State, City and Kings County."

THE ART PRESERVATIVE.

IN none of the arts is the advance of the beautiful more pronounced than in that of the art preservative of arts. And it is by a return to the past, idealizing the typography of the Fifteenth Century, that the highest form of the beautiful has been attained. Within ten years the greatest changes for the better have been made. William Morris, of the noted Kelmscott Press, is quoted as saying in 1890 that no good book printing has been done since the middle of the Sixteenth Century, and that the degradation of the art had been largely due to mean types. He urged the use of better types, a tolerance of quaintness, and the revival of mediæval methods.

The adverse criticism of 1890 does not hold good now. A revolution has taken place in ten years from the over-ornate to the attractive and restful in typography. America has not been behind in this regard. The Jenson type is, perhaps, the best-known illustration. Between Nicholas Jenson and the American Type Founders' Company stretch nearly 450 years. It was in 1458 that Jenson, an engraver of the Paris mint, was sent to Mainz, by Charles VII., King of France, to learn the new art of printing. He studied for three years, and returned to Paris. In 1471 Jenson printed four books in Venice. He remained in that romantic city to the end of his life, in 1481. It is said that he was not the first printer to make Roman types, but that he made them better than did his rivals.

In honor of this old typemaker the Jenson type of to-day is named. Like the French pioneer of the craft, the American type founders excel in their time in making the best faced type. On reflection, however, it seems strange that this handsome Roman letter, used in Venice in the Fifteenth Century, reached in the highest degree the necessary qualities of legibility and purity of line, and that the Twentieth Century can do no better than borrow its beauties for to-day's readers.

From the inception of printing from movable types, the masters who have handed down the honorable calling have taken pride in their work like all true artists. Pierre-Simon Fournier, in his Manual Typographique, wrote:

"Type-founding is not like other arts, in which imperfect workmanship may find a use proportionate to its relative value. Printing should tolerate nothing that is bad, nor even that which is mediocre, since it costs as much to found and print bad types as it does to found and print perfect ones."

It is safe to say that the time will never come when the handicraft of the type-founder will be a lost art. The demand for the artistic in type, as well as in the other finer fancies of the age, is growing, and is being met by "the founders," by which appellation the printers of the entire country designate the American Type Founders' Company, embracing the best-known and oldest established concerns of a dozen cities.

This Company is the originator of all the leading type designs, and has unequalled facilities for supplying everything required in printing offices. It has lately issued very attractive specimen books, which cover the widest range in type faces in both plain and original designs. Among the new faces are the Jenson Condensed, the Abbott, the Tiffany Text, Engravers' Italic, and Arlington Italic.

Additional specimen sheets are constantly being issued from the office, corner of Rose and Duane streets, New York City, showing the new faces as soon as they are brought out for the public verdict.

The year 1320 is the thirtieth and last year of the forty-fifth Cycle. See ALMANAC, 1897, for full explanation.

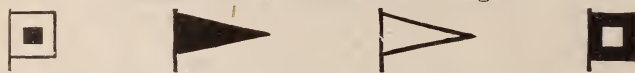

WEATHER SIGNALS.

NOTE.—The display of weather and temperature flags, with the exception of the cold-wave flag, is now confined to rural districts and towns of 5,000 or less inhabitants; the display has been discontinued in places of greater population. The cold-wave flag will be displayed as heretofore.

When No. 4 is placed above Nos. 1, 2, or 3, it indicates warmer; when below, colder; when not displayed, temperature is supposed to remain about stationary. The cold-wave flag is displayed when an unusual fall in temperature and to near or below freezing, is anticipated. During the late spring and early fall the cold-wave flag is used to indicate anticipated frosts. When No. 5 is displayed, No. 4 is omitted. When displayed on poles, the signals should be arranged to read downward; when displayed from horizontal supports, a small streamer should be attached to indicate the point from which the signals are to be read.

Storm and Hurricane Warnings.

Tornadoes and Cyclones.

The tornado is a sudden outburst of wind in an otherwise quiet, sultry atmosphere; it is ushered in by a loud, indescribable roar, similar to a continuous roll of thunder; its path is narrow—seldom more than 500 feet wide at greatest destruction; it moves, generally, from southwest to northeast, and rarely extends more than twenty miles; it very often rises in the air, to descend again at a point a few miles ahead; it is generally accompanied by thunder storms, with often a bright glow in the cloud; this cloud has usually a funnel shape, which appears to be whirling, though some observers have described its appearance like that of a huge ball rolling forward. A tornado may be considered as the result of an extreme development of conditions which otherwise produce thunderstorms.

A cyclone is a very broad storm, oftentimes 1,000 miles in diameter, and sometimes can be followed half around the world; the winds circulate about it from right to left, or the way one turns clock hands backward (in the Southern Hemisphere this motion is reversed). The air pressure always falls as one approaches the center, where, at sea, there is a portentous calm, with clear sky visible at times. The cyclone winds often rise to hurricane force, but are not to be compared with the extreme violence of the tornado.

NEW YORK PILOT BOATS.

Cruising ground: Sandy Hook to Fire Island east, to Barnegat, south.

Under the supervision of five commissioners, three of whom, Thos. P. Ball, A. Foster Higgins and W. B. Hilton, were appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, and two, James H. Winchester and W. Irving Comes, by the Board of Underwriters. A. Foster Higgins, Pres.; D. A. Nash, Sec., 17 State st., Manhattan (Pilots' and Commissioners' office).

NEW YORK BOATS.

1. Herman Oelrichs. 2. Ambrose Snow. 3. C. H. Colt. 5. Washington. Station Boat, Steamer 6, New York. Reserve, M. A. Williams.

NEW JERSEY BOATS.

7. Edward E. Barrett, reserve.
Day signal—Jack at the foremost head.
Night signal—A flash or blue light shown anywhere on deck.

Boats on station carry, from sunset to sunrise, a bright red under a white signal light.

The rates of pilotage from April 1 to Nov. 1 are: Inward-bound vessels, less than 14 ft., $2.78 per ft.; bet. 14 and 18 ft., $3.38 per ft.; bet. 18 and 21 ft., $4.13 per ft.; 21 ft. and upward, $4.88 per ft. Outward it is $2.02 for a vessel drawing less than 14 ft.; $2.33 for 14 ft. and over; $3.08 for 18 ft. and over, and $3.56 for vessels over 21 ft. Inward-bound vessels also pay off-shore pilotage (25 per cent. extra) if they take a pilot aboard beyond 16 miles from Sandy Hook light, unless the pilot waives off-shore pilotage. If he relinquishes the extra pay, he must be taken aboard; if not, commander can refuse his services and wait until off-shore limit is reached. Between Nov. and April $4 is added to the general bill. An outward bound vessel detained after a pilot has been engaged, except by stress of weather, $3.00 per day, and living expenses, is added.

REVENUE CUTTERS.

HIGH WATER AT NEW YORK (GOVERNOR'S ISLAND).

The high water tables are from the book prepared and published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington. 0h. 00m. is midnight, and 12h. 00m. is noon. To change "Eastern Standard Time" to New York "Local Time," add 4 minutes. Eastern Standard Time is 5 hours slower than Greenwich Time. The height is reckoned at Governor's Island from level of average low water.

Cities of New York State—Classified.

The forty-two cities in New York State are classified, by the Constitution, according to the enumeration of 1898, as follows: The first class includes all cities having a population of 250,000 or more; the second class, all cities having a population of 50,000 and less than 250,000; the third class, all other cities. Following are the several cities, as classified:

First class, New York, Buffalo.

Second class: Rochester, Albany, Syracuse, Troy.

Third class: Amsterdam, Auburn, Binghamton, Cohoes, Corning, Cortland, Dunkirk, Elmira, Geneva, Gloversville, Hornellsville, Hudson, Ithaca, Jamestown, Johnstown, Kingston, Little Falls, Lockport, Middletown, Mount Vernon, Newburgh, New Rochelle, Niagara Falls, North Tonawanda, Ogdensburg, Olean, Oneida, Oswego, Poughkeepsie, Rensselaer, Rome, Schenectady, Utica, Watertown, Yonkers, Watervliet.

BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN AND BRONX STREET AND AVENUE DIRECTORY.

SPECIALY COMPILED FOR THE EAGLE ALMANAC BY TROW'S DIRECTORY, PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING CO.

Note that in case of long thoroughfares important cross streets with corner numbers are given. With these numbers and by referring to the maps the location of any point in the city can readily be ascertained.

The prefix West is given to all cross streets in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards lying west of the avenue (known as Broadway) which runs from a point in the vicinity of Kingsbridge to Yonkers, and that the prefix East is given to all cross streets lying east of said avenue and the Harlem River.

The letters following names indicate position of the thoroughfare on the Almanac maps. Where there are no letters, the streets are in the annexed district, shown on the sixth page of the sectional maps.

NOTE—Borough of the Bronx. It has not been possible at the time of this compilation to give the streets East of the Bronx River. Although they have been mapped out, the official maps will not be completed until January, 1902. Those streets West of the Bronx River have been compiled from the maps of the Board of Public Improvements, giving the old and the new names of the streets.

Nov. 25—Labor Day: Louisiana.

Nov. 27—Thanksgiving Day: Observed in all States and Dis. of Columbia, though not statutory in some States.

Dec. 25—Christmas Day: All States.

There are no statutory holidays in Mississippi, Kansas and Nevada, but July 4, Thanksgiving and Christmas are observed in Mississippi, and Decoration, Labor and Arbor Days in addition in Kansas.

Arbor Day is a legal holiday in Colorado, Kansas, Minnesota, N. Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming the day being set by Governor; in Texas, Feb. 22; in Nebraska, Ap. 22; Montana, 3d Tues. in Ap.; Utah, Ap. 15; Rhode Island, 1st Fri. in May; and Idaho, on Friday after May 1; Florida, Feb. 7; Georgia, 1st Friday in Dec.

Every Saturday after 12 o'clock noon is a legal holiday in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and Dist. of Columbia; in Louisiana and Missouri in cities of over 100,000; in Ohio in cities of 50,000 and over; and June 1 to Sept. 30 in Denver, Col.

There is no national holiday, not even the Fourth of July. Special holidays have been appointed by Congress. Thus Labor Day was made a public holiday in the Dist. of Columbia by 53d Congress. For commercial purposes, certain days have been recognized as holidays, but, with above exception, there is no general statute on the subject, and even the proclamation of the President appointing a day of Thanksgiving, makes it a legal holiday only in those States, which provide for it by law.

POLAR EXPLORATION.

The year 1901 was marked in the annals of Arctic exploration, inasmuch as it saw the setting forth of several important expeditions, and received news of a still farther advance toward the pole. The Duke of Abruzzi, an Italian traveler and mountaineer, attained a point about 20 miles farther north than was reached by Dr. Nansen and reached home, after suffering many severities from ice and weather, in less time than such a search is commonly supposed to require. His experience established facts as to the westward drift of ice in the Greenland sea.

The Peary relief party, headed by Mr. Herbert L. Bridgman of Brooklyn, returned to this port in September with news from that explorer, to the effect that he had completed his survey of northern Greenland, from about the point attained by Lockwood and Brainard nearly 20 years before, to Navy Bay, which was discovered by Mr. Peary after his great journey across the inland ice in 1892. Curiously enough, his predecessor, Lieut. Lockwood, of the Greely party, had nearly reached the northernmost extension of the continent without knowing it, for the reach of the land toward the pole beyond Cape Washington was but a few miles. During 1902 Lieut. Peary intends to start for the pole from the north shore of Grant Land. He has wintered at Fort Conger, the old station of Gen. Greely. His surgeon, Dr. Dedrick, refused to remain with him, a dispute having arisen between them—due to jealousy, it is said—and as he also refused to return to this country on the relief ship, he was set ashore among the Eskimos with supplies.

One of the most important expeditions that has ever invaded the Arctic is that commanded by Capt. Evelyn Briggs Baldwin and fitted out by Mr. William Ziegler, one of the Brooklyn Eagle Association. Mr. Ziegler gave to his protegee carte blanche in preparing for this voyage, and the ships and their equipment have never been bettered. The company sailed from New York on the 13th of June to meet the ships in Norway, and are now probably fighting the ice north of Franz Josef Land. A quarter of a million dollars was spent upon this expedition, and the 35 men who compose it are provided for 30 months. The flag-ship America is enrolled in the New York Yacht Club and flies its pennant. This company will try to reach the pole by dog sledges over the ice.

The Russian ship that was provided with heavy machinery and devised for breaking its way through floes, returned to one of the northern ports of Russia, after an ineffective struggle against the ice, in which she made advances far less important than that of many sailing vessels.

Dr. Robert Stein of the U. S. geological survey, and Samuel Warmbath of Boston, returned in October after two years in the Arctic, much of the time being spent at Greely's old station on Cape Sabine. They went as far north as 79°, but made no attempt at extensive exploration, their purpose being to study the natural history of the region, and returned with 60 boxes of plant and mineral specimens.

The forcing of the south pole goes on apace. Abruzzi approached within 225 miles of the northern axis of the earth, but nobody has gained a nearer point to the south pole than 700 miles. This is chiefly due to the extent of the continental mass, for the Antarctic lands are probably greater in their area than Greenland itself. Two expeditions for the far south promise interesting results. One is the British, in the Discovery, and the other a German company in the Ganss. They sailed in August, 1901, with supplies and scientific apparatus for a long and thorough examination of the polar region.

MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE RULES of the City of New York, as approved by the State Civil Service Commission.

Detailed information can be had by applying to the Civil Service Com., New York Life Bldg., 346 Broadway, Manhattan.

There are four classes of offices and positions, as follows:

Exempt Class—Schedule A, Part I, comprises the exempt class, which includes all places not subject to examination or registration.

Non-Competitive Class—Schedule A, Part II, comprises the non-competitive class, positions not in exempt or labor classes, and those not included in the competitive class (B, C, D, E and F).

Competitive Class—Schedules B, C, D, E and F, which comprise all positions subject to competitive examination, except such positions as are specifically stated to be in the exempt class, non-competitive class or labor class.

Labor Class—Schedule G comprises the labor service.

Examining Board—There is a Board of Examiners for all positions in Schedule A, Part II, B, C, D, E and F, composed of a Chief Examiner, appointed by the Municipal Commissioners, and as many citizens designated by the said Commissioners as they deem necessary. No examiner can be a public officer.

Applications—Applicants must file applications for petitions included in schedule A, part II, B, C, D, E and F, which must be in the handwriting of the applicant and addressed to the secretary of the Municipal Civil Service Commission of New York City.

Examinations—All examinations are in writing, except such as refer to expertness or physical qualities, and except as otherwise provided. In all examinations each subject is marked on scale of 100. Time allowed for completing examinations is announced before the first paper is given out. No question relating to political or religious opinions can be asked in the examination. No appointment or selection to or removal from an office shall be in any manner affected or influenced by such opinions or affiliations. Applicants for position of senior clerk third grade, must receive an average of 80 per cent. Applicants for technical or professional positions must receive an average of 75 per cent. upon the technical paper. Applicants for positions of fireman or policeman must receive 70 per cent., both on mental and physical examinations.

LONG ISLAND GAZETTEER.

ABBREVIATIONS: B'kn, Brooklyn; when this is followed by a number the ward is indicated; Fl., Flushing; Hemp., Hempstead; Jam., Jamaica; N'tn, Newtown; N. Hmp., North Hempstead; O. B., Oyster Bay; Bab., Babylon; B'hn, Brookhaven; E. H., Easthampton; Hunt., Huntington; R. H., Riverhead; S. I., Shelter Island; S'tn, Smithtown; S. H., Southampton; S'old, Southold; Har., harbor; R. indicates that the place lies on a line of railroad; Loc., locality; Pen., peninsula; Isl., Island; Ham., hamlet. Some of the prominent features or interests of villages are indicated by the abbreviations: Oys., oysters; Frm., farming; Com., commercial centre; Sub., suburban; Res., residences; Fish, fishing interests of various classes; Flo., Florists; Sum., summer resorts; Mfg., manufacturing; Sea, sea-shore resorts; Cem., cemeteries; Mech., mechanics and tradesmen; Asy., asylums; Ind., Indian Reservation. Air line distances are reckoned from Brooklyn City Hall. Numbers at the left hand of the names of places are for convenience of reference to them. A number immediately following a name when preceded by the sign + indicates that the place named is a part of or adjoining to the place indicated by the number; when the number is preceded by the sign = it indicates simply another name for the same place. In connection with places occurring in the Borough of Queens the old town names are retained as an aid in locating such places more definitely.

FISH, GAME AND FOREST LAWS OF NEW YORK.

The laws for the protection, preservation and propagation of birds, fish and wild animals in the State of New York were codified and re-enacted by the Legislature in 1892, amended in 1893 and 1894, revised and re-enacted and consolidated with the forest laws in 1895, and further amended in the succeeding years. They constitute chap. 31 of general laws. They are also known as chap. 488 of the laws of 1892, as amended by the Legislature each year since.

A law has been enacted which makes the catching and killing of beaver a misdemeanor, punishable by fine of $50 for each offense.

An important law says that any person owning land which he reserves as private fishing premises, if "hereafter stocked by the State from any of the hatcheries, hatching stations, or by fish furnishers at expense of the State, shall be and remain open to the public to fish therein, same as though the private park law had never existed."

Another law states that "No trout of any kind, salmon trout or land locked salmon shall be taken away from waters of this State to stock a private pond or stream, except that the owner may, upon the written consent of the fisheries, game and forest commission, take such fish from stream of water running through premises owned by him, for purpose of being placed in such private pond."

The law in its application to fresh water also provides for the licensing of nets. If nets are licensed and have a tag on the protectors and forsters can identify owner of a net illegally used, and if the tag is missing the net can be destroyed.

The law prohibits the polluting of streams or taking fish by drawing off water or by dynamite, or from a stream to stock a private pond or stream. No fishing through the ice in waters inhabited by trout or salmon.

Game.

(Game must not be transported out of the state.)

Deer—Close season, Nov. 16 to Aug. 31, inclusive. Fawns shall not be taken or possessed at any time. Dogs cannot be used in hunting. Not more than two deer may be taken. Venison cannot be possessed or sold from Nov. 21 to Aug. 31. Only one carcass can be transported and must be accompanied by owner; not more than two transported in one year. This does not apply to the head, feet or skin of deer carried separately. Traps, salt licks and other devices, also crusting and yarding, are illegal. Jacking is prohibited until Aug. 15, 1902. On Long Island deer may be taken on the first two Wednesdays and Fridays after the first Tuesday of Nov. Dogs may be used on those days only.

Hares and rabbits—Close season, Dec. 16 to Sept. 1, in counties of Albany, Columbia, Erie, Fulton, Greene, Hamilton, Livingston, Monroe, Orange, Orleans, Schoharie, Steuben, Ulster, Wyoming; in Richmond Co., from Dec. 31 to Nov. 1; in Oneida and Sullivan Cos., from Feb. 15 to Sept. 15. Ferrets cannot be used in counties where there is a close season.

Squirrels—Close season for black and gray squirrels, Dec. 16 to Aug. 31; in Greene Co., from Dec. 16 to Sept. 30; on Long Island, Jan. 1 to Oct. 31.

Birds.

Partridge (grouse)—Close season, Dec. 16 to Sept. 15; in Greene, Ulster and Sullivan Cos., Dec. 16 to Sept. 30; on Long Island, Jan. 1 to July 31. No open season in Erie, Genesee, Livingston, Monroe, Niagara, Rensselaer and Wyoming counties prior to 1903. Not more than 36 may be taken by one person in a season.

Pheasants—No open season (except in Suffolk County) before 1905. In Suffolk County, close season, Jan. 1 to Oct. 31.

Plover—Close season, May 1 to Aug. 31; on Long Island, Jan. 1 to June 30.

Quail—Close season, Dec. 16 to Oct. 31. No open season before 1903, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Chautauqua, Erie, Genesee, Monroe, Montgomery, Niagara, Richmond, Saratoga and Wyoming counties. On Long Island, Jan. 1 to Oct. 31; on Gardiner's Island, Oct. 15 to Jan. 31.

Robins (and other wild birds)—No open season. Snipe—Close season, May 1 to Aug. 31; on Long Island, Jan. 1 to June 30.

Wild fowl—Close season for brant, ducks, geese, swan, April 30 to Aug. 31. Must not be hunted between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, and can only be shot with gun fired without rest. In Jefferson Co., close season, Feb. 1 to Aug. 31, or in the night from sunset to sunrise. The use of boats (except propelled by hand) and of floating devices, is illegal more than 50 feet from shore. On Long Island, close season May 1 to Sept. 30; no hunting between sunset and daylight. Any floating device may be used at any distance from the shore in Long Island Sound and Shinnecock, Gardiner's and Peconic Bays, and except from Sept. 30 to Oct. 19, in Great South Bay, west of Smith's Point. Sail boats are lawful in Long Island Sound, Gardiner's and Peconic Bays.

Woodcock—Close season, Dec. 16 to Sept. 15. Not more than 36 may be taken in one season. Close season in Oneida Co., Nov. 16 to Aug. 31; in Ulster and Greene counties, Dec. 16 to Sept. 30; in Clinton, Essex, Warren, Fulton and Hamilton counties, Dec. 16 to Aug. 15; in Richmond Co., Jan. 1 to July 3; on Long Island, Jan. 1 to July 31.

Fish.

Bass (black)—Close season, Jan. 1 to June 15; legal length, 10 inches. Not more than 24 to be taken in one day and not more than 36 by two persons in one boat. Close season, St. Lawrence River and Jefferson Co., Jan. 1 to June 9; in Lake George and Schroon Lake, Dec. 16 to July 31; in Salmon River (in town of Fort Covington, between Canada line and dam of village) and in St. Regis river (in town of Bombay, between Canada line and Mills and Langtry dam), Nov. 15 to May 1. In Orange Lake, no fishing between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise. Not more than 12 to be taken by one person in one day in St. Lawrence River and not more than 24 by two persons in one boat. Chautauqua Lake close season, Dec. 1 to June 15; in town of Horicon, Jan. 1 to July 10; on Long Island, between Jan. 1 and May 29.

Muscallong—Close season, Mar. 1 to May 30; St. Lawrence River, Jan. 1 to June 9. They may be speared in Chautauqua Lake Mondays and Thursdays for 5 consecutive weeks beginning first Monday in February.

Pike and pickerel—Pike must not be taken or possessed bet. Mar. 1 and Apr. 30, but may be bought and sold by licensed dealers. Close season in Lake George or Glen Lake, Jan. 1 to June 15; in St. Lawrence River, Jan. 1 to June 9. Pickerel may be taken through ice or with tip-ups in Lake Keuka or Crooked Lake, Cheesee Lake or Sullivan County waters (not inhabited by trout) or in Lake Neatahwanta, Owasco (from its head to a line running from the ravine south of Pulver cottage to ravine north of Foster cottage); and in Silver Lake, Honeyee Lake, Canadice Lake and Conesus Lake, and by set lines in Susquehanna River, and the Chenango and Unadilla Rivers and tributaries in Chenango Co., except during March and April.

Trout (brook, brown and rainbow)—Close season Sept. 1 to Apr. 15. Legal length, 6 inches. Close season in Spring Brook in Monroe and Livingston Cos., Sept. 1 to Mar. 28; in brooks in towns of Gilboa and Conesville (Schoharie Co.), except Schoharie River, Aug. 1 to Apr. 30; in Allegany, Cattaraugus and Chautauqua Cos., July 16 to Apr. 15; on Long Island, Aug. 31 to Mar. 28. Long Island trout may be sold or possessed in New York City during open season on Long Island.

Close season in Dutchess, Ulster, Sullivan, Orange, Rockland, Putnam, Westchester and Richmond Cos., July 1 to Mar. 31; on Long Island, Oct. 1 to Mar. 31. Legal length, 15 inches.

Forest Law.

All the wild or forest land now owned or hereafter acquired in the counties of St. Lawrence, Franklin, Clinton, Essex, Warren, Washington, Hamilton, Herkimer, Oneida, Lewis, Greene, Ulster, Sullivan and Delaware, Fulton and Saratoga constitute the Forest Preserve, and cannot be sold or leased nor the timber disposed of.

The Adirondack Park includes all lands now owned or hereafter acquired by the State within the counties of Hamilton; towns of Newcomb, Minerva, Schroon, North Hudson, Keeney, North Elba, St. Remond and Wilmington, in Essex County; the towns of Harrietstown, Santa Clara, Altamont, Waverly and Brighton, in Franklin County; the towns of Webb and Wilmurt, in Herkimer County; the towns of Hopkinton, Colton, Clifton and Fine, in St. Lawrence County; the towns of Johnsburch, Stony Creek and Thurman, and the islands in Lake George, in Warren County. Such park shall forever be reserved and maintained for the free use of all the people.

All that part of the river St. Lawrence within the State, with the islands, and such lands along the shore as are now owned by or shall hereafter be acquired by the State, has been constituted an international park, known as the "St. Lawrence reservation."

It is a misdemeanor to cut or carry away any tree, bark or timber on the forest preserve, and in addition the person cutting any timber thereon shall forfeit $10 for every tree cut or carried away by him.

The game protectors may, without warrant, arrest any person found upon the forest preserve violating any of the laws for the protection of same.

Fire wardens, appointed, shall take necessary measures for the extinction of forest fires, and may call on any person in their districts for assistance, and a person refusing may be fined $10.

In towns outside of the forest preserve the supervisor is fire warden ex officio, and in the absence of the supervisor and fire warden in any town any justice of the peace may act. Any person who sets fire to, or assists another to set fire to any waste or forest lands belonging to the state or to another person, whereby such forests are injured or endangered; or who suffers any fire upon his own lands to extend beyond limits thereof to the injury of woodlands of another or of State, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or fine not to exceed $250, or both, and be liable to the person injured for damages.

In 1871 the city charter was amended, changing the term of office from two to three years; and in 1879 the charter was still further amended, changing the city elections from spring to fall.

*The first charter of the consolidated city fixed the term of mayor at four years. The amended charter—passed in 1901—changed the term of mayor from four to two years.

Six hundred million acres, lying west of the Mississippi Valley, extending over the Rocky Mountains, the great desert and into California, and able to maintain a population of 50,000,000, an area larger than the whole of Europe, is at present waste land in the United States.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, the general United States Land Office disposed of 15,662,796 acres of the public domain, exceeding the year 1900 by 2,108,908 acres; with receipts $4,972,160, an excess of $592,402 over the previous year.

Interscholastic Athletics.

The athletes of St. Paul's School again won the track championship of the Long Island Interscholastic Athletic League in the annual meet. The result was a complete surprise, for the Garden City boys were not thought to be worthy of consideration, as far as the championship was concerned. Several surprises were sprung, however, the most notable being the victory of Charles Reed, the crack foot ball player, in the quarter mile race. St. Paul's School scored 43 points, High School 31, Pratt Institute 30 and Poly 28.

BASE BALL.

The National League pennant race of 1901 was remarkable for the sudden spurt at the beginning by the New York team, who discovered a jewel in the young pitcher, Mathewson. They fell from the top to within a small notch of the bottom of the championship list, however, before the season closed. Pittsburg played consistently and finished the season with a big advantage over Philadelphia, her nearest rival. The records follow:

Interscholastic Base Ball.

One of the most interesting seasons of scholastic base ball ended with the Pratt Institute team capturing the coveted premier honors of the Long Island Interscholastic Athletic League. High School and Pratt had a very close race all season, and when the two nine crossed bats it was known that the team proving victorious would claim the championship. The contest was the closest of the series, resulting in a victory for the Wyerson street boys by a score of 10 to 9. The winning run was achieved through a bad throw to third base on the part of the High School catcher. St. Paul's lost to the two leaders.

The teams finished as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Pratt Institute	6	0	1.000
High School	5	1	.833

Eagle Trophy.

The Royal Arcanum sub-tournament began at 1411 Fulton st., Brooklyn, Oct. 14, 1899. The Brooklyn Daily Eagle presented a cup for competition which must be won twice by the same club, not necessarily in succession. The cup is about 2 feet high and of solid silver. On the onyx and pedestal are 3 bowling pins and 2 bowling balls which support the cup. The inscription on the pedestal reads: "Presented by the Brooklyn Daily Eagle to the sub-tournament of the Royal Arcanum Bowling League of Brooklyn." The full score of the contesting clubs in season of 1899-1900 will be found in the Eagle Almanac of 1901.

The winner in the first contest was the East New York club, which won 14 games and lost 3. In the season of 1900-1901 the cup was won by the Washington Irving club, which beat the Gilbert in the roll-off. The score for the season follows:

LACROSSE.

The Crescent Athletic Club again held the lead in lacrosse during the season of 1901. Its team made an excellent record during the season, losing only to Johns Hopkins (3 goals to 1) and Swarthmore (3 goals to 2) among other American teams.

The Toronto team made a short trip through the metropolitan district in the spring, and after beating Stevens Institute (8 goals to 1 on May 29) was beaten by the Crescent A. C. team (7 goals to 3). The Crescents also beat the Montreal Athletic Club (5 goals to 2) on June 8, but was beaten by the Shamrock team from Canada on June 15 (9 goals to 0).

An international championship tournament was held at Buffalo the first week in July. In this event the Crescent A. C. beat the Seneca Indian team (4 goals to 2), and the Capital team from Ottawa beat the Toronto team (3 goals to 2). In the final match the American team was finally beaten for the championship after a close struggle.

In the Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association, University of Pennsylvania beat Columbia 4 goals to 3, Cornell beat University of Pennsylvania 3 goals to 1 and Harvard beat Cornell 6 goals to 0.

Outside of this association, Johns Hopkins and Swarthmore produced the strongest teams, both winning from the champion Crescent A. C. team. In a match between themselves Swarthmore beat Johns Hopkins by 4 goals to 2.

BASKET BALL.

The Pratt Institute basket ball team made one of the finest records ever attained by a Brooklyn basket ball five and the best that any scholastic school in the country can boast of. Out of a total of 14 contests only 1 game was lost and that only owing to the fact that the quintet had been traveling all night long to Buffalo to win the championship and was thoroughly fagged out. Holyoke High School's team was the only one to lower the colors of the Brooklyn boys at the Stadium in Buffalo. Subsequently the Massachusetts team was disqualified and the medals and championship awarded to the Brooklyn boys. The principal of the Holyoke School, weeks after the game, declared to the A. A. U. that several of the members of his team were "fingers," and not students of his institution. The championship of the Long Island Interscholastic League was won easily and after that the champions sought the scalps of the college fives. The teams of Pennsylvania College, Columbia and Princeton Universities and Yale '04 went down before the Brooklynites and when a match was sought with the Yale team, champions of the college quintets, it was refused, on the ground that no school teams were played.

The full list of the games follows:

FOOT BALL.

SEASON OF 1901.

The intercollegiate foot ball season of 1901 furnished more than the usual number of surprises. The strength of West Point, with C. D. Daly, of Harvard fame, on its team, was one of the most notable, for the Cadets not only beat Pennsylvania and Annapolis, but played tie games with both Yale and Princeton, and was beaten by Harvard by only 6 to 0. Yale scored decisively over Princeton in their annual game, and then came the biggest surprise of the season in the overwhelming defeat of Yale by Harvard in the final game. University of Pennsylvania was exceptionally weak and lost five of its games. Dartmouth showed unusual strength.

The records of the leading college teams for 1901 were as follows:

Interscholastic Foot Ball.

No foot ball championship was awarded in the race for the premier honor of the Long Island interscholastic Athletic League owing to the disqualification of the two leading teams, Erasmus Hall and Boys' High School. After the Flatbush boys had beaten every league competitor it was found that a boy over the age limit allowed in league athletics, 21 years, had played in all of Erasmus' games, and High School, who finished second, was found equally guilty regarding a member. The league delegates decided that in view of the tie for third place between the teams of St. Paul's School and Pratt Institute, it was advisable to declare no champion. The season was a very active one, both Erasmus and High School making enviable records. The leaders lost but one contest, the New York Military Academy game, when Captain McNulty and three other regular players were not in the lineup. A cup was offered for another game between High School and Erasmus, but the latter school refused the offer. Latin School and Adelphi did not enter teams. The records:

School.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Erasmus Hall	4	0	1,000
High School	3	1	.750
St. Paul's	3	2	.600
Pratt	3	2	.600
Poly Prep	0	4	.000

Pratt and St. Paul's played a tie game, 12 to 12.

Junior Interscholastic Foot Ball Championship Cup.

The junior foot ball series for the Wilbur De Milt Cup, to be won two years in succession, was won by the youngsters of the Boys' High School, who went through the season without being scored against. Pratt's juniors gave the High School boys a close race for the premier honors. In this series the boys were limited to an average of 130 pounds. Latin School's team started, but only played one game, forfeiting all the rest. The scores:

INTERNATIONAL MATCHES.

The English Lawn Tennis Ass'n issued a formal challenge in 1901 for the Davis International Challenge Cup, but being unable to get together a challenging team, the games were not played, which left the season of 1901 without any officially recognized international matches. In their absence the world's international championship remains with the United States, by whom it was won in 1900.

Dwight F. Davis and Holcombe Ward, American champions in doubles, entered and played for the English championship at Wimbledon in June. They came very close to winning the much coveted championship of England. In the first round they drew a bye; in the second they defeated Dr. W. V. Eaves and G. W. Hillyard, 3-6, 6-3, 11-9, 9-7; in the third round they defeated H. M. Hawes and Capt. Young, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3; in the semi-final round they defeated H. W. Davies and W. Gamble, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, and in the finals the Americans won from H. R. Barrett and G. M. Simond.

In the challenge round for the English championship American champions met R. F. Doherty and H. L. Doherty, champions of All-England. The challenge match was interrupted the first day with the score at 4-6, 6-0, 9-9, and it was played over the following day, the Englishmen winning by 4-6, 6-2, 6-3, 9-7.

The Eagle Rowing Cup.

The trophy was offered by the Eagle, in 1889, for junior four-oared shells, to become the permanent property of the club winning it three times successively.

In 1899 the conditions were changed so that the club winning it three times, not necessarily in succession, should become its permanent owner.

The record of the cup follows; the races were on Flushing Bay, L. I., except that of 1897, which was on Sheephead Bay, L. I.:

June 29, 1889, by Varuna B. C., in 8m. 46s.
 June 28, 1890, by Varuna B. C., in 6m. 45s.
 June 20, 1891, by Crescent A. C., on decision of a foul by Varunas.

ICE HOCKEY RECORDS.

The Amateur Hockey League admitted to membership the Quaker City Hockey Club of Philadelphia for the season of 1900-01, and its circuit included six clubs and three rinks, one each in Brooklyn, New York and Philadelphia. The Crescent Athletic Club won the League championship for the second time, with a record of 8 games won and 2 lost; the New York Athletic Club finished second, with 7 games won and 3 lost, and the St. Nicholas Skating Club and Brooklyn Skating Club were tied for first honors.

The League championship was won in 1898-9 by the Brooklyn Skating Club and in 1899-1900 by the Crescent Athletic Club.

The intercollegiate championship series included five college teams, Yale, Princeton, Brown, Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania. Brown and Yale finished first in the regular series and then played the best two in three matches for the championship. Yale winning both of the first two and taking the title. Yale also won in 1899-1900.

The Ottawa Hockey Club's team, after winning the Canadian championship, made a trip to New York and played two games here, beating the New York A. C. team by 3 goals to 1, and a picked All New York team by 5 to 1.

Nov. 23—Fall intercollegiate championship shooting tournament at Cambridge, Mass. Conditions: 50 clay targets to each of 5 men on team; team possible 250. Won by Princeton team with 294; Harvard second, 202; Yale third, 198; University of Pennsylvania fourth, 190.

The Eagle Rifle Trophy.

The Brooklyn Daily Eagle, in Feb., 1896, offered a trophy for the rifle shooting championship, to be contested for by the regiments of the 2d Brigade.

The 23d Regt. were winners in 1896. In 1897 the contests began Feb. 6 and closed on April 17, the 23d winning again.

Contests in 1898 were begun on Jan. 22, and continued until Apr. 23, but were not completed. As, however, the percentage of matches won by the 14th was .750 to .500 each for the 47th and 23d, and .250 for the 13th, the cup was justly awarded for the year to the first named organization. No matches were shot in 1899 and 1900. In 1901 the series began on Feb. 2, and at its close, Apr. 20, the teams stood:

	Won.	Lost.		Won.	Lost.
13th Regt.....	4	2	14th Regt.....	2	4
47th Regt.....	4	2	23d Regt.....	2	4

Under the rules it was necessary for the 13th and 47th to shoot off the tie. The match took place at the 23d Regt. Armory on the evening of May 8. The 47th won by 5 points, the score being: 47th, 344; 13th, 339. The man who shot on the 47th team during the season were: Lieut. F. H. Hobby, Staff; Lieut. E. A. Nash, F.; Ordnance Sergeant G. W. Lent, N. C. S.; Quartermaster Sergeant J. B. Christoffel, D.; Sergeant C. A. Baldwin, B.; Sergeant V. A. F. Nielsen, E.; Corporal A. P. Norton, E, and Private G. Muth, E.

YACHTING.

International Races of 1901.

The yachting season of 1901 was marked by another international victory for the America's Cup. Sir Thomas Lipton challenged again for the famous trophy and brought over Shamrock II.

The races were sailed on Sept. 28, Oct. 3 and Oct. 4, and the American cup defender won all three. The challenger forced her to hairbreadth finishes in the first and third races, but was clearly outailed in the second. Two other attempts to race were made, on September 26 and October 1, but each time the race was abandoned for lack of wind. The summary of the cup races follows:

FIRST RACE—SEPTEMBER 28.

Yacht.	Start.	1st Turn.	2d Turn.	Finish.	Elapsed.	Corrected.	Winner.
Columbia (Am.)	11.00.16	1.25.53	3.31.23	4.31.07	4.30.24	Columbia by 1.20
Shamrock II (Eng.) ..	11.00.14	1.25.12	3.31.58	4.31.44	4.31.44

SECOND RACE—OCTOBER 3.

Columbia (Am.)	11.01.47	11.52.22	12.46.29	2.15.05	3.13.18	3.12.35	Columbia by 3.35
Shamrock II (Eng.) ..	11.00.13	11.51.10	12.45.57	2.16.23	3.16.10	3.16.10

THIRD RACE—OCTOBER 4.

Columbia (Am.)	11.02.00	12.49.35	3.35.40	4.33.40	4.32.57	Columbia by 0.41
Shamrock II (Eng.) ..	11.02.00	12.48.46	3.35.38	4.33.38	4.33.38

Shamrock II allowed Columbia 43 seconds on each race. The first and third races were fifteen miles to windward and back, and the second was over a triangular course of thirty miles.

Cup Defender Races.

There were three candidates for the privilege of defending the America's Cup in 1901. The Constitution, built by the Herreshoffs for a New York Yacht Club syndicate; the Independence, built for T. W. Lawson of Boston, and the Columbia, the successful cup defender of 1899. To the surprise of all, the oldest of the three yachts was finally selected to defend the cup. Many races were sailed between the three during the season, and the committee made its choice after only two of the official trial races had been sailed. The Independence was not eligible for these trial races, because she was not registered with the New York Y. C. in the name of one of its members, but her earlier defeats by both of the others proved that she was not fast enough to win the much coveted honor of defending the cup. The following table shows a summary of the races between the 90-footers last season:

Yacht.	Starts.	Firsts.	Seconds.	Thirds.
Columbia	17	11	6	0
Constitution	14	6	8	0
Independence	5	0	2	3

Races in the Thirty-foot Class.

The Carolina won the championship of her class in 1901 by taking 21 firsts, 9 seconds, 3 thirds in 40 races. The records of the boats of this class follow:

Canada's Cup Races.

The Canadian yachtsmen sailed two series of international races on the lakes and won both. At Chicago, in Lake Michigan, a series of races for the Canada's Cup was sailed Aug. 10, 12, 13 and 14, with the Invader as the Canadian challenger and the Cadillac as the cup defender, from Detroit. Lorne Curry, an English yachtsman, also challenged for the Seawanhaka Challenge Cup, and with his small yacht Grey Friar, he met the home skipper with the Senneville, but was badly beaten in three straight races. The tabulated results of these two small yacht races follow:

FIRST RACE—AUGUST 10. TRIANGULAR.

Boat.	Start.	Finish.	Elapsed.	Margin.
Cadillac (Am.)..	11.00.00	1.46.35	2.46.35	8.35

The Eagle Model Yacht Trophy.

The Brooklyn Daily Eagle in March, 1896, donated to the American Model Yacht Club of Brooklyn a cup to be held as a perpetual challenge trophy, open to challenge from any duly organized model yacht club in the United States under specified conditions.

Article II. of the conditions states: "The objects of this trophy are to stimulate the building and sailing of models of yachts on scientific principles, for the purpose of ascertaining the relative merits of different forms as to speed and seaworthiness."

The cup is of silver, $\frac{9}{16}$ inches in height, the bowl being over 6 inches in diameter. On one side is a large eagle with outstretched wings in bold relief. On the reverse side a model yacht under sail, and the inscription, "Brooklyn Daily Eagle Perpetual Challenge Trophy for Model Yachts." The first challenge was made by the Wave Crest Miniature Yacht Club.

The record of the cup:
Sept. 7, 1896—Streak, Wave Crest Miniature Y. C. defeating Gracie, American Model Y. C.

1897—No contest.
June 26, 1898—Star, American Model Y. C., defeating Viking, Wave Crest Model Y. C.

Sept. 5, 1898—Star, American Model Y. C., defeating Sinbad, New York Model Y. C.

June 4, 1899—Star, American Model Y. C., defeating Serpent, N. Y. Model Y. C.

Sept. 9, 1900—Star, American Model Y. C., defeating Ripper, N. Y. Model Y. C.

July 5, 1901—Star American Model Y. C., defeating Myra, Y. R. A. N. J.

hours and 36 min. The average speed for the entire run, including stops, was 38.55 miles per hour, and excluding stops, 41.71 miles per hour.

Following are some other long distance fast runs: Feb. 15, 1897, C. B. and O., Chicago to Denver, 1,025 miles, in 18 hours and 53 min. Average speed of 58.74 miles per hour.

Feb. 14-15, 1897—Pennsylvania R. R. and C. B. and O., Jersey City to Denver, 1,937 miles, in 48 hours. Average speed, 40.3 miles per hour.

August 29-31, 1891—Canadian Pacific, Vancouver to Brockville, 2,802 miles, in 77 hours and 9 min.

The Jarrett & Palmer special theatrical train still holds the long distance record made in June, 1877, of 3 days 7 hours 39 min. 16 s., from Jersey City to San Francisco.

The records for short distances are as follows: In 1893 N. Y. Central made a record of 5 miles at 100 miles an hour, and a week later made another record of 1 mile at 102.8 miles an hour. The famous engine 999 of the N. Y. Central was said to have run a mile at the rate of 112 miles an hour.

Notable runs on N. Y. Central during 1901—June 15, on Mohawk Div., engine and 15 car train made an average of 46.93 miles per hour to Syracuse, 9.82 miles were made at rate of 59.98 miles per hour; on June 24, 9 car train weighing 590 tons run between Albany and Syracuse at 51.27 miles per hour; Sept. 27, 8 car train weighing 600 tons, Albany to Syracuse, made 53.75 miles per hour, and at one stretch made 58.99 miles per hour.

In Oct., 1897, on the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Washington line, a two car train ran 15.1 miles at a rate of 100.7 miles an hour.

In 1898, on the Philadelphia and Reading, a 6 car train made 26 miles at 85.4 miles an hour and frequently ran that distance with trains of 5 or 6 cars at speeds of from 83 to 85 miles per hour.

For runs between 50 and 60 miles, the Atlantic City lines of the Pennsylvania R. R., and the Philadelphia and Reading hold the records. In 1895 the Pennsylvania with a special train of one car ran 58.3 miles, at rate of 76.5 miles an hour, or in 45 1/2 min. In the summer of 1899 the same run was made on the same railroad with an 8 car train at 69.3 miles an hour.

Apr. 5, 1899—C. B. & Q. R. R. made run between Bristol and Meriden, a distance of 32.5 miles, at rate of 75 miles per hour.

Nov. 2, 1901—Special train on Reading R. R. ran from Camden to Atlantic City in 46 min.

In the table of the fastest long distance trains, the Sud Express on the Orleans Midi leads with a speed of 54.13 miles an hour in a 486 1/4 mile run. The Empire State Express is second with 53.33 an hour and frequently attains a speed of 70 miles per hour, and the Great Northern, London to Edinburgh, is third with 50.75 miles.

The Paris-Calais Express broke its own record Oct. 29, 1900, and is now the fastest train in the world for the distance, having run 185 miles in 3 hours 4 min. and 30 s., or a fraction over a mile a minute.

Oct. 29, 1901—J. P. Morgan's special on Michigan Central R. R. ran from Detroit to Niagara Falls, distance of 227 miles, in 200 minutes; on one stretch 80 miles an hour was made.

RAILWAY SPEED.

March 29, 1900—A special train on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe R. R. made the run from Los Angeles to Chicago, a total distance of 2,265 miles, in 57 hours and 56 min., under ordinary conditions. The train consisted of engine, tender, Pullman car, combination buffet smoking and baggage car, with a combined weight of 148,900 pounds. Delays at terminals and other points aggregating 4 hours and 24 min. Deducting this from the total of 58 hours, the actual time consumed between Los Angeles and Chicago was 53

CHARLESTON'S EXPOSITION.

The South Carolina Inter-State and West Indian Exposition is being held in the City of Charleston, S. C. It opened Dec. 1, 1901, and will close June 1, 1902. The exposition occupies 180 acres, 2½ miles from the business center of the city, and directly on the Ashley River, on which it fronts 2,000 feet. The principal exposition buildings number 15, as follows: Cotton, Commerce, Agriculture, Government, Bazar, Auditorium, West Indian, Administration, Machinery, Transportation, Government, Fisheries, Art, Woman's, Negro, Minerals and Forestry. The Cotton Palace covers 50,000 sq. ft.; the Commerce, 43,000; Agriculture, 60,000; Government, 40,000; Administration, 16,000; Minerals and Forestry, 20,000; Negro, 10,000; Art, 7,000. The Court of Palaces, around which the Cotton, Commerce, Agricultural and Government Buildings are grouped, contains 1,650,000 sq. ft. of space.

The general purpose of the Exposition is to illustrate the commercial and industrial development of the Southern States during the last quarter of a century, and the special object is to develop closer trade relations between the United States and the West Indian and Central and South American countries. The City of Charleston appropriated $50,000 in aid of the Exposition; South Carolina, $50,000. New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Maryland are represented by special state buildings, and the City of Philadelphia by a special city building, the aggregate amount expended on these buildings being $127,000. The cost of the Exposition up to the date of the opening is about $500,000.

The general style of architecture is the Spanish Renaissance, shaded off into the old Mission type, so characteristic of the far Pacific States.

The officers of the Exposition Co. are: F. W. Wagners, Pres.; W. H. Welch, Vice-Pres.; Samuel H. Wilson, Treas.; John H. Averill, Director General; John F. Ficken, General Counsel; P. J. Balaguer, General Auditor; Bradford L. Gilbert of New York, Architect; J. C. Hemphill, Mgr. Dept. Publicity and Promotion.

The members of the Board of Directors are: F. W. Wagners, Samuel Lapham, J. C. Hemphill, C. S. Gadsden, John F. Ficken, all of Charleston, S. C.; Francis K. Carey, of Baltimore, Md., and Willie Jones, of Columbia, S. C.

JURY SERVICE.

(Especially prepared for the Eagle Almanac by E. J. Dooley, former Special Commissioner of Jurors for Kings County.)

Trial Jurors.COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

Disqualified—The following public officers are disqualified to serve as trial jurors throughout the State: The governor, lieutenant-governor, the governor's private secretary, the secretary of state, the comptroller, the state treasurer, the attorney-general, the state engineer and surveyor, a canal commissioner, an inspector of state prisons, a canal appraiser, the superintendent of public instruction, the superintendent of the bank department, the superintendent of the insurance department, and the deputy of each officer above specified, a member of the Legislature during the session of the house of which he is a member; a judge of the court of record, or a surrogate; a sheriff, under sheriff or deputy sheriff; the clerk or deputy clerk of a court of record.

Qualifications—In order to be qualified to serve as a trial juror in a court in the County of New York a person must be:

1. A male citizen of the United States, and a resident of that county; not less than 21, nor more than 70 years of age; the owner, in his own right, of real or personal property of the value of $250; or the husband of a woman who is the owner, in her own right, of real or personal property of that value; in the possession of his natural faculties, and not infirm or decrepit; free from all legal exceptions, intelligent, of sound mind and good character, and able to read and write the English language understandingly. A person dwelling or lodging in the County of New York for the greater part of the time, between the 1st day of Oct. and the 30th day of June next thereafter is a resident of that county for that jury year, and it is not necessary that he should have been assessed, or should have voted there.

Exemptions—Either of the following persons, although qualified, is entitled to an exemption from service as a trial juror, upon his claiming same:

1. A clergyman, or a minister of religion, officiating as such, and not following any other calling.

2. A practicing physician, surgeon or surgeon-dentist, having patients requiring his daily professional attention, not following any other calling; a licensed pharmacist or pharmacist, while actually engaged in his profession as a means of livelihood, and a duly registered veterinary surgeon actually engaged in his profession as a means of livelihood.

3. An attorney or counselor at law, regularly engaged in the practice of the law, as a means of livelihood.

Commissioner of Jurors and Special Jurors.

By Chap. 601 of the Laws of 1901 the office of Special Commissioner of Jurors created under Chap. 378 of the Laws of 1896, was abolished.

Chap. 602 of the Laws of 1901 provides for the appointment of a commissioner of jurors and to provide for a special jury in civil and criminal actions in each county of the State having a population of one million or more, according to the last preceding federal census.

The Commissioner of Jurors appointed under this act shall select from the persons qualified to serve as trial jurors in such county such number of special jurors as the Justices of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court or a majority of them, of the department in which such county is situated, shall from time to time direct.

The commissioner shall not select as a special juror any person who is by law disqualified or exempt from service as a trial juror; nor shall he select any person who has been convicted of a criminal offence, or found guilty of fraud or other misconduct by the judgment of any civil court; nor any person who possesses such conscientious opinions with regard to the death penalty as would preclude his finding a defendant guilty if the crime charged be punishable with death; nor any person who possesses such opinions as would prevent his finding a verdict of guilty in any case upon circumstantial evidence; nor any person who doubts his ability to lay aside opinions or impressions formed from newspaper reading or otherwise, and to render an impartial verdict upon evidence uninfluenced by any such opinions or impressions; nor any person who avows such a prejudice against any law of the State as would preclude his finding a defendant guilty of violating such law; nor any person who avows such a prejudice against any particular defence to a criminal charge as would prevent his giving a fair and impartial trial upon the merits of such defence; nor any person who avows that he cannot in all cases give to a defendant who fails to testify as a witness in his own behalf the full benefit of the statutory provision that such defendant's neglect or refusal to testify as a witness in his own behalf does not create any presumption against him.

The special jury law now applies to civil and criminal cases. Whenever an issue of fact has arisen in any civil or criminal action triable in a county embraced within the provisions of this act, the District Attorney or the defendant, if in a criminal action, or either party in a civil action, may apply for a special jury to try such issue. Such application must be made to the Supreme Court appointed to be held within the county where such issue is triable or at a regular term of the court in which such issue is to be tried. It must be made upon the indictment, the plea thereto and affidavit in a criminal action or the pleadings and affidavits in a civil action upon two days' notice to the adverse party or his attorney. Where, upon such application it appears to the court that by reason of the importance or intricacy of the case a special jury is required, or that the subject matter of the indictment has been so widely commented upon or the issue to be tried that the court is satisfied that an ordinary jury cannot, without delay and difficulty, be obtained to try such issue, or that for any other reason the due, efficient and impartial administration of justice in the particular case would be advanced by the trial of such issue by a special jury, the court to which the motion is made may make an order directing that such trial be had by a special jury, and such trial shall be had accordingly. The order must specify the time when the drawing of the special jury shall take place, and the number of special jurors to be then drawn, the term of the court and the particular day in the term when such special jury must attend. At the time specified in the order the special jury shall be drawn at the office of the Commissioner of Jurors by the Commissioner of Jurors, or his assistant, and a judge or justice of a Court of Record residing in the department in which such special jury is to be drawn. A minute of the drawing must be kept by the Commissioner of Jurors or his assistant, which must be entitled in the action in which the jury is to serve, specifying the term of court and the particular day in the term when the special jurors drawn must attend; and there must be entered thereon the name of each juror drawn. This minute must be signed by the judge or justice and by the Commissioner of Jurors or his assistant, present at the drawing, and such minute so signed must be filed in the office of the County Clerk of the said county. The object of the law is to get a competent class of jurors for cases demanding such.

By Chap. 600 of the Laws of 1901 the Justices of the Supreme Court residing in the County of Kings, or a majority of them, may require the Commissioner of Jurors to scrutinize and revise the general panel or list of trial jurors for the county under their supervision and direction. For that purpose the Commissioner of Jurors shall have power to summon before him by subpoena each and every person on the same general panel or list for the year and in each year, and make inquiries and examine him as to his competency and qualifications to serve as a trial juror, with power to reject and take off the said general panel or list such persons as are not competent or qualified, or are not to be found. If the person so summoned fail to attend except for physical disability, or if he refuse to be sworn or answer any pertinent question by the said Commissioner of Jurors, he may be punished therefor by any trial justice of the Supreme Court sitting in such county. Every person so summoned must present any exemption from jury service which he has or claims, and if he fails to do so he shall be deemed to have waived the same and cannot be excused therefor thereafter except as a court or judge, except for infancy, alienage, bad character, lack of ordinary intelligence and inability to read and write the English language understandingly.

COAL WEIGHING STATIONS.

The following scales have been designated by the Mayor as weighing stations for coal and coal vehicles under the provisions of chap. 174 of the laws of 1897: Under this law every purchaser of coal in New York City has the legal right to send any load of coal so purchased to any of the following scales to be weighed, provided that the scales shall be no more than one-half mile distant from the place of loading or the place of delivery of said coal.

The weighmaster is entitled to a fee of 15 cents a ton, which must be paid by the purchaser, and which may be given to the driver or sent by any other person. After the loaded vehicle is weighed and the coal delivered to the purchaser the driver must take the empty vehicle back to the scale to be weighed, and the weighmaster will then send a certificate of the weight to the purchaser.

POPULATION OF NEW YORK CITY.

New York City, as constituted prior to the act of consolidation, effective Jan. 1, 1898, had a population in 1890 of 1,515,301, compared with a population in 1900 of 3,437,202, showing an apparent increase of 1,921,901, or 126.8 per cent.

In 1890 the city comprised all of what is now Manhattan and greater part of what is now the Bronx, but under the act of consolidation Kings Co., Richmond Co., the larger part of Queens Co. and a small part of Westchester Co. became a part of the city.

Manhattan comprises that part of the old city south of the Harlem River, this area being known formerly as Manhattan Island.

Bronx was formed from that part of the old City of New York lying north of the Harlem River and the small part of Westchester Co. annexed under the act of consolidation. All of this area was at one time a part of Westchester Co., but in 1873 the towns of Morrisania, West Farms and King's Bridge were annexed to New York; under consolidation, Jan. 1, 1898, all of the town of Westchester and parts of the towns of Eastchester and Pelham became a part of the city.

The towns of Flatbush, Flatlands, Gravesend and New Utrecht were absorbed by the City of Brooklyn in 1894, Flatbush becoming the 29th Ward, New Utrecht the 30th Ward, Gravesend the 31st Ward, Flatlands the 32d Ward. The city thus became coextensive with Kings Co., and on Jan.

1, 1898, Brooklyn became one of the five boroughs of what is now the City of New York.

Richmond County, or Staten Island, became the Borough of Richmond.

Queens Borough was organized at the same time from what was Long Island City, the towns of Flushing, Jamaica and Newtown, and a small portion of the town of Hempstead, all of which were civil divisions of Queens Co. The remaining towns of the county, Oyster Bay and North Hempstead, together with the greater part of the town of Hempstead, were taken to form the new county of Nassau. The 1st Ward of Queens Borough comprises what was formerly Long Island City, the 2d Ward what was formerly Newtown town, the 3d Ward what was formerly Flushing town, the 4th Ward what was formerly Jamaica town and the 5th Ward that part of the town of Hempstead now within the limits of the borough of Queens.

It is impossible to state definitely the population in 1890 of that part of the town of Hempstead, Queens Co., which became a part of Queens Borough, and of the parts of the towns of Eastchester and Pelham, Westchester Co., which became a part of Bronx Borough, but in the following is shown the estimated population for the City of New York, as now constituted, and in detail for each borough of the city, from 1790 to 1900:

Boroughs.	1900	1890	1880	1870	1860	1850	1840	1830	1820	1810	1800	1790

The preceding table shows that the area comprised within the present limits of the City of New York had an estimated population of 49,401 in 1790, which had grown to 696,115 in 1850, representing an increase of 646,714, or 1,309.1 per cent. The population of the present City of New York had grown to 2,507,414 in 1890, or an increase since 1850 of 1,811,299, or 260.2 per cent. Since 1890 there has been an increase of 929,788, or 37.1 per cent., the population in 1900 being 3,437,202.

Center of Population and Area.

The center of population, as determined by the census of 1900, is six miles southeast of Columbus, Ind., north latitude 39° 95' and west longitude 83° 48' 9". The center of area of the United States, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, is in northern Kansas, in approximate latitude 39° 55' and approximate longitude 98° 50'. The center of population is, therefore, about three-fourths of a degree south and over thirteen degrees east of the center of area.

Census Statistics.

Twenty-eight million, four hundred and eleven thousand, six hundred and ninety-eight people of the United States, or 37.3 per cent. of the entire population, live in cities of over 4,000 population, an increase of 5 per cent. compared with the census of 1890.

POLITICAL PLATFORMS, 1901.

Democratic Convention, 1901.

The Democratic Mayoralty Convention was held Oct. 3 in the Grand Central Palace, Lexington av. and 43d st. Edward M. Shepard was nominated for Mayor; Wm. W. Ladd, jr., for Comptroller, and Judge George M. Van Hoesen for President of the Board of Aldermen.

THE PLATFORM.

The Democracy of the City of New York, in City Convention assembled, declare their platform of principles as follows:

Being a constituency devoted to the Democratic faith in politics, we are entitled to a Democratic administration of the city. We are not deceived by the pretences of our political opponents, that their alleged desire for a non-partisan administration of municipal affairs proceeds from any patriotic motive whatever. We have resisted for a quarter of a century repeated attempts, under innumerable disguises, to subject our city to Republican domination. In no community in which the Republicans constitute the political majority do they tolerate any non-partisan control of municipal affairs. It is only when they find themselves in a minority that they assume the mask of an impartial municipal patriotism, with the purpose of securing a political representation in the elective offices to which, without this imposture, they could not hope to attain.

We charge against the Republican party a brutal indifference to the real interests of the City of New York. Republican legislation has constantly and persistently followed the line of denying to this community the right of self government, until it has minimized home rule in the City of New York, so that to-day the first city of the Union in many important respects has less control of its affairs than the humblest municipality.

Vetoes of the Mayor of proposed legislation manifestly detrimental to the city's interests have been overridden purely for partisan reasons, and have received such scant consideration as to make a mockery of that constitutional provision in defense of municipal home rule from which so much was expected. To such lengths has this partisan treatment of the city's interests been carried that as between the different boroughs of the city different principles of government have been invoked, according to the varying partisan conditions existing therein.

Out of every dollar of taxation to-day 83 cents must be spent in a manner directed by the Legislature, leaving only 17 cents upon which the judgment, discretion and economic policy of the local authorities can be exercised.

Amendments have been made to the tax laws which relieve rural counties of the State from their fair burden of State taxation by imposing new taxes derived almost exclusively from the City of New York.

Laws have been passed interfering with the orderly levying and collection of assessments, for the obvious purpose of aiding certain favored interests at the expense of the whole body of taxpayers.

The policy of gradual encroachment upon the right of the city to manage its own institutions has been followed until it is clear that the Republican party intends ultimately to put all such interests under the control of the State. Our great metropolis is treated by Republican legislators after the manner of a conquered province, and its resources regarded as the spoils or loot of partisans at once avaricious and insatiable.

We reiterate the Democratic principle that under free institutions the only proper function of government is to provide for the convenience, well being and protection of the people, and that all laws which unduly abridge the personal liberty of the citizen in the practice of innocent customs and in the pursuit of harmless pleasures, until repealed, should be carefully construed and liberally administered.

We denounce the perversion of justice as represented for months past by the conversion of judicial positions on the one hand into mere agencies for the carrying out of secret projects against personal and social liberty, and on the other hand the conversion of the grand office of District Attorney into an instrumentality for the harassment of political opponents, the carrying forward of partisan aims and the terrorism of citizens and officials not found subordinate to the purposes of men who aim at the control of the community in its business, social and governmental aspects alike. In the course of the present occupant of the District Attorney's office, appointed avowedly to advance the interests of political superiors whose purpose is to substitute for the will of the people of New York their own sinister determinations, we see not only a blow directed against the well settled principles of American law and liberty, but the unveiling of a purpose, the logical consummation of which would be the establishment of a tyranny at once infamous and intolerable.

We demand for the City of New York an administration of its police and judicial affairs according to well settled law, through duly elected officials responsible to the people. And not at all an administration shaped by irresponsible conclaves of so-called reformers, carried out in utter disregard of what from time immemorial have been regarded as the sacred rights of American citizens, by men either destitute of any weight of character or notorious for their contempt of all opinions, all habits and all customs contrary to their own.

We denounce as a sham the pretence at reform which characterizes the combination made up of Republican partisans, so called Democrats notorious for their greed for office and embittered against the regular Democratic organization because of their failures and disappointments—and a small coterie, distinguished only for their unvarying hostility to the aspirations and interests of the common people.

We are confident that the voters of New York are unwilling to repeat the experiment of 1895 to 1897, inclusive, which gave to the city an administration characterized by prodigality, inefficiency, hypocrisy and intolerance the memory of which has wedded the people all the more firmly to a responsible and representative government.

We glory in the high position which the City of New York holds among the great cities of the world, a position never before so emphatically maintained as during the four years that are now drawing to a close. Americans who have traveled abroad, and the most distinguished travelers of foreign countries who have visited our shores have borne united testimony to the fact, New York holds this pre-eminence in spite of the persistent and unscrupulous efforts of men actuated by partisan purposes to blacken her reputation, and the no less disgraceful attempt of a press, at once distinguished for a malignant invective and utter lack of fidelity to the institutions under which it has prospered, to libel and decry and discredit without discrimination both private citizens and the servants of the people.

We congratulate the people upon the results achieved under Democratic administration of our city affairs.

We submit to our constituents with pride the record of the present administration in meeting and solving a problem of municipal government which is without parallel. The Greater New York consolidation was effected in a hasty and unscientific manner, without due regard for consequences which the deliberate foresight of men skilled in the art of government would have prevented. Foremost among these difficulties were the financial problems which early presented themselves. By unnecessarily imposing upon the City of New York a technical liability for the indebtedness of the four counties contained within its territorial limits, the city was burdened with an indebtedness in excess of the limitation imposed by the constitution of 10 per cent. of the assessed valuation of real estate. At the date of consolidation the indebtedness of Brooklyn and Kings County exceeded 14 per cent. of this valuation; the indebtedness of the municipal corporations of Queens County exceeded 16 per cent., and the indebtedness of those of Richmond County exceeded 14 per cent. Owing to this inexcusable careless legislation the city authorities were confronted with the possible necessity of suspending all new public improvements even of the most necessary character, until the city could be rescued from its technically bankrupt condition and once more placed on the footing demanded by sound finance. Inconsistent provisions of law contained in the charter had to be reconciled in ways calling for the exercise of the best practical statesmanship. Out of this confusion there has been brought order and progress. The city's credit stands to-day unsurpassed by any of the great cities of the world, and its manifold and comprehensive activities in furthering works of necessary public improvement are justly a subject for praise and congratulation.

When the present city administration assumed office it was confronted with the necessity of liquidating liabilities of many millions of dollars incurred by its predecessors for which no provision for payment by the issue of bonds had been made. Thus, when consolidation took place, the City of New York had been made liable for lands taken in condemnation proceedings and for which no bonds had been issued in the sum of $35,118,198.16; $30,362,334.91 of this amount has now been paid. In a similar way the contract liability in excess of funds provided therefor has been reduced from $25,920,664.41 to $7,134,153.

An honest and sound financing policy has been adopted, which has liquidated and funded old floating indebtedness, while at the same time refraining from the old and vicious system of postponing present and known liabilities for future administrations to shoulder.

A reduction of the city's old floating indebtedness amounting to no less than $46,646,981.89 has been effected with an increase (on Aug. 1, 1901), of only $55,013,553.14 in the city's net funded indebtedness (including $36,500,000 for Rapid Transit), and this superb financial showing has been made concurrently with the undertaking of new public improvements on a scale never paralleled.

One of the most urgent problems with which the city administration has had to deal was the woeful lack of school facilities in the several boroughs at the time of consolidation. Though hampered by financial difficulties resulting from consolidation and the urgent and pressing demands of other necessary public improvements, the present administration has opened in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx 27 new school buildings at a cost of $9,790,334 and affording accommodation for 52,050 pupils, as against 11 new school buildings opened under the administration of Mayor Strong at a cost of $2,314,491 and affording accommodation for 19,770 pupils. In addition to the school buildings already opened there are in course of construction to be opened in 1902 three high school buildings and nine public school buildings which will provide accommodation for more than 17,000 pupils.

In the Borough of Brooklyn 28 new school buildings and additions, furnishing 25,782 new sittings, have been contracted for in the last four years, and in this borough as well as in the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond the appropriations for new school accommodations have greatly exceeded the expenditures made in those boroughs in any other equal period of time.

We condemn the Republican legislation of this year, which will take effect January 1, 1902, and will destroy the existing school conditions under which the several boroughs retain control of public instruction in their respective localities. As the citizens of Brooklyn declared in mass meeting assembled on April 2, 1901, this legislation substitutes a system of centralization that is un-American in principle and injurious in the highest degree, not only to the practical efficiency of the public schools, but to the intelligent interest of public spirited citizens in the greatest institution of the republic.

We demand local control of school administration in the various boroughs.

We pledge ourselves to a continuation of the present policy of increasing school accommodation to the end that every child in the City of New York may obtain convenient sitting in full time classes and enjoy all the advantages of our public school system.

This public improvement, the greatest of its kind ever known and for which bonds to the amount of $36,500,000 have been authorized, is being pushed to completion with a celerity without parallel, due largely to the intelligent and efficient co-operation of all the city departments. While other administrations discussed rapid transit, the present administration gave it.

Recognizing that the rapid transit route serves but two of the boroughs of the city, the present administration has begun the construction of two new bridges connecting Manhattan Island with the Boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens, respectively, in addition to an expenditure of $10,000,000 on new East River Bridge, now nearing completion. It has also furthered the construction of an extension southward of the rapid transit line, which, by tunneling under the East River, will give to the people of Brooklyn the rapid transit facilities of the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx. These public works, while enormously expensive, are clearly the most necessary to the proper physical development and future prosperity of our city, and we believe that the great advantages sure to result therefrom will justify the policy which has been adopted in boldly and promptly attacking this overshadowing problem.

This general policy of public improvement has been followed in all the departments of the city, resulting conspicuously, among other things, in a material improvement in dock and wharfage facilities, in the construction of a new public library building in Bryant Park, in the continued improvement and extension of the city's water supply, in the repavement and improvement of the city's streets, and in the construction of new buildings required for the Police, Fire and other departments of the city government, which have hitherto been inadequately housed in rented premises.

We believe the time has come to remove the question of municipal ownership from the sphere of academic discussion to that of practical application. We commit the Democratic party specifically to the municipal ownership of all the sources of its water supply, of its docks and wharves along the city's water front in all the boroughs, the taking of control and management as soon as the law and present contracts will permit of the ferries between the various counties in the city, and particularly to the County of Richmond; and, in regard to the new bridges in the course of construction over the East River, we insist that they shall be held and managed by the city and placed at the disposal of the railroad and their corporations only to the extent of granting them a right of way for adequate compensation. In enumerating, however, these particulars in which we pledge the Democratic party in the early future to apply the principle of municipal ownership, we are not to be understood as limiting it to them. The party, looking to the future and realizing fully the difficulties, financial and otherwise, that lie in the way of complete application of the proposition that all proper municipal functions should be exercised by the municipality itself, holds to the doctrine that the best interests of the community are to be promoted by steady advances along the lines here indicated.

We denounce the present excise law as iniquitous and intolerable. It was passed at the dictation of the Republican State machine, against the protest of a majority of the people of New York, irrespective of party. It has given rise to a system of spying and official intermeddling abhorrent to a free people. It extorts exorbitant revenues from this city to aggrandize other portions of the State. It promotes intemperance, furnishes a legalized refuge for vice, imperils the innocence of children and destroys the sanctity of the home.

We therefore demand the enactment of an excise law conservative of the public morals and liberal in its provisions, that shall place its administration and revenue, so far as shall apply to this city, within the control of this municipality, thus insuring the enforcement of the law by the consent of the governed.

We urge the passage of amendments to the Labor law of the State which will result in affording laboring men employed on city contracts real protection to their legitimate interests and will supply city officials charged with duties in respect to public contracts means whereby such interests can be practically conserved.

In respect to capital on the one hand and labor on the other, the attitude of the Democratic party is to-day, as it always has been, friendly in the largest sense to both. In capital and the enterprise of the employer we recognize forces that must be conserved and encouraged if the City of New York is to prosper and maintain its position as the great business and manufacturing center of the continent; and in labor, we recognize the force of manhood and character, which, if neglected, would involve the ruin not only of our city and our State, but of our nation and our civilization.

Republican Convention, 1901.

The Republican City Convention was held in the Grand Central Palace, Lexington av. and 43d st., Manhattan, Sept. 24. Seth Low of Manhattan was nominated for Mayor; Edward M. Grout of Brooklyn for Comptroller, and Charles V. Fornes for President of the Board of Aldermen.

THE PLATFORM.

The Republicans of New York City, sinking all partisan advantage, in the welfare of the community, meet in their municipal convention as citizens and patriots, presenting to the voters the broad proposition of a municipal ticket for honest, intelligent, economic, businesslike and nonpartisan government. We arraign Tammany Hall as a band of conspirators against the public welfare, as an organization devoted to public plunder, whose office holders, in the conduct of the public business, to use the language of their chief, "are working for their pockets all the time."

The administration of the Police Department embodies and illustrates the whole theory and practice of Tammany government. License to break the law is unflinchingly bought and sold, and those who are sworn to enforce the law are the agents of its subversion. The machinery designed for the administration of justice is employed to promote vice and to protect criminals, and the system of blackmail is carried so far that in many parts of the city it is not possible to conduct even an honest and legitimate business until tribute has been paid to official and unofficial blackmailers.

In the name of our candidates we promise that if they are elected the blackmail iniquity, which is the foulest disgrace of Tammany government, shall be rendered impossible by the complete reorganization of the Police Department.

The election of the ticket nominated by this convention will not mean blue law government. On the contrary, we believe in the largest measure of personal liberty consistent with public decency and the maintenance of public order.

In the four years during which Tammany Hall has administered the Greater City of New York the budget has been increased from $77,000,000 to the enormous amount of $98,000,000, and to raise this sum by taxation the tax rate has been annually increased, in spite of the constant increase in valuation of real and personal property. How this enormous amount paid by taxpayers has been expended by Tammany Hall appears in the vast and ever increasing roster of the Municipal Civil Service. Thousands of places have been made in the departments solely for the purpose of supporting Tammany workers at the public expense. Salaries have been increased without reason or excuse. Favoritism and extravagance in the purchase of supplies and in the conduct of the public business generally have disgraced almost every department of the city government. It will be the special duty of the candidates of this convention, if elected, to abolish all useless offices, to cut down the public expense, and to reduce the present excessive burden of taxation.

There are now upon the statute books many laws in the interests of labor providing for the inspection of factories, regulating the employment of minors, guaranteeing union wages on all public works, preventing the sub-letting of contracts, and safeguarding the interests of wage earners in many directions. The value of these laws depends wholly upon their enforcement, and it is a part of the obligation of the city government and of every department thereof, to see to it that these laws are duly administered and enforced.

There is great need of improvement in the social conditions of the city. More urgent than all else is the erection of a sufficient number of public school buildings to give a seat and a desk to every child seeking to obtain a public school education, and also such other betterments as are absolutely necessary to the public welfare which should receive public support.

The one issue in this campaign is an upright administration of municipal affairs, conceived and executed solely for the benefit of the people. It is the issue of common honesty. It is the fight of good citizenship against bad, selfish and careless citizenship. It is an issue that must abide, and a fight that must be kept up until the Tammany idea of government has been uprooted and destroyed.

Citizens' Union Platform.

The Citizens' Union held their preliminary convention April 19 and 26, at which a committee of 100 citizens of all political beliefs was appointed to assist in the campaign and in bringing about combined action against Tammany. On September 24, committee met and nominated Seth Low for Mayor, Edward M. Grout for Comptroller and Charles V. Fornes for President of the Board of Aldermen. Following is the platform of 1901 of the Citizens' Union.

PLATFORM.

(1) The government of the City of New York is a disgrace, and the men controlling it are using public office for private plunder. They collect tribute: By bargains with corrupt contractors; by assessments from office holders; by favoritism in taxation; by blackmail from liquor traffic, gambling and prostitution. They ignore Civil Service rules, the bulwark of efficient administration and independence of the employe, and fill salaried positions with incompetent favorites. They care nothing for the people, and have forgotten the promises of civic progress made in their platform of 1897. Beside their declaration in that platform that "All proper municipal functions should be exercised by the municipality itself and not delegated to others," we place their attempt to give away our water supply to the Ramapo Co. They are "working for their pockets all the time." They corrupt the police force, however ready in the rank and file to do its duty, and compel it to protect the crimes of men and women who will pay for the protection. The youth of the city are being contaminated. To the insolent retort, "What are you going to do about it?" the voters alone can give answer.

(2) Mismanagement, favoritism, and dishonesty must go. But this is not enough. We must have positive benefits for the people. In particular we demand: Enough room in the schools and enough teachers; an extended library system. A sure and ample supply of pure water for every part of the city. Streets kept as Waring kept them. More public baths, open winter and summer; more public lavatories. More playgrounds for children; more small parks. Enforcement of the tenement house laws. The enforcement of the tax laws by an equal scale of valuation for unimproved and improved real estate. Judicious increase of direct employment of labor by the city in its public works. Constitutional laws, by the amendment of the constitution if necessary, which shall secure to all workmen upon municipal works, whether on the pay roll of the city or of contractors, the payment of the prevailing rate of wages for an eight hour day. Adequate communications between the boroughs by ferries, bridges and tunnels. Ownership of our own water supply, and acquisition for just compensation of gas and electric light supplies, to be operated by the city if adequate merit-system safeguards are provided. Retention by the city of ownership of all its franchises and no leasing of the same except for short periods, so that the increase in value shall be for the people's benefit. Stringent supervision of all corporations using city franchises, so as to insure adequate service at reasonable rates. All these demands can be met without adding a cent to the city taxes if we can have honesty and economy of administration. It is not the tax rate, but the waste and misuse of the taxes when collected that prevent progress.

(3) We further demand home rule for the city, greater control by the boroughs over their purely local affairs, and a reasonable and liberal administration which shall protect all citizens in the exercise of their rights without class distinction.

(4) We will nominate no candidate unless his career and record are such as to justify public confidence in his assurance that, if elected, he will not use his office, or permit it to be used, for the benefit of any political organization.

Without calling upon any citizen to surrender in any degree his allegiance to his party, we urge an entire separation of municipal government from national and state politics, and we appeal to all good citizens, of whatever party, to unite with us in an organized effort to accomplish the objects of the union.

2d. Newspapers and Periodicals that have been entered as 2d Class Matter, mailed by persons other than the publishers.	1 ct. four ounces or fraction.	No limit.
3d. Circulars, Books and Matter wholly in print on paper, Engravings, Lithographs, Photos, Blank Checks, Deeds, Insurance Policies, etc. Proofs with manuscript accompanying, matter reproduced by electric pen, hectograph or like process, not in nature of personal correspondence, Visiting Cards, Business Cards, etc.....	1 ct. each two ounces or fraction.	4 lbs. except single books
4th. Merchandise and Matter not included in above classes.....	1 ct. oz. or fraction.	4 lbs.

* 4 lbs.; except that sealed packages in excess of 4 lbs. must be fully prepaid by postage stamps affixed.

WHAT CANNOT BE MAILED.

The following are unmailable: Liquids, ardent, vinous, spirituous or malt, or those liable to explosion or spontaneous ignition or combustion by shock or jar, inflammable oils, poisons, explosives, animals, alive or dead (stuffed natural specimens excepted); explosive or poisonous powders, matches and other articles easily inflammable, fresh fruit and vegetables liable to decomposition, insects (except queen bees and their attendant bees and dried insects when safely secured), substances exhaling offensive odor, all other articles (not securely packed or cased, and then safely packed in hard wood or metal boxes with screw lids or secured by clasp or slide, strictly conforming to methods prescribed by the P. O. Dept.) which are liable to destroy, deface or damage other mail matter, or to harm the person of any one in the postal service; obscene and indecent books, prints, writings or papers; all letters upon the envelopes of which, or postal cards upon which indecent, lewd, obscene or lascivious delineations, epithets, terms or language are written or printed; all matters concerning lotteries, so called gift concerns, or similar enterprises offering prizes, or concerning schemes devised or intended to defraud the public or for the purpose of obtaining money under false pretenses, and all mail matter not addressed to a post office or to no particular person, firm, company or publication.

FOREIGN.

Mail matter addressed to countries in the Universal Postal Union is subject to the following rates: Letters and sealed packages, 5 cents each half ounce or fraction thereof, if prepaid, and double that rate if not prepaid. Postal and Private Mail cards, 2 cents each.

Printed matter of every kind, commercial papers, samples of mdse., 1 cent each 2 ounces or fraction thereof, but at least 5 cents must be paid on each packet of commercial papers and 2 cents on each packet of samples of merchandise.

FOREIGN MAILS VIA RED "D" LINE.

Per steamers closing as scheduled close at the Gen'l P. O., 10 A. M. A supplementary close is made at the dock at Roberts' stores each sailing day at 11:45 A. M. A clerk from the Brooklyn P. O. is in attendance, who provides all information and has stamps for sale. These steamers carry mail for Venezuela, Curacao, W. I.; Porto Rico and specially addressed points in the U. S. of Colombia.

MEXICO AND CANADA.

Matter mailed in U. S., addressed to Mexico, is subject to the same postage rates and conditions as that addressed in the U. S., except that articles of miscellaneous merchandise (4th class matter) in unsealed packages not sent as bona fide trade samples are required to be sent by "Parcels Post," and that the following articles are absolutely excluded from the mails:

All sealed packages other than letters in the usual form; all packages (including packages of 2d class matter which weigh more than 4 pounds 6 ounces), except such as are sent by parcel post; publications which violate any copyright law of Mexico.

Samples of mdse.: Packages not in excess of 4 ounces, 2 cents. Packages in excess of 4 ounces, for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof, 1 cent. Limit of weight, 12 ounces.

Mail matter in U. S. addressed to Canada subject to same postage rates and conditions as addressed for delivery in U. S., except that the following articles are absolutely excluded from the mails:

All packages closed against inspection and are not in usual form of a letter; all packages, except single volumes of printed books, which weigh more than 4 pounds 6 ounces; publications which violate any copyright law of Canada.

Unsealed packages of "commercial papers" shall be admitted to the mails dispatched from this country to Mexico and Canada, at same rate and subject to same conditions as to weight and dimensions as apply to commercial papers in mails dispatched to other countries of Univ. Postal Union.

DOMESTIC MATTER—REGISTERED MAIL.

Any article of the 1st, 2d, 3d or 4th class mail matter may be registered at any Post Office in the United States.

The fee on registered matter, domestic or foreign, is 3 cents for each letter or parcel, to be affixed in stamps, in addition to the postage. Full prepayment of postage and fee is required. Two or more letters or parcels addressed to, or intended for, the same person cannot be tied or otherwise fastened together and registered as one.

A return receipt signed by the addressee and showing delivery is returned to the sender of each Domestic registered letter or parcel.

The Postal authorities give an indemnity for domestic registered mail lost in transit up to the amount of $10.

FOREIGN MAIL MATTER.

1. Any article of mail matter may be registered, provided that when presented for registration the postage thereon be fully prepaid by postage stamps affixed, and, in addition, in the same manner the registration fee, which is uniformly 8 cents.

2. Name and address in full of sender must be indorsed on or written across the end of the letter or article before it can be registered.

3. The senders of registered articles may obtain assurance of their receipt by persons addressed by indorsing them with the words, "Return receipt requested."

Valuable mail of 1st class can be registered by senders at their residences by letter carriers.

SPECIAL DELIVERY SYSTEM.

A special 10 cent stamp, when attached to a letter or package (in addition to the lawful postage), will entitle such to immediate delivery within the carrier limit of a free delivery office between the hours of 7 A. M. and 11 P. M., by messengers, and on Sundays in Brooklyn from 8 to 10 A. M., and 2 P. M. to 9 P. M. in Gen. P. O. dist.

PRIVATE MAILING CARDS.

An act of Congress, approved May 19, 1898, authorized the transmission in the mails of private cards bearing written messages. The law in brief states that it shall be lawful to transmit by mail, at the postage rate of a cent a piece, payable by stamps to be affixed by sender, and under such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe, written messages on private mailing cards, such cards to be sent openly in the mails, to be approximately of same form, quality and weight as the stamped postal card now in use in the United States.

To be entitled to such privileges users of mailing cards must conform to these rules:

1. Cards must not exceed $\frac{3}{4}$ by $\frac{5}{8}$ inches.

2. The quality of the cards must be substantially that of the Government postal cards, and weigh about 6 lbs. 3 ounces to the thousand.

3. The cards may be of any color.

4. The cards must bear these words at the top of the address side: "Private Mailing Card—Authorized by Act of Congress of May 19, 1898." When prepared by printers or stationers for sale they shall bear on the face near the top the words "Postal Card—Carte Postale," and in the upper right-hand corner of the address side an oblong diagram with the words "Place the postage stamp here;" and in lower left-hand corner the following words should be printed: "This side is for the address."

5. The postage rate applicable to cards for the United States, including Puerto Rico, Guam, Hawaii and Philippines, and to Canada and Mexico, is 1 cent; for other countries 2 cents.

6. The face of the card is reserved exclusively for postage stamps, postmarks and the address, which may be in writing, printing, by means of a stamp or by an adhesive label of not more than $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch by 2 in. size. The sender may in the same manner indicate his name and address on the face or back of the card; and engravings and advertisements may be printed on the front if not interfering with a perfectly distinct address.

7. The message on the cards may be either in writing or print; and there may also appear on the message side advertisements, illustrations or other matter printed.

8. There must be attached to every card mailed a postage stamp of proper value.

MAILS BETWEEN BRANCH P. O. STATIONS.

Mail matter deposited at a Branch P. O. Station (or in a street letter box within its district).

addressed for delivery in district of another station, is dispatched direct to the latter. These dispatches of local matter are made at short intervals throughout the day, mails being exchanged between principal stations from 17 to 32 times week days and from 3 to 6 times on Sundays.

SPECIAL DELIVERY MATTER.

Special Delivery matter is delivered from the General Post Office and all Branches, between 7.00 A. M. and 11.00 P. M. daily, including Sundays.

Sub-Stations.

Sub-Stations of the New York Post Office are established in order to provide the residents in their vicinity with facilities for

1. Purchase of postage stamps, postal cards, stamped envelopes.

2. The procuring of money orders payable in the United States. International money orders may be obtained at all Branch Post Office Stations.

3. The registration of letters and parcels addressed to Post Offices in the United States or in foreign countries. Packages of merchandise ought not be presented here for registration (except singly or in small quantities), but may be registered at the General P. O. or any Branch Office.

4. The mailing (in limited quantities only) of newspapers and packages too large to be deposited in letter boxes. Packages of merchandise in quantities from dealers or others cannot be received at Sub-Stations, but should be taken to the Gen. Post Office or Branch Post Office Sta. Packages will be received (singly or in limited numbers only) for dispatch by Parcel Post to countries with which the United States has Parcel Post Conventions. Letters may, but need not, be deposited at Sub-Stations.

Richmond Post Office.

Free delivery service was instituted in Sept., 1901, at post offices of Tompkinsville, Stapleton, Rosebank and Port Richmond. For other post offices in the borough see Suburban Gazetteer.

The contract for furnishing all the registered, package, tag, official and dead letter envelopes used in the United States postal service during the year beginning October 1, 1901, aggregated over $115,000.

U. S. Postal Statistics for Year Ending June 30.

In the past year 3,294 new post offices were established, making a total of 76,945 special stations throughout the country at which mail is received and distributed.

During the year 178,514 cases of fraud, robbery or irregularity have been referred to the Inspectors' Division for investigation. The entire number investigated was 179,084.

The number of offices inspected during the year ended June 30, 1901, was 23,032, while the number of money order offices in existence June 30, 1901, was 30,529; therefore, 7,497 money order offices were not inspected.

The total number of arrests for postal frauds during the year was 1,611. Of this number 101 were postmasters, 40 were assist. postmasters, 65 were clerks, 10 were railway postal clerks, 27 were letter carriers, 43 mail carriers and 19 were employed in minor positions in the postal service. The total number of post office burglars arrested was 327, and the remainder of 979 were persons in nowise connected with the postal service.

Of the total number arrested 1,032 were disposed of in United States courts, resulting in 634 convictions. Two died awaiting trial, 3 forfeited bail, 8 escaped from custody, while 55 were acquitted. In 80 cases proceedings were dismissed, 139 were discharged on preliminary examination and 111 were discharged by the Grand Jury, leaving 461 cases pending in the United States courts on July 1, 1901.

APPLICATIONS FOR PATENTS.

Applications for letters patent must be made to the Commissioner of Patents, and signed by inventors. A complete application comprises the first fee of $15, a petition, specification, oath (in English language) and drawings, model or specimen when required. A drawing is required whenever the case admits of it. A model is required or admitted as a part of the application only when, on examination the primary examiner finds it necessary or useful.

Specification and claim must be signed by inventor and attested by two witnesses.

The oath made is that inventor believes himself to be original and first discoverer of the art, machine, manufacture, composition, or improvement; that he does not believe or know that it was ever before known or used, and the country of which he is a citizen or subject. This oath may be made before any duly authorized person in the United States, or if the applicant is in a foreign country, before any minister, charge d'affaires, consul or commercial agent, holding a commission under the U. S. government.

Drawings must be artistically executed. The Patent Office will make necessary corrections at the applicant's option and cost. The office will furnish the drawings at cost for applicants who desire that assistance.

A working model is often desirable. Applications filed are classified according to the various arts, and are examined in order of filing. Upon rejection of application examiner must cite the best references at his command. If domestic patents be cited, their dates and numbers, the names of the patentees, and the classes of invention are stated. The applicant may amend before or after first rejection or action, and he may amend as often as the examiner presents new reasons for rejection, showing how amendments avoid references and objections.

Patents for designs are granted for 3½, 7 or 14 years.

A reissue is granted to original patentee when original patent is inoperative on account of defective specification.

Provisions are made for hearings before the commissioner, and interviews with examiners.

Any citizen who has made a new invention or discovery and desires further time to mature same may, on payment of $10, file in patent office a caveat setting forth objects and characteristics of the invention. Such caveat is operative for one year.

Following is a schedule of fees, payable in advance: Filing original application, $15; issuing of patent, $20; designs (3½ yrs), $10; designs (7 yrs), $15; designs (14 yrs), $30; caveats, $10; reissue, $30; filing disclaimer, $10. Certified copies of patents, 10 cents per 100 words. Certified copies, printed patents, 80 cents. Uncertified printed copies of specifications and drawings or any number of unclassified copies, 5 cents each. For copies by subclasses, 3 cents each. Copies by classes, 2 cents each. Recording every assignment, agreement, power of attorney, or other paper, of 300 words or under, $1. For every 300 and under 1,000 words, $2. For over 1,000 words, $3.

Charles H. Duell, Commissioner of Patents Washington, D. C.

THE WATER FRONT.

Brooklyn.

Brooklyn's water front is 33 miles long, extending from head of Newtown Creek along East River, around Red Hook Point, along Gowanus and Bay Ridge shores to Fort Hamilton, around that government reservation into Gravesend Bay, along Bath Beach, Bensonhurst and Gravesend Bay, around Coney Island and Sheepshead Bay and along the north side of Jamaica Bay to the old mill landing. New York City water line at this point includes all the shores of Jamaica Bay and the entire coast line of Rockaway Beach. A serviceable depth of water prevails for the greater part of the distance described.

PALMER'S DOCKS—Between N. 10th st. and N. 4th st., Kent av. and the East River, with a shore frontage of 1,800 feet, embrace the Brooklyn Cooperage Company, a depot for the receipt and shipment of general freight, storehouses of the wholesale hay and straw markets, a mill from which 100 tons of ground feed can be turned out daily, an elevator, with a storage capacity of 500,000 bushels; wharves, elevated railways, platforms and pockets for receiving, handling, storing and delivering coal, with storage capacity of 35,000 tons, and terminals of the various western and southern railroads, and several river and coast steamship companies.

At N. 2d st. is a public recreation pier. Adjoining the Catharine st. ferry slip at Main st. is the dock of the New York and Porto Rico S. S. Co.

Several of the largest refineries of sugar in the world are located on this water front. Half the sugar consumed in the United States is refined in Brooklyn. Between S. 5th and S. 6th sts. are located the tower, piers and anchorage of the new East River bridge to Manhattan.

At Cross st., fronting Wallabout Channel, to Wallabout Canal, is the Brooklyn terminal of the D., L. & W. R. R., at which 75 to 100 car loads of freight may be handled daily. Also yard track delivery capacity for 90 additional cars. From Wallabout Canal to Clinton av. the remainder of the eastern half of Wallabout Channel forms the approach to the Wallabout Market shipping basin and its piers. From Clinton av. to Little st., Wallabout Channel constitutes the water front of the U. S. Navy Yard. At Dock st. are the tower piers and anchorage of the first East River Bridge.

There are landings of sixteen ferries from Manhattan and Jersey City on the Brooklyn frontage, between Greenpoint av., in the Eastern District, and 39th st., South Brooklyn. (See "Ferries.")

Between Fulton st. and the Erie Basin are the wharves and stores of the New York Dock Co. A railway upon the bulkhead and wharves connects them with the warehouses, and float transfer service with the Western railway trunk lines. Beside the other vessels, the steamships of numerous ocean navigation companies, including the Mediterranean service of the North German Lloyds, dock at these wharves.

THE ATLANTIC BASIN is under the control of the New York Dock Co. Vessels can enter it in any stage of tide. It covers an area of 40 acres, has brick and granite warehouses on three sides, contains four piers, beside two bulkheads which form the basin, and are known as the North and South piers. Three of the inside piers are covered and are 700, 800 and 900 feet in length, respectively, by 75 and 85 feet in width. The longest, designated as South Central, is the most extensive in this port. The frontage line of bulkheads and piers of this basin measures three miles. Its entrance is 200 feet wide.

GRAIN ELEVATORS—New York is one of the largest grain handling ports in the world, and Brooklyn warehouses store four-fifths of the grain brought to its harbor. The capacity of the Brooklyn grain elevators is upward of 20,000,000 bushels. The largest is Dow's, at Columbia and Pacific sts. The grain is transferred from the canal boats to the bins, thence by belts to every part of the building and ultimately by a conveyor to the final place of deposit. Following are the estimated capacities of the N. Y. Dock Co.'s elevators, of which the McCormack elevator, on Commercial Wharf, has been remodeled into a railroad elevator with latest improved machinery for economizing time:

Name and location.	Storage capacity bush.	Transfer capacity per hour.
Nos. 2 to 16, Commercial Wharf..	6,000,000	25,000
Nos. 51 to 59, Commercial Wharf.
Nos. 6 to 11, Clinton Wharf.....
Nos. 70 to 92, South Pier.....
Columbia Stores, ft. Atlantic av..	1,500,000	8,000
Dow's Stores, ft. Pacific st.....	2,500,000	12,000
Woodruff's Stores, ft. Joralemon st.	1,500,000	8,000
Commercial, Atlantic Dock.....	2,000,000	5,000
Francis E. Pinto's Atlantic Dock..	1,500,000	10,000
Iron Elevator, ft. Degraw st.....	500,000	14,000
Watson's, Furman st	750,000	12,000
Total	16,250,000	94,000

OTHER ELEVATORS.

Erie Basin	2,750,000	10,000
Bowne's, Gowanus Canal	600,000	3,000
Beyer's, ft. Taylor st.	150,000	6,500
Shaw & Truesdell's, 2d st.....	100,000	2,000
Hecker-Jones-Jewell Mfg. Co., ft.
Fulton st	20,000	4,000
Total	3,620,000	25,500

Beside those mentioned there are a large number of floating elevators which add from five to six millions to the storage capacity of the city, as well as between thirty-five and forty thousand bushels per hour transfer capacity.

INDEPENDENT STORES AND BUSH DOCKS—Foot of 41st, 42d and 43d sts., South Brooklyn; have 3 piers, 30x100, 1,250x155 and 1,264x260 feet; the two latter piers having sheds 1,200x125 and 1,250x100 feet, being the largest covered piers in the Port of New York. The company has four 6-story, six 4-story and twelve 1-story warehouses, making a total of twenty-two (22) stores, with a floor capacity of over 750,000 square feet; also has a transfer bridge, railroad terminal and coal pocket. Lines docking here are American-Hawaiian S. S. Co., Clyde West India Line, Scandinavian-Am. Line and Norton's Am. and Indian Line.

THE ERIE BASIN commences at the inset of Gowanus Bay and Gowanus Canal, at Van Brunt st., covers 131 acres, and is protected by a mile of breakwater, semi-circular, terminating at Columbia st. It contains two large covered piers and eight smaller open piers, stores for grain having capacity of over 3,000,000 bushels, an elevator of 2,750,000 bushels, storage capacity with transfer ability of 10,000 bushels per hour, and stores for general merchandise. Of the latter, two are the only stores in the city used for the storage of nitrate of soda, chloride of potash, saltpeter and similar substances. In the basin are received the great ocean rafts of timber, as well as sawed lumber. Every autumn from 500 to 700 canal boats seek its protection, and the crews and families form a colony of from 2,000 to 3,000 persons.

BROOKLYN DRY DOCKS AND SHIP YARDS—The Erie Basin Dry Docks are among the largest in the United States. The chamber of No. 1 dock is 510 feet in length, 112 feet wide at the top and 50 feet at bottom. No. 2 is 610 feet long, 124 feet wide at top and 60 at bottom. Most of the iron ships that require docking at this port are hauled up on these docks. This yard has three floating dry docks, with capacities for vessels of 5,000, 4,000 and 2,000 tons respectively. At Wm. Gokey & Sons' shipyard, also on Erie Basin, are two sectional and one balance floating dry docks. Thos. A. Crane's Sons shipyard and balance dry dock is at breakwater gap, Erie Basin. Manning's yacht agency, which cares for several hundreds of yachts, is located in this basin. Wm. H. Beard's Co., for all classes of dredging, is located on Gowanus Bay, foot of Columbia st. At the foot of Court and Clinton sts. are the ship yards of C. & R. Polillon, remarkable for yacht and pilot boat building. Also the marine railways of Downing & Lawrence. The Burtis Marine Railway is at the foot of Conover st. Leary's ship yard is on Gowanus Canal, near Eagle st., and Ayers' yard, foot of 55th st., and H. C. Wintringham's are known for the construction of boats, steam and naphtha launches and steam and sail yachts.

From 65th st. to the Narrows the high bluff of Bay Ridge overlooks the bay of New York. Outside the Narrows at the northern headland of Gravesend Bay is situated the United States government reservation and harbor defenses of Fort Hamilton. From that point the remainder of the shore, with the exception of a lodgment of a warehouse on Gravesend Bay, is occupied by suburban developments and summer pleasure resorts. Among them are Bath Beach and Bensonhurst, on Gravesend Bay; Sea Gate, West Brighton, Brighton Beach, Manhattan Beach and Point Breeze, on Coney Island; Sheepshead Bay, on the bay of that name; Bergen Beach and Canarsie, on Jamaica Bay, and Rockaway Beach, Arverne, Wave Crest, Isle of Wight and Far Rockaway, on the farthest ocean front embraced in New York City, from the eastern limit of which to the western shore of Staten Island the width of the new city is nearly thirty miles.

Manhattan.HUDSON RIVER SHORE LINE.

The water front of New York, which borders upon Atlantic Ocean, L. I. Sound and Hudson River, measures 450 lineal miles. The frontage on the Hudson River side begins with Battery Park, on which is Castle Garden Building, now a public aquarium. Next northward is Pier A, occupied by the Dept. of Docks, which has exclusive supervision over all the wharf privileges of the city. Adjoining is fire station No. 57, the headquarters of the fire boat system of Manhattan. From there northward on various piers and bulkheads are terminal facilities for the receipt and handling of freight. Also conveniences for the many thousands of passengers and freight by ferries, ocean-going steamships and river steamboats. At Barrow st., Pier 43 is arranged for recreation in summer. Between Perry and Gansevoort sts. five new piers constructed are leased to foreign steamship companies. The largest of the Manhattan markets—West Washington—is at Gansevoort and W. 12th sts. From W. 14th to W. 22d sts. are the landing places of the ice and lumber companies. From W. 29th to W. 38th st. the frontage is occupied by freight depots of the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co. and West Shore R. R., N. Y., Ontario and Western and Penna. R. R. The piers and bulkheads from there northward are occupied by corporate and individual interests to W. 59th st. Between W. 59th st. and W. 72d st. is another freight terminal of the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., connected with which are nine piers, two grain elevators, stock yards and abattoir. At W. 129th st. is a recreation pier. Between W. 153d and W. 158th sts. are Trinity Cemetery and Audubon Park. Fort Washington and Fort Washington Park are between W. 170th and W. 185th sts. At W. 219th st. is the mouth of the Puyten Dyvil Creek and the Harlem Canal, which connects the Hudson and Harlem rivers. Beyond, Mount St. Vincent, 15 miles from the City Hall, is the northern limit of the city. From this point to the southern extremity of Staten Island the air line length of New York City, from north to south, is upward of 35 miles.

EAST RIVER SHORE LINE.

At the southeast corner of Battery Park is located the ferry to Liberty Island, the Barge office, a department of the customs, a bureau of immigration, office of the U. S. Marine Hospital, ship news office and ferry to Governor's Island. Next, on the East River, are the ferries to Staten Island and Bay Ridge, L. I. Adjoining are the ferries to Hamilton av., Atlantic av. and 39th st., Brooklyn. Upon Pier 3 is located the Quartermaster's Dept. of U. S. Army. From these ferries, freight terminals of canals and railroads, steamship, steamboat and other vessel landings take up the space to Wall st. Between Fulton and Beekman sts., on the bulkhead and Piers 22 and 23, is located the principal wholesale fish market of the city. At Roosevelt st. are established the western piers of the first Brooklyn bridge. Between Pike and Rutgers slips are pontoon dry docks. At Clinton st. is a sectional dry dock. Corlears Hook Park is between Jackson and Corlears sts. Between Broome and Delancey sts. is located the anchorage and west piers of the second bridge to Brooklyn, in course of construction. At Stanton st. are two dry docks. At E. 4th st. also two dry docks. Between E. 26th and 28th sts. lies the possessions of Bellevue Hospital. Connected with the hospital are ferries to Blackwell's, Randall's, Ward's and Hart's Islands. At E. 37th st. is the power house of the N. Y. E. L. H. and Power Co. From E. 42d to E. 84th st., excepting at E. 71st st., where the tunnel bored under the East River from Ravenswood, L. I., by the East River Gas Co., reaches Manhattan, the shore front is used in small local interests. At E. 74th st. is the power house of the Manhattan Ry. Co. Between E. 84th and E. 89th sts. is East River Park to Av. B. Within these limits are several new piers for business and recreation. E. 89th to E. 90th st. embraces the Roman Catholic institution, House of the Good Shepherd. Between E. 111th and E. 115th sts. the East River and 1st av. is Jefferson Park. At E. 127th st. is the outlet into the East River of the Harlem River. Spanning the Harlem River are draw or swivel bridges; at 3d av., those of the N. Y. and Harlem and N. Y. and Northern railroads, Washington Bridge and High Bridge, on which the Croton aqueduct crosses the Harlem River. High Bridge Park borders for a considerable distance the west side of the river. North of the eastern outlet of the Harlem River, and continuing out into the head of Long Island Sound is Port Morris, the freight and transfer terminal of a branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Some two miles beyond Port Morris the Bronx River, the limit of city improvements on the east side, empties into Long Island Sound. From that to Throgs Neck the shore consists chiefly of salt marshes. At Throgs Neck is located Fort Schuyler. Salt marshes again border much of the shore in this section, and on to Pelham Manor, the northern limit of the east side of Manhattan. From there across the sound the city line takes its course to Long Island, reaching the land at Little Neck, on the east side of Little Neck Bay. On the western side of the bay, jutting out into the Sound and closely approaching Throgs Neck, is Willet's Point, which is strongly fortified, as a consort defense work to Fort Schuyler. Whitestone, College Point and Flushing line the shore to Flushing Bay. At Powery Bay is an attractive summer resort, called North Beach. West of Bowery Bay is the village of Steinway. Astoria and Ravenswood fill up the space to Long Island City, where there are extensive petroleum refineries, paint, varnish and other manufactories and numerous piers for shipping. The western terminus of the Long Island Railroad is also located at this point.

Late improvements of the Manhattan water front are:

1898 to 1901—New piers, 37; piers extended, 23; new platforms, 9; bulkhead wall built, 7,600 ft.; wharfage room made, linear feet, 57,500; area of city's pier increased, square feet, 1,742,500.

Four years preceding—New piers, 16; piers extended, 6; new platforms, 1; bulkhead wall built, 2,800 ft.; wharfage room made, linear feet, 14,300; area of city's pier increased, square feet, 312,100.

Staten Island.

At St. George, 5,000 feet of the water front is owned by the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railway Co., on which is established the ferry landing and depot of that company. Also the freight terminals of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. Adjoining is the property of the U. S. Government, appropriated to the lighthouse establishment at Tompkinsville. The next adjoining 800 feet belong to the American Docks and Trust Co., which has 4 great piers and 10 extensive warehouses. Beyond Tompkinsville about one-half mile of the shore is owned by the Rapid Transit Co.; 1,000 feet by I. T. Williams & Son, lumber dealers; 1,800 feet by the estate of George Bechtel, and another long stretch by A. B. Stickney of St. Paul, Minn., Pres. of the Chicago Great Western Ry. Co. The succeeding 4,000 feet to the U. S. Government fortifications are held by private owners. The remainder of the shore to the waters of the lower bay is the property of the State of New York and the United States and occupied by the quarantine station and the fortifications on that side of the Narrows. South of the Narrows is South Beach, a stretch of two miles, used as a seaside resort. Adjoining is Midland Beach. At Prince's Bay the White Dental Co. has a large manufactory. At Totenville, the extreme southern part of the Island, on Raritan Bay, are brickmaking and terra cotta works. Northward at Rossville, on Staten Island Sound, is an ultramarine manufactory. Next, at Linoleumville, are large manufactories of the floor covering from which the place derives its name. From there a wide expanse of salt marsh borders the Sound to the place at which is established the abutment of the Arthur Kill's railroad bridge, which connects the states of New Jersey and New York. This bridge is free, and therefore accessible to all the trunk lines of railroads. At Hollands Hook, opposite Elizabethport, the S. I. Electric R. R. Co. has built a terminal and operates a ferry to Elizabethport. At Mariner's Harbor is located the largest flouring mills in the Eastern States, also the Dean linseed oil mills. On Shooters' Island, in Staten Island Sound, is the Townsend & Downey Ship Building Co.'s plant. Next comes the Jewett white lead mills at Port Richmond; also the Benlee ship building establishment and J. H. Starin's vessel repairing yards. At West New Brighton is C. W. Hunt's portable railway manufactory and Frank McWilliams' shipbuilding plant and dry dock, and beyond this the plant and dock of the N. Y. and S. I. Electric Co. A quarter of a mile eastward is Sailors' Snug Harbor. Between this point and St. George there remains but New Brighton, at which are plaster mills by which are reduced to commercial conditions millions of tons of Nova Scotia plaster rock. The circuit of the island water front aggregates about fifty miles.

MARKETS.

Brooklyn.

Fort Greene Pl.—Between Atlantic av. and Hanson pl. Distributing branches of the Western packing houses; also poultry wholesalers.

Hudson Av. Shambles—West side of Hudson av., between Tillary and Concord sts., are slaughtering houses.

Johnson Av. Shambles—Johnson av., between White and Bogart sts. Cattle and hog slaughtering and meat selling establishments.

N. 6th st.—Between Wythe av. and Berry st., are meat and ice houses of the Western slaughtering establishments.

Plymouth—Est. 1875. Cor. Henry and Orange sts. Wallabout—For the detailed history of this market, see Brooklyn Daily Eagle Almanac for 1896.

Established by the city, Oct., 1884, on lands of the Navy Yard Reservation, rented from the U. S. government. Bounded by Clinton and Flushing ays., the Naval Hospital lands and Wallabout Basin and canal. Fee of the land, east of Washington av., 17 85-100 acres, secured Nov., 1891; consideration, $700,000. The lands west of Washington av. were purchased from the national government, June, 1894; consideration, $1,208,666. The latter tract has been developed into a shipping basin and pier system, of which Pier 2 is leased to the Pennsylvania Railroad, cold storage for the held supplies of the market. In May, 1894, the State Legislature enacted a law which authorized the city authorities to issue upon lots rented, five-year leases, with privilege of two renewals of similar duration at rates adjustable at the commencement of each term. The leases required the erection of the present substantial buildings, at the outlay of the lessees, to revert at the termination of the leases to the city upon payment of their appraised values. Revenue to city from ground rents and farmers' fees for 1900, $56,741.25.

A memorial to Commodore Perry of the United States Navy was unveiled July 14, 1901, at Kurihama, Japan, and marks the landing place of the first official ever sent to Japan by the United States, in 1853. The shaft is 33 feet in height and weighs 19 tons. It bears this inscription in gold characters, penned by Marquis Ito: "This monument marks the landing place of Commodore Perry of the United States of North America. Marquis Ito Hirobumi, Highest Order of Merit."

Benjamin Harrison.

Benjamin Harrison, the twenty-third President of the United States, was born at North Bend, Ohio, August 20, 1833, and died of pneumonia at his home in Indianapolis on March 13, 1901, in the sixty-eighth year of his age. He was the grandson of William Henry Harrison, the ninth President of the United States, and a descendant of Benjamin Harrison of Virginia, who was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. He was admitted to the Bar in Cincinnati in 1853. In August, 1862, he entered the Union Army as colonel of the Seventieth Regiment of Indiana Volunteers, and was breveted brigadier general. He was inaugurated President in March, 1889, and held office one term. He was renominated for President at the conclusion of his term, but was defeated by Grover Cleveland in the November election of 1892. He won an enviable record as lawyer, soldier and statesman. Ex-President Harrison was buried on March 17 in Crown Hill Cemetery, Indianapolis. His coffin was followed to the grave by the late President McKinley and other distinguished men.

PARKS, DRIVES AND STATUES.

Brooklyn.

The park system of Brooklyn and Queens consists of 34 parks, with a combined area of 1,619½ acres. In addition there are 14 small gore parks, from one-fourth to one-half acre each, and twenty parkways with total mileage of 42½ miles, which are controlled by the Park Department, of which Geo. V. Brower is Commissioner, and Robert T. Brown, secretary, with offices at Room 14, Borough Hall, Brooklyn. For other employees of the Park Department, see City Government chapter.

PROSPECT PARK, MONUMENTS, ETC.

The construction of Prospect Park began in June, 1866, and the land (516 1-6 acres) cost $3,919,370, while its construction cost about $6,000,000. Some of its special features are its magnificent driveways, walks, its flower gardens, lakes for boating and skating, and its statues.

The Palm House is located at the Greenhouses, 7th st. and 9th av. (Prospect Park W.), and is one of the most beautiful sights of the Park.

The statue in the Park includes the bronze figure of J. S. T. Stranahan, bronze busts of John Howard Payne, Thomas Moore, Washington Irving, Beethoven and Mozart. In Aug., 1895, a shaft was erected on the slope of Lookout Hill to the memory of the four hundred Maryland soldiers who defended the rear of the American Army upon its retreat after the Battle of Long Island. It was erected by the Baltimore Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, in conjunction with the Park Dept.

The bronze statue of Major-Gen. Gouverneur Kemble Warren, near Memorial Arch, in the park plaza, was unveiled on July 4, 1896. The bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln is placed in the front part of the Flower Garden, overlooking the lake. It was dedicated October 21, 1899, and was paid for by popular subscription.

The bust of Mozart, in the Flower Garden, was unveiled Oct. 23, 1897. It is the gift of the "United Singers of Brooklyn" to the city and was won by them as a prize in a Saengerfest, held in Philadelphia.

Immediately fronting the Park is the Plaza, surrounded by mounds covered with pines and attractive shrubbery. In the center is an immense electric fountain, built in 1897. South of the fountain and facing the main entrance to Prospect Park is the Soldiers and Sailors' Memorial Arch, erected to the memory of the soldiers and sailors who lost their lives in the war of the Union. The bas reliefs were prepared by Maurice J. Power, and show Lincoln and Grant on horseback, reviewing the army after the fall of Richmond. The arch in 1893 was further adorned by a bronze group on top, called the Quadriga, designed by Frederick MacMonnies; in 1900, two massive groups, one representing the Army and the other the Navy, for the sides.

At Gate 3, on the 9th av. side of Prospect Park, are two bronze panthers on pedestals. At Gate 4, at the Ocean Parkway entrance, are two specimens of bronze work in the shape of an athlete taming wild horses.

Other statues are scattered throughout the Borough. The Grant statue on Bedford av., near Dean st., was unveiled April 25, 1896, the gift of the Union League Club to the city.

A statue of Henry Ward Beecher stands in the center of the park in front of the Borough Hall.

A statue of Alex. Hamilton graces the entrance to the Hamilton Club, Clinton and Remsen sts.

THE SHORE DRIVE.

Two bridges connecting Shore Drive with Fort Hamilton av. have been completed during 1901 and will connect, when macadamized, road under them is completed, the Shore Drive with the other systems of parkways.

BROOKLYN FOREST PARK.

Brooklyn Forest is a natural woodland park, extending from the boundary of Highland Park as far as Richmond Hill, in Queens. It cost about $1,150,000. From its high points are obtained magnificent views of the Atlantic Ocean, Jamaica Bay and Long Island Sound. Roads have been made through and the main road is macadamized. The park drive leads into fine macadam roads connecting with Astoria, Flushing, the military reservation at Creedmoor, Whitestone, Queens and the north side of Long Island.

CENTRAL PARK.

Central Park cost over \$15,000,000. It extends from 59th st. to 110th st., $\frac{1}{2}$ mile, from 5th av. to 8th av., over half a mile, with an area of 840 acres. The landscape architects were Frederick Law Olmsted and Calvert Vaux. Following are some of the principal features: At 59th st. and 5th av. the Scholars' Gate, adorned by a bust of Von Humboldt, unveiled 1874. In the southwest part is the playground and carousel for children, and beyond is the common lawn of 16 acres. The Menagerie is in the southeast part, clustered around the old Arsenal building. The mall is a broad promenade, a quarter of a mile long and 208 feet wide, bordered by double rows of elm trees and famous for the collection of statues, prominent among which are: Shakespeare, by J. Q. A. Ward, erected on the 300th anniversary of the poet's birth; Burns and Scott; the "Indian Hunter," by Ward; Fitz Greene Halleck, and a colossal Beethoven bust. Near by is the Music Pavilion.

The parks of The Bronx are magnificent in area and beauty. Special attention has been given to facilities for sports. There are 13 base ball, 5 foot ball fields and 85 tennis courts.

Pelham Bay Park has seven miles of water frontage on L. 1. Sound and Pelham Bay. New golf course has been opened of 9 holes.

Van Cortlandt Park is accessible by the N. Y. and Northern R. R., the several trolley lines running through Jerome av. and the Kingsbridge trolley. Its objects of interest are the Colonial Mansion and Museum, under the charge of the Society of Colonial Dames; the lake, covering 11 acres; the parade ground, the largest in the State, the deer range and an 18-hole golf course, covering a lineal area of 5 miles.

Bronx Park is in the northern central section of the borough. The northwestern section of 250 acres has been assigned to the Botanical Society. The beautiful Botanical Museum Building cost the city $400,000. The treasurer is J. Pierpont Morgan. Botanical Gardens are free to the public at all times. The southeastern section of the park comprising 261 acres, is in charge of the Zoological Society. The plan comprises 55 different series of buildings, cages and ranges. Admission free, except on Mondays and Thursdays (25c.). The president of the society is Levi P. Morton; director, Wm. P. Hornaday. Bronx Park is reached by 3d av. elevated to 161st st., with transfer to West Farms; to 177th st., with transfer to the Tremont av. trolley as far as the Southern Boulevard; to 177th st., with transfer to the 3d av. trolley as far as Fordham. The last route carries one to the north-west entrance.

Crotona Park contains the new municipal building for all public offices in the borough (excepting Park Dept.). It is reached direct by the 3d av. elevated to 177th st.

Claremont Park contains the old Zbrowski Mansion, now used as the offices of the Park Dept. of the borough. This park has some magnificent specimens of trees, including the royal English oak, English birch, Norway pines, Italian and other rare specimens of foreign forest growths.

St. Mary's Park is in a thickly populated section and often has an attendance of 8,000 at the Sunday concerts in the summer season.

Cedar Park overlooks the Harlem River. McComb's Dam Bridge Park, on the Harlem River, at Jerome av., is now the headquarters of the rowing clubs, formerly situated between the 3d av. bridge and the Madison av. bridge.

King Edward's Spiritual Advisors.

King Edward of England has a retinue of 65 chaplains: 2 reverend deans of the Chapel Royal, 4 reverend clerks of the King's closet, 2 domestic chaplains, 14 chaplains in ordinary, 33 honorary chaplains, 5 priests in ordinary and 5 honorary priests in ordinary.

NEW YORK RAPID TRANSIT COMMISSION.

On April 9, 1890, Mayor Hugh J. Grant named Orlando B. Potter, Wm. Steinway, Chas. Stewart Smith, John H. Starin and August Belmont as members of a commission to decide upon rapid transit routes for the city. The commission recommended a four track underground system to the Mayor on July 16, 1890. On Dec. 23, 1890, George R. Read and others, acting in conformity with chapter 606 of the laws of 1875, as amended, applied for a franchise. Mayor Grant appointed a new commission, as follows: Wm. Steinway, John H. Starin, Eugene L. Bushe, Samuel Spencer and Frederick P. Olcott of the original Rapid Transit Commission. John H. Inman was substituted for Mr. Olcott, who did not qualify. John M. Bowers was appointed counsel.

Perfect plans for an underground railway were submitted to the Board of Aldermen Oct. 21, 1891, and they were approved on the same day. Threatened litigation and fear of success prevented any bids when the franchise was offered for sale, and the plan fell in abeyance.

The Legislature of 1894 created a new Rapid Transit Board, which commission was constituted as follows: Alexander E. Orr, John H. Starin, Wm. Steinway, John H. Inman, Seth Low and John Clafin and Mayor and Comptroller ex-officio. Seth Low resigned on June 2, 1896, his place being taken by Woodbury Langdon. The death of Wm. Steinway on Nov. 30, 1896, brought Chas. Stewart Smith, one of the original commissioners, back into the commission. John H. Inman died on Nov. 5, 1895, and was succeeded by Geo. L. Rives. On May 5, 1899, Morris K. Jesup entered the board by reason of his election to the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce. John Clafin resigning on May 10, 1899, created a vacancy, permitting Mr. Orr to continue in the board, after his retirement from the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce, which made him ex-officio a member.

The commission selected as the route for the road Broadway, which was opposed and fought bitterly in the courts. New plans were drawn and by means of a commission appointed by the Appellate Court, First Department, the necessity of obtaining the individual consents of property owners along the route was obviated. In 1897 the consent of all local authorities was obtained.

The route adopted and for which the contract has been let begins at the City Hall, continues up Elm st. to Lafayette pl.; thence to 4th av., to 42d st., to Broadway, to 104th st., where it branches into two sections, one continuing to Ft. George and beyond to Marble Hill, near Kingsbridge, the second going to the east to Lenox av., to 141st st., thence under Harlem River to Bronx Park.

The contract was let to John B. McDonald, being signed on Feb. 24, 1900, in the Comptroller's office. Ground was first broken on March 24, in front of the City Hall, by Mayor Van Wyck. The contract price is $35,000,000, the contractor agreeing to build, equip and operate the road for fifty years. The contractor was required to furnish security to the amount of $7,000,000 for the faithful performance of his contract. This he did through the organization of the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Co. August Belmont, president, which guarantees McDonald's completion of his contract. The contract was divided into sections by the contractor and sub-let to under contractors. The American Bridge Company furnishes the steel, and construction work is now in progress along most of the route. Over 70,000 tons of steel will be used. On Oct. 1, 1901, one-third of the work had been done and over $12,000,000 had been paid to the contractor. The estimated time required for completion is four years.

The Rapid Transit Commission, on Sept. 27, 1900, adopted the route of a proposed extension, Brooklyn, as follows: From the New York City Hall, down Broadway to Bowling Green at Whitehall st., to So. Ferry, under East River Joralemon st., Brooklyn, to Fulton, to Flatbush av., to Atlantic av. A double loop is provided around the Brooklyn Borough Hall and a loop Manhattan at the Battery. The estimated cost $8,000,000, and the time required for building, three years. This route was approved by the Municipal Assembly. Upon failure to secure the assents property owners along the route application was made to the Supreme Court, Appellate Division, for the appointment of a commission to determine whether the road should be extended as proposed. The court in the First Department named as commissioners Theron G. Strong, Thos. C. Crain and Henry Winthrop Gray, who are now holding public hearings. The Appellate Court of the Second Department will name commissioners later.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

The Revised Charter brings about many and important changes in the management of the public schools. While the charter as a whole goes into effect on the first of January, 1902, most of the provisions relating to the Department of Education do not take effect until the month of February. On the first Monday in February, 1902, the several Borough School Boards cease to exist, and the new Board of Education for the city at large, composed of forty-six members, to be appointed by the Mayor in January, will succeed to the powers and duties of the existing Board of Education and the School Boards. The regular term of members of the Board of Education will be five years. The new Board will consist of twenty-two members from the Borough of Manhattan, fourteen from the Borough of Brooklyn, four from The Bronx, four from the Borough of Queens and two from the Borough of Richmond. Members of the Board of Education serve without pay and can hold no office of emolument under the county, state or municipal government, except the office of notary public or commissioner of deeds or offices in the National Guard. They may be removed by the Mayor after a hearing for neglect or misconduct, and the Mayor has power to fill all vacancies. The Board of Education has the management and control of the public schools and the public school system of the city, and possesses the powers and privileges of a corporation. On the first Monday of February in each year the Board organizes by the election of one of its members as President. It has power to appoint a Secretary of the Board, a Superintendent of School Buildings for a term of six years, a Superintendent of School Supplies for a term of six years, a City Superintendent of Schools for a term of six years, a Supervisor of Lectures for a term of six years, one or more Auditors, a Chief Clerk and such other officers, clerks or subordinates as it may deem necessary for its administrative duties. The City Superintendent of Schools has the right of visitation and inquiry in all of the schools of the city and shall report to the Board of Education on the educational system of the city and the condition of any and all of the schools therein. He has a seat in the Board of Education and the right to speak on all matters before the Board, but not to vote. He is required to make an annual report to the Board. The Superintendent of School Buildings is to be the executive officer of the Board in respect to all matters relating to the school buildings. The Superintendent of School Supplies will be the executive officer of the Board in respect to the purchase, storing and distribution of supplies, the printing for the Board, transportation of school children, etc.

The office of Inspector of Common Schools, which now exists only in the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx, comes to an end in February, and the Board of Education is required to divide the city into forty-six local School Board Districts—twenty-two in Manhattan, fourteen in Brooklyn, four in The Bronx, four in Queens and two in Richmond. In each of these districts there will be a Local School Board consisting of seven members—five to be appointed by the President of the Borough, a member of the Board of Education designated by the President of that Board and the District Superintendent assigned to duty in the district by the City Superintendent of Schools. The regular term of members of the Local School Boards will be five years. A Local School Board shall visit and inspect the schools in the district and report thereon to the Board of Education; recommend sites and the erection of buildings as it may deem necessary or desirable; report to the Board of Education any dereliction of duty on the part of the Superintendent of Supplies, Superintendent of School Buildings, City Superintendent or any of their deputies or assistants or the employees in their respective departments; shall have power to excuse absences of teachers within the district, subject to the approval of the Board of Superintendents in cases where teachers are excused with pay; shall try and determine all matters relating to discipline, corporal punishment and other matters affecting the administration of the schools arising upon the complaint of pupils, parents or guardians against teachers or principals; shall try charges made by the principal, district superintendent or by any parent or guardian of a pupil residing in the district against a teacher for gross misconduct, insubordination, neglect of duty or inefficiency; shall present charges of any dereliction of duty on the part of janitors; shall procure the enforcement of the law and the by-laws of the Board of Education relating to the sanitary condition of the schools and the health of the pupils; shall have power to transfer teachers from school to school within their respective districts, provided that such transfer shall not involve promotion or increase of salary; and shall report all vacancies in the teaching force as soon as such vacancies shall occur. The Board of Education also has power to appoint eight Associate City Superintendents for a term of six years each, who, with the City Superintendent, constitute the Board of Superintendents, and to appoint, upon the nomination of the Board of Superintendents, twenty-six District Superintendents to visit and inspect schools. The Board of Education has power to establish and conduct elementary schools, kindergartens, manual training schools, trade schools, truant schools, evening schools, vacation schools, free lectures and course of instruction for the people of The City of New York, special classes, high schools, training schools for teachers and playgrounds in connection with the public schools. It may establish new schools and discontinue or consolidate any of the schools of the system. All applicants for licenses to teach are to be examined by the Board of Examiners consisting of the City Superintendent of Schools and four examiners appointed by the Board of Education upon the nomination of the City Superintendent, and no person shall teach in any public school of the city who has not the proper license. Principals, branch principals, heads of departments, teachers, assistants and all other members of the teaching staff are to be appointed by the Board of Education on the nomination of the Board of Superintendents. Such nominations and appointments shall be made, except in the case of high schools or training schools for teachers, for the several Local School Board Districts, respectively, and nominations of principals, teachers, et al., must be made from the eligible lists prepared by the Board of Examiners in the regular order of the standing of the candidates on said list, provided, however, that the Board of Superintendents may consider for each appointment the three persons whose names are highest on the appropriate list. The Board of Education shall have power to adopt by-laws fixing the salaries of all members of the supervising and teaching staff, which salaries shall be uniform throughout all boroughs. The salaries as fixed by the Davis law are retained. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment is required to appropriate for the General School Fund for the payment of these salaries an amount equivalent to not less than four mills on every dollar of assessed valuation of the real and personal estate in the city liable to taxation. The title to all property owned or acquired for school or educational purposes, except the State Normal School at Jamaica, shall be vested in The City of New York, but shall be under the care and control of the Board of Education for the purposes of public education, recreation and other public uses. The schools of the city shall be free to all persons over four and under twenty-one years of age, provided, however, that no child under six years of age shall be received in said schools except in kindergarten classes. The Board of Education shall provide for the purchase of all books, apparatus, stationery and other things necessary and expedient to enable the schools to be properly and successfully conducted, and shall, upon the recommendation of the Board of Superintendents, approve text books, apparatus and other scholastic supplies for use in the public schools. All necessary supplies shall be obtained by contract as far as possible. The money for the support of the schools shall be raised by taxation, and all moneys for educational purposes shall be raised in two funds—the special school fund and the general school fund. The general school fund shall consist of all moneys raised for the payment of the salaries of the City Superintendent, Associate Superintendents and District Superintendents, members of the Board of Examiners, attendance officers, lecturers and all members of the supervising and teaching staff. The Special School Fund shall contain and embrace all moneys raised for educational purposes not comprised in the general school fund. The Board of Education has the care and management of the public school teachers' retirement fund created for the former City of New York and of the like fund created for the former City of Brooklyn, both of said funds being made parts of the retirement fund of the Board of Education of The City of New York. The Board is required to make an annual report to the Mayor between Aug. 1 and Nov. 30, setting forth the condition of the schools for the preceding school year, and another report between Jan. 1 and Feb. 15, stating the total amount of money expended for the purposes of public education during the preceding calendar year. The members of the Board of Education, together with the President of the Normal College, constitute the Board of Trustees of the Normal College, which is to continue as a separate and distinct organization and body corporate, and shall continue to furnish the benefit of education gratuitously to girls who have been pupils in the common schools of The City of New York and to other girls who are actual residents of the city. The Board of Trustees has the powers conferred upon and is subject to the duties required of trustees of colleges by the Revised Statutes.

Public Lands in Insular Possessions.

The following statement, prepared by Hon. Binger Hermann, Commissioner of the General Land Office, gives the status of the public lands in the insular possessions: "No intelligent action can be taken looking either to the surveying or disposal of the public lands in either the Philippines or Porto Rico until sufficient reliable data has been furnished through some competent and trustworthy source. It is, therefore, suggested that the Interior Department take this matter under advisement with a view to securing information upon the various methods heretofore adopted by the Spanish government for the surveying and disposal of its public lands, and if practicable, investigations be made of the Spanish archives with a view to securing full and complete information upon the subject of titles, previous land disposals and legislation thereon, including the extent and location of the lands belonging to the government. With the data thus obtained some practicable system may be devised for the disposal of such lands."

Brooklyn School Districts.

The Brooklyn Borough Board of Superintendents has divided the school territory of the borough into 14 School Board Districts, as provided for in the new charter. This work is the foundation for the new order of school affairs commencing in Feb., 1902, and districts have been made on a basis of school population without regard to territory, except that political divisions have been followed as closely as possible. It is also the basis upon which the Mayor will appoint 14 members, to the Central Board of Education and that upon which the Borough President will appoint 5 members to compose the local district school boards. The school districts as prepared by the Board of Superintendents, but which are liable to change by the Board of Education, are as follows:

- 1—Schools Nos. 1, 5, 7, 8, 12, 14, 15, 47, 67 and 133, included in the 1st, 2d, 4th, 5th and part of the 3d, 10th and 11th Wards.
- 2—Schools Nos. 2, 31, 82, 97, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 112, 118, 127, 128 and 131, whole of the 30th and greater part of the 8th Ward.
- 3—Schools Nos. 3, 11, 25, 42, 44, 45 and 79, in the 7th, 20th and most of the 9th and 23d Wards.
- 4—Schools Nos. 4, 9, 89, 90, 91, 92, 94, 95, 96, 98, 99, 100, 111, 114, 115, 119, 120, 121 and 134, covering the 29th, 31st and 32d Wards.
- 5—Schools Nos. 6, 13, 27, 29, 30, 32, 46, 58 and 78 includes the 6th, 12th, and a part of the 10th Ward.
- 6—Schools Nos. 10, 39, 40, 60, 77, 107 and 124, covering the 22d Ward and a small part of the 8th and 9th Wards.
- 7—Schools Nos. 16, 33, 37, 54, 55, 71 and 122, contained in the 19th and 31st Wards.
- 8—Schools Nos. 17, 22, 31, 34, 38, 51, 59, 110 and 126, in the 14th and 17th Wards.
- 9—Schools Nos. 18, 19, 20, 23, 36, 48, 49, 50, 69 and 117, in the 15th and 18th Wards.
- 10—Schools Nos. 21, 24, 43, 52, 53 and 88, in the 16th and 27th Wards.
- 11—Schools Nos. 26, 35, 41, 57, 70, 80 and 83, in the northern half of the 23d, 24th and 25th Wards.
- 12—Schools Nos. 28, 56, 73, 84, 85, 87 and 113, in the southern portions of the 23d, 24th and 25th Wards.
- 13—Schools Nos. 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 72, 76, 108, 109 and 125, in the 26th Ward.
- 14—Schools Nos. 68, 74, 75, 86, 106, 116 and 123, forming a division in the 28th Ward.

There is a school registration of about 164,000, while the school population is estimated at about 200,000. The latter figure is the basis of division, so that each of the 14 School Board Districts are estimated to contain about 14,300 children of school age.

Appointment of Teachers in the Public Schools.

No person can be employed as a teacher in the public schools of the city unless holding a certificate or license from the City Superintendent of Schools. The following by-laws, adopted by the School Board, contain the rules which govern in these matters:

LICENSES TO TEACH.

Licenses to teach in the public schools of the city shall include the following:

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS—1. Provisional certificate. 2. B certificate. 3. A certificate. 4. Head of Department certificate. 5. Principal's certificate.

School Teachers' Retirement Fund.

Chapter 656, Laws of 1895, provides that the Board of Education of the City of Brooklyn is given the full care and management of the Public School Teachers' Retirement Fund.

The Board of Education reserves monthly and turns over to said fund 1 per cent. of the salaries paid to teachers; also holds all moneys and property received by donation, legacy, gift, bequest or otherwise for account of the fund.

The Board may retire from active service any male teacher over 60 years of age, or female teacher over 55 years of age, and who has taught 30 years, of which 20 immediately preceding the proposed retirement shall have been in the public schools of Brooklyn. Each teacher retired receives during life an allowance annually equal to half of annual salary received at time of retirement, to be paid in quarterly instalments; but no teacher so retired shall receive more than $1,200 in any one year; provided, however, that no teacher shall be retired until he or she shall have paid into the fund an amount equal to 20 per cent. of his or her annual salary. On Nov. 1, 1901, there were 87 teachers on the retired list, drawing an aggregate annuity of $37,847.50.

Salary Schedules, Entire City.

The Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences was authorized by Act of Legislature to establish Museums of Art and Science.

The City of Brooklyn was authorized to erect a section of the Museum building at a cost not to exceed $300,000. A tract of land facing the Eastern Parkway on the north. Washington avenue on the east, a line 100 feet south on the southern boundary of old President street on the south, and land reserved for the Prospect Hill Reservoir on the west, containing eleven and nine-tenths acres and valued at $900,000, was leased by the former City of Brooklyn to the Institute for a term of one hundred years.

On this site has been erected the first section of the Museum building in classic style, and the entire structure, when completed, will cover an area of 560 feet square, with four interior courts, to provide light for the central portions of the building. The plan provides for collections, illustrating the general history of Art and Architecture on the first floor, rooms for the illustration of the practical Arts and Sciences on the second floor, and galleries for the illustration of the history of Painting, Engraving, Etching and Decorative Art on the third floor. The central portion of the building is carried one story higher than the rest and in this the Schools of Fine Arts and of Architecture will be located.

The first section of the building was completed and ready for occupancy in May, 1897. It was opened to the public for the first time on June 2, 1897, and has remained open daily since. A second building in Bedford Park, on Brooklyn avenue, is used as an auxiliary to the main Museum.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment in 1899 authorized the erection of a second section of the Museum Building and an appropriation to meet the cost of the same of $300,000. The second section is now in process of erection and is expected to be completed during 1902.

The Museum is open every week day from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.; Thursday and Friday evenings from 7:30 to 9:45, and on Sundays from 2 to 6 P. M. On Mondays and Tuesdays a fee of 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children is charged. All other days admission is free, including holidays.

The Children's Museum, Bedford Park, Brooklyn av. and Prospect pl., is open daily from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.; Sundays, 2 to 6 P. M. Free.

THE ATLANTIC AVENUE COMMISSION.

The Atlantic Avenue Commission, authorized by chapter 394 of the laws of 1896, "to examine into and report a plan for the relief and improvement of Atlantic av. in the City of Brooklyn," was appointed by Mayor F. W. Wurster on May 28, 1896. The commissioners named were Eugene G. Blackford, Edward F. Linton, Edward H. Hobbs, William E. Phillips and Walter M. Meserole. Eugene G. Blackford was elected Pres. and E. L. Linton, Sec. On Jan. 8, 1897, the commission presented to Mayor Wurster a preliminary report recommending legislation looking to the removal of the tracks of the Long Island Railroad from the surface of Atlantic av. Accompanying this report was the draft of a bill, approved by the Mayor, which was subsequently introduced in the Legislature, passed and approved by the Mayors of New York and Brooklyn, becoming a law by the signature of the Governor on May 18, 1897, as chapter 499 of the laws of 1897. Under its provisions a board of seven members was appointed by Mayor Wurster on May 26, 1897, called "the Board of the Atlantic Avenue Improvement." Mayor Wurster appointed all the members of the old board as representatives of the city, and added Wm. H. Baldwin, Jr., and Charles M. Pratt as representatives of the Long Island Railroad. The act creating this board provided for the removal of steam from Atlantic av. the cost to be borne partly by the city and partly by the railroad, by means of a tunnel and elevated structure from Flatbush av. to the city limits. It was further provided that the city should bear half the cost of such removal, its share in no event, however, to exceed the sum of $1,250,000. The act further provided that this agreement should be dependent upon the construction of an underground double track railroad from Flatbush and Atlantic avs. to Manhattan, at or near Malden Lane, and the operation of Long Island Railroad trains through its entire length. The commission again reported to Mayor Wurster on Nov. 16, 1897, giving in detail the history of its labors and stating the results obtained. The clause in the new city charter limiting the life of all public franchises to 25 years prevented any action in 1898, and the legislature of 1899 was asked by the commission to amend the charter so far as tunnel franchises were concerned by fixing the term of the franchise at 50 years. An act was passed by the Legislature and approved by the Mayor amending the charter in this respect, chapter 564 of the laws of 1899. On June 27, 1899, the New York and Long Island Terminal Railway Co. made application to the Municipal Assembly for a franchise.

A public hearing on the application was had at the City Hall on July 21, 1899. The application died at the close of the year through inaction by the Municipal Assembly, and was renewed by President Wm. H. Baldwin, Jr., of the New York and Long Island Terminal Railway Company, on Jan. 2, 1900, being introduced in the Municipal Assembly on Jan. 9. A public hearing was held on Jan. 29 and before the joint committee on railroads. On Feb. 2 a motion to discharge the committee, which had failed to report, was made in Council and defeated. On the 7th of March Pres. Baldwin withdrew the application, the withdrawal being presented to the Municipal Assembly on March 13. The Atlantic Avenue Commission, in order to secure the removal of tracks from the street at any cost, had introduced by Senator Wagner a bill modifying the original act by permitting the separation of the Atlantic av. improvement from the tunnel scheme, but requiring the city still to pay part of the cost up to $1,250,000. This bill was passed by the Legislature, but the Mayor killed it with his veto. Mayor Van Wyck gave a public hearing on it on April 5 and returned it to Albany as unacceptable by the city on April 13.

At the opening of the session of the Legislature in 1901, Senator Wagner re-introduced his bill of the year previous and it was passed by the Legislature about March 1. The Mayor again vetoed the bill but it was re-passed by both houses of the Legislature and was signed by Gov. Odell, becoming a law on April 8, 1901. Immediately after the Governor's approval of the bill, the Board for the Atlantic Avenue Improvement met for organization, appointed Walter M. Meserole General Sup., J. V. Davies being appointed Chief Engineer by The L. I. R. Co. Various Sub-Committees were appointed, drawings prepared and bids have been secured on the construction of the Improvement. By Nov. 1, 1901, contracts had been awarded to the American Bridge Co. for the entire steel construction in the Improvement and to other contractors for foundations and conduits. The work was formally begun Tuesday, Dec. 3, 1901.

- New York Public Library—Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations. Est. by consolidation of "The Trustees of Astor Library," "The Trustees of Lenox Library" and "the Tilden Trust," May 23, 1895. The Astor Library was founded 1849 by John Jacob Astor. The Lenox Library was founded by James Lenox. The Tilden Trust, incorp. 1887, created by will of Samuel J. Tilden, made in 1884. At the end by compromise of a legal contest, the trust became possessed of $1,000,000. The permanent site of the consolidated library is 5th av. bet 40th and 42d sts, known as Bryant Park, and the site of the reservoir, secured by legislative consent, May 1896. On Nov. 10, 1897, plans of Carrère & Hastings were adopted. The style will be Renaissance built of white marble. Work of removing the reservoir began June 6, 1899. In Aug., 1901, the Park Dept. contracted with Norcross Bros. to construct the building at a cost of $2,865,706. During 1901 consolidation was effected with the New York Free Circulating Library, the St. Agnes Free Library and the Washington Heights Free Library. The Library through an agreement with the Board of Education, is supplying books for reading room in eight of the public schools. The trustees of the Library are: Samuel P. erection of not less than sixty-five library buildings in the various boroughs of the city, conditioned only on the purchase by the city of the necessary sites and the maintenance of the libraries in the buildings after they were put up. A bill to enable the city to accept the gift under these conditions was immediately drafted by Corporation Counsel John Whalen and sent to the State Legislature, and was soon passed and signed by Governor Odell. It authorized the Board of Estimate to make contracts with Mr. Carnegie or his agents for the erection, without cost to the city, of buildings for libraries on sites already owned or to be secured by the city. It further authorized the issue of bonds by the city to pay for such sites as were to be purchased, and it expressly provided that the Municipal Assembly should have nothing to do with the issue of bonds. In accordance with this act, Mr. Carnegie designated the New York Public Library, Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations, to be his agents in the Boroughs of Manhattan, The Bronx and Richmond, and on July 17, 1901, a contract with this library for the erection of not to exceed 42 buildings in those boroughs was approved by the Board of Estimate. The architects designated to make plans for the buildings are: Carrere & Hastings, McKim, Mead & White, and Babb, Cook & Willard. Early in September the Board of Estimate approved a contract with David A. Boody, Daniel W. McWilliams, R. Ross Appleton and John W. Devoy, a committee of the Board of Trustees of the Brooklyn Public Library, designated by Mr. Carnegie, for the erection of not to exceed 20 libraries in Brooklyn, on sites owned or to be secured by the city. The contract further provided that not more than seven buildings should be erected in any one year. The Brooklyn committee has selected as architects, Lord & Hewlett, W. B. Tubby & Bro., Walker & Morris, R. L. Daus and R. F. Almiral. Under these two contracts, of the total amount given by Mr. Carnegie $3,000,000 is to be expended in the Boroughs of Manhattan, The Bronx and Richmond; $1,600,000 in the Borough of Brooklyn, leaving $240,000 to be used in the Borough of Queens.

Schools for Librarians.

Four library schools have been organized within ten years to meet the demand for the systematic training of librarians and assistants. Men and women are admitted. The New York State Library School at Albany, established in 1887, is the parent school. The requirements for admission are a complete high school course, or its equivalent, and at least two years of creditable college work in liberal studies. Diplomas from accredited colleges admit students without examination. Others must pass entrance examinations in general literature and history, in general information and in French and German. The standard of the school, both in entrance requirements and the course of study, which covers two years, is being raised from year to year.

The Pratt Institute Library School, Brooklyn, admits students only by competitive examinations, which are not technical, but are designed to test the general information of the applicant, especially knowledge of literature, history, current events, French and German. Examinations take place every June. The class is limited to twenty. The course of study is for one year, with a second year supplementary.

The Library School of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, and the University of Illinois State Library School, at Urbana, complete the roll of four schools. Admission to Drexel is by competitive examination, as at Pratt, in Brooklyn, and the course covers one year. The entrance requirements of the Illinois school are practically the same as those of the New York State School, and the training is for two years. Summer courses in library training are offered in the New York State School, in Amherst College Library, in the Cleveland Public Library and in—Madison, Wis. These short studies are designed for the benefit of those who already hold library positions and cannot leave their work for a year of study, but can get a leave of absence for a six weeks' course that will help them to gain a broader conception of their work and an understanding of modern methods.

Andrew Carnegie's Gift for Libraries.

On March 15, 1901, John Shaw Billings, Librarian of the New York Public Library, announced that Andrew Carnegie had offered to give to the City of New York $5,200,000 to be used to pay for the Hall of Fame.

In March, 1900, President McCracken of the New York University announced that $100,000 had been given that institution for a Hall of Fame of great Americans. The conditions were that fifty names might be chosen in 1900 and five more each succeeding five years through the twentieth century. No person should be eligible who was not born in what is now the territory of the United States and who had not been dead for ten years when his or her name was chosen. The Senate of the University received suggestions for the first fifty names until May. Then a committee of 100 was selected to canvass the names suggested. No name was eligible which did not receive 51 votes from this committee of 100. The committee closed its labors Oct. 1, 1900, 97 judges having voted. Twenty-nine names were found to have received a majority of the votes. These were accepted, the official list and the number of votes for each being as follows: George Washington, 97; Abraham Lincoln, 96; Daniel Webster, 96; Benjamin Franklin, 94; Ulysses S. Grant, 92; John Marshall, 91; Thomas Jefferson, 90; Ralph Waldo Emerson, 87; Robert Fulton, 85; Henry W. Longfellow, 85; Washington Irving, 83; Jonathan Edwards, 81; Samuel F. B. Morse, 80; David G. Farragut, 79; Henry Clay, 74; Nathaniel Hawthorne, 73; George Peabody, 72; Peter Cooper, 69; Robert E. Lee, 67; Eli Whitney, 67; John James Audubon, 67; Horace Mann, 67; Henry Ward Beecher, 66; James Kent, 65; Joseph Story, 64; John Adams, 61; William E. Channing, 58; Gilbert Stuart, 52; Asa Gray, 51.

The committee will be called together during 1902 to ballot for names for the 21 vacancies in this list. The Hall of Fame is a covered corridor between two of the University Buildings.

The St. Louis, Mo., Exposition in 1903.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. of St. Louis, Mo., is preparing an international exposition, to celebrate the centennial anniversary of the purchase by the United States, on April 30, 1903, of Louisiana territory. The exposition will be opened to visitors May 1st, 1903, and will close not later than December 1st. The site will be the western 668 acres of Forest Park, in St. Louis, and some 400 acres of adjoining property.

The company began with $5,000,000, raised by popular subscription; $5,000,000 subscribed by the city and $5,000,000 appropriated by the U. S. Govt. The State of Missouri has appropriated $1,000,000. Other states are appropriating various sums and it is expected that $30,000,000 will be expended on this Exposition. Plans for buildings to cost about $7,000,000 have been adopted, as follows: Agricultural Building, 700x2,000 ft.; Manufactures Building No. 1, 600x1200 ft.; Manufactures Building No. 2, 525x750 ft.; Social Economy Building, 550x700 ft.; Liberal Arts Building No. 1, 600x600 ft.; Liberal Arts Building No. 2, 525x750 ft.; Transportation Building, 600x1200 ft.; Education Building, 550x700 ft.; Art Building, main division, 300x600 ft., with two wings, each 200x300 ft.; Mines and Metallurgy Building, 600x1200 ft.; Service Building, 300x300 ft.; Electricity Building, 600x550 ft.; and U. S. Government Building, 100,000 sq. ft. Four more large buildings are to be added to this list and a great many others will be erected for state, territorial and foreign exhibits. About 200 acres of the site will be set apart for individual state exhibits and buildings.

The officers of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. are: David R. Francis, Pres.; Walter B. Stevens, Sec.; William H. Thompson, Treas.

PASSPORTS.

Rules Governing Issue of Passports.

1. By whom issued—No one but the Secretary of state may issue passports in the United States. A citizen of the United States desiring a passport while abroad should apply to the diplomatic representative in the country where he happens to be; or, in the absence of such representative, to the consul-general; or, in absence of both, to the consul of the United States. The necessary statements may be made before the nearest consular officer of the United States.

2. Passports are granted to citizens only.

3. Applications—A citizen in this country must make written application, in form of an affidavit, to Secretary of State. It must be attested by an officer authorized to administer oaths and if he has an official seal it must be affixed. If applicant signs by mark two attesting witnesses to signature are required. Applicant is required to state date and place of birth, occupation and residence, to declare he goes abroad for temporary sojourn and intends to return and must take oath of allegiance to U. S. Government. Applications must be accompanied by a description of the person applying, and state following particulars, viz.: Age, stature, feet, inches (English measure), forehead, eyes, nose, mouth, chin, hair, complexion, face. The application must be accompanied by a certificate from one witness that applicant is the person represented and that the facts stated are true.

4. Native citizens—See rule 3.

5. A person born abroad whose father was a native citizen of United States—In addition to requirements of rule 3 application must show that his father was born and resided in United States, and was a citizen at time of applicant's birth.

6. Naturalized citizens—In addition to requirements of rule 3, naturalized citizens must transmit certificates of naturalization, or certified copy of court record thereof, with applications. He must state when and from what port he emigrated, in what ship he sailed, where he has lived since arrival, when and before what court he was naturalized.

7. The wife or widow of a naturalized citizen—In addition to requirements of rule 3, she must transmit for inspection her husband's certificate of naturalization, state that she is the wife (or widow) of person described therein, and set forth facts of his emigration, naturalization and residence.

8. The child of a naturalized citizen claiming citizenship through the naturalization of the parent—In addition to rule 3, applicant must state that he or she is son or daughter of person described in certificate of naturalization, which must be submitted for inspection, and set forth facts of emigration, naturalization and residence.

9. Expiration of passport—A passport expires in two years. A new one will be issued upon a new application, and, if naturalized citizen, the old passport will be accepted in lieu of a certificate of naturalization.

10. Wife, minor children and servants—When applicant is accompanied by wife, minor children, or servant, who is an American citizen, it will be sufficient to state the fact, giving the respective ages of the children and the citizenship of the servant, when one passport will suffice for all. A woman's passport may include her minor children and servant under above conditions.

11. Professional titles—They are not inserted in passports.

12. Fee—One dollar is the fee collected for every passport. Orders should be made payable to Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. Drafts or checks will not be accepted.

13. Blank forms of application—Are furnished by the Department to persons upon their stating whether they are native or naturalized citizens or claim through the naturalization of husband or parent.

14. Address—Communications should be addressed to the Department of State, Passport Division.

15. Rejection of application—The Secretary of state may refuse to issue a passport to anyone who, he has reason to believe, desires it for an unlawful or improper purpose, or who is unable or unwilling to comply with the rules.

The foregoing rules apply also to passports in United States.

School Savings Banks.

The school savings bank system in the United States has closed the 16th year of its history. The system has been introduced in 1900 to 99 cities of 15 States, in 732 school-houses. In 3,538 school banks $876,229.65 have been saved and collected from 234,833 scholars, of whom 63,567 are depositors; $540,701.49 have been withdrawn during the year; $335,528.16 remaining due depositors to Jan. 1, 1901. The system was originated by John H. Thiry, of Long Island City.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT MCKINLEY.

President William McKinley was fatally shot by Leon Czolgosz, alias Fred Nieman, Sept. 6, 1901, at 4 P. M., while holding a public reception in the Temple of Music at the Pan-American grounds, Buffalo, N. Y. The assassin approached the President with one hand wrapped in a handkerchief, in the folds of which he had concealed a revolver. As the President extended his hand to grasp that of Czolgosz the latter fired. Two bullets entered his body. The first inflicted a superficial wound in the breast, and the second penetrated the abdomen, from the effects of which he lingered at the residence of John G. Milburn, president of the exposition, several days, dying at a quarter past two on the morning of Saturday, September 14. Death was due to gangrene, caused by the bullet. His last words were: "God's will be done—not ours." On Monday morning, Sept. 16, the body of the President, after lying in state at Buffalo, was removed to the Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C. Tuesday morning, Sept. 17, the remains were taken to the Capitol. Funeral services were held at the bier, the body lying in state during the day. Tuesday evening of the same day the body was escorted by a squadron of U. S. cavalry to the station of the Penn. R. R., and thence conveyed to the former home of the President, Canton, O., the funeral train reaching its destination Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 12 o'clock, M. The body was removed to the Court House, for several hours lay in state, and was then removed to the family mansion. Thursday, Sept. 19, the funeral services were conducted by the former pastor of the dead President, the Rev. Dr. C. E. Manchester, in the First M. E. Church, from which the casket was borne to Woodlawn Cemetery, where the body now reposes in the receiving vault of the family plot.

William McKinley was born in Niles, Trumbull County, O., Jan. 29, 1843. He was a federal soldier at 18, a major at 22, a lawyer at 24, a Congressman at 36 and President of the United States at 53. He died at the age of 58 years 7 months and 15 days. The assassin of the President was electrocuted Oct. 29, 1901, at Auburn, N. Y., at 7:12 A. M.

CUBA, PORTO RICO, HAWAII AND THE PHILIPPINES.

CUBA.

On June 12, 1901, the Cuban Constitutional Convention adopted as part of its constitution an ordinance making provisions identical with those demanded by the Congress of the United States as the conditions under which this country would surrender the island to its own people. These conditions were contained in what was known as the Platt amendment to the Army appropriation bill, and were as follows:

Provided, further, That in fulfillment of the declaration contained in the joint resolution approved April 20, 1898, entitled "For the recognition of the independence of the people of Cuba, demanding that the government of Spain relinquish its authority and government in the Island of Cuba, and to withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters, and directing the President of the United States to use the land and naval forces of the United States to carry these resolutions into effect," the President is hereby authorized to "leave the government and control of the Island of Cuba to its people" so soon as a government shall have been established in said island under a constitution which, either as a part thereof or in an ordinance appended thereto, shall define the future relations of the United States with Cuba, substantially as follows:

1. That the government of Cuba shall never enter into any treaty or other compact with any foreign power or powers which will impair or tend to impair the independence of Cuba, nor in any manner authorize or permit any foreign power or powers to obtain by colonization or for military or naval purposes or otherwise, lodgment in or control over any portion of said island. 2. That said government shall not assume or contract any public debt, to pay the interest upon which, and to make reasonable sinking fund provision for the ultimate discharge of which the ordinary revenues of the island, after defraying the current expenses of government, shall be inadequate. 3. That the government of Cuba consents that the United States may exercise the right to intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence, the maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property, and individual liberty, and for discharging the obligations with respect to Cuba imposed by the treaty of Paris on the United States, now to be assumed and undertaken by the government of Cuba. 4. That all acts of the United States in Cuba during its military occupancy thereof are ratified and validated, and all lawful rights acquired thereunder shall be maintained and protected. 5. That the government of Cuba will execute, and, as far as necessary, extend, the plans already devised or other plans to be mutually agreed upon, for the sanitation of the cities of the island, to the end that a recurrence of epidemic and infectious diseases may be prevented, thereby assuring protection to the people and commerce of Cuba, as well as to the commerce of the Southern ports of the United States and the people residing therein. 6. That the Isle of Pines shall be omitted from the proposed constitutional boundaries of Cuba, the title thereto being left to future adjustment by treaty. 7. That to enable the United States to maintain the independence of Cuba, and to protect the people thereof, as well as for its own defense, the government of Cuba will sell or lease to the United States lands necessary for coaling or naval stations at certain specified points, to be agreed upon with the President of the United States. 8. That by way of further assurance the government of Cuba will embody the foregoing provisions in a permanent treaty with the United States.

On Oct. 1 the convention performed its remaining duty by adopting an electoral law providing for a general election throughout the island, to be held Dec. 31, to choose governors of provinces, provincial councilors, members of the house of representatives, and presidential and senatorial electors. The law also provides that on Feb. 24, 1902, the several bodies of electors thus chosen shall meet and elect a president, vice-president and senators. The elections are to be held under the direct supervision of a Central Board of Scrutiny, composed of the president of the convention and four other members selected for that purpose. On June 1, 1901, the second annual election of municipal officers, who administer local government throughout the island, was accomplished without disorder, and the newly elected officers were duly installed.

The census of Cuba shows a population of 1,572,797, of whom 443,670 are able to read and write; 57.3 per cent. are native born whites and 9 per cent. foreign born whites. The negro and mixed races constitute 32 per cent. of the population.

The War Department contemplates the withdrawal of troops from Cuba about June 1, 1902, at which time it is expected that the island will be turned over to the Cubans.

* Apparent loss in 1900 in exports to the United States is accounted for from the fact that during the first nine months of 1899 about $7,000,000 worth of tobacco and cigars destined for the United Kingdom was shipped via New York and reported to the Division of Insular Affairs of the War Department as exports to the United States, the countries of ultimate destination not being given.

PORTO RICO.

The Island of Porto Rico is a parallelogram in shape, being 108 miles from east to west and 37 to 43 miles across, giving a total area of 3,606 square miles. The principal crops are sugar, coffee, tobacco, cotton and tropical fruits. It is 1,050 miles from Key West, Fla. The rainy season lasts from August to December.

The Island of Porto Rico and adjacent islands lying east of the 74th meridian are governed under an act which became a law April 12, 1900. It provides that the capital shall be at San Juan. Persons who were Spanish subjects April 11, 1899, and who have not elected to preserve their allegiance to Spain, are held to be citizens of Porto Rico, and entitled to the protection of the United States. The designation of the body politic is under the name "The People of Porto Rico."

The vessels of Porto Rico are naturalized and admitted to the benefits of the United States coasting laws. Quarantine stations are established. Porto Rico coins are retired.

The Governor is appointed by the President and holds office for 4 years, having the powers conferred on governors of territories of the United States, but is to make his reports through the Secretary of State to the President. There is an executive council appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, consisting of a secretary, attorney general, treasurer, auditor, commissioners of interior and education, and 5 other persons to hold office for 4 years.

The council is the upper branch of the Legislature, five of whom are natives of Porto Rico. The other branch is a house of delegates, consisting of thirty-five members elected biennially by the qualified electors. Porto Rico is divided into seven districts, each with five delegates. The qualifications for voters are "at such elections all citizens of Porto Rico shall be allowed to vote who have been bona fide residents for one year and who possess the other qualifications of voters under the laws and military orders in force on March 1, 1900, subject to such modifications and additional qualifications and such regulations and restrictions as to registration as may be prescribed by the executive council."

No person shall be eligible to membership in the House of Delegates who is not 25 years of age and able to read and write either the Spanish or the English language, or who is not possessed in his own right of taxable property, real or personal, situated in Porto Rico.

Provision is made for enacting legislation similar to that in other territories.

By the terms of a proclamation issued by the President, free trade between Porto Rico and the United States was established July 25, 1901. Prior to that time imports from Porto Rico were subject to a duty of 15 per cent. of the duty imposed by the Dingley act.

HAWAII.

The Hawaiian Islands, which became part of the territory of the United States by the signature of the President on July 7, 1898, lie within the Tropic of Cancer, between 13 and 22 degrees north latitude and between 155 and 161 degrees west longitude. They occupy a central position in the North Pacific, little more than 2,000 miles west of the Pacific shores of the United States, 3,400 miles from Yokohama and 4,800 miles from Hong Kong. The inhabited and only important islands of the group are eight in number, comprising an area of about 6,700 square miles, of which the largest island, Hawaii, includes nearly two-thirds. They stretch out in a chain 400 miles long, running from southeast to northwest.

The following table shows the area of the islands:

Name.	Length Miles.	Breadth Miles.	Area, Sq. Miles.
Hawaii	90	74	3,950
Oahu	46	25	530
Mani	48	30	620
Kauai	25	22	500
Molokai	40	7	190
Lanai	17	9	100
Niihau	20	7	90
Kahului	11	8	60

The islands were discovered in 1778 by Captain Cook. They were united into one kingdom under King Kamehameha I in 1791.

The integrity of the kingdom was recognized by the United States, France and Great Britain under the reign of Kamehameha III. In January, 1893, a disagreement between Queen Liliuokalani and her cabinet caused an uprising, which resulted in a provisional government being formed. On July 4, 1894, a republic was proclaimed, with Sanford B. Dole as president. Agitation among the ruling element for annexation to the United States followed. On August 12, 1898, the formal transfer of the island to the sovereignty of the United States took place.

GOVERNMENT.

The islands are now governed under an act which became a law April 30, 1900. It provides that the islands shall be known as the "Territory of Hawaii," and that the capital shall be at Honolulu, on the Island of Oahu. The legislature of the Territory of Hawaii consists of two houses, styled, respectively, the Senate and House of Representatives, which are organized and sit separately. The two houses are styled "The legislature of the Territory of Hawaii." The Senate is composed of fifteen members, who hold office for four years. Senators must be citizens of the United States, over 30 years of age, and have resided in the Hawaiian Islands not less than three years. The House of Representatives is composed of thirty members, elected every second year. Representatives must be 25 years of age, be citizens of the United States and must have resided in the Hawaiian Islands not less than three years.

Hawaii is represented in the Congress of the United States by a delegate. The present delegate is Robert Wilcox, elected by the Independent native party.

Population Statistics.

The first census of the Hawaiian islands was taken in 1832, followed by census of 1836, 1850, 1853 and 1860. These are said to have been of very rudimentary character. In 1865, however, the Legislative Assembly made it the duty of the Board of Education every sixth year, counting from 1860, to make a complete census of the kingdom. By this requirement a census was taken every six years from 1866 to 1896, and the census of 1900 was taken as part of the work of the U. S. twelfth census. The census of 1832 showed a population of 130,313, but each succeeding census up to 1872 showed a loss, that in 1872 showing only 58,897. Since that time the population has steadily increased.

Honolulu, in Oahu Island, is practically the only city in Hawaii. Its population in 1866 was 13,521, and, according to U. S. census taken in June, 1900, its population was 39,306.

The following table shows the values of articles imported into Hawaii, dutiable by civil code, but free by reciprocity treaty, for the years 1898, 1899 and 1900 (up to June 14), being the latest data obtainable:

THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

The Philippine archipelago, exclusive of the Sulu group, is divided into three groups of islands called Luzon, Visayas (or Bisayas) and Mindanao. The aggregate area of the 1,900 odd islands is about the same as that of California, with, however, a population much more dense and estimated to be between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000. The principal island, on which Manila is situated, is Luzon, and exceeds Cuba in area. The great bulk of the inhabitants of the Philippines are Malays, who conquered the islands before the Spaniards landed, and who ineffectually resisted the invasion of the Europeans. Within the past half century there has been a large influx of Chinese. The natives were originally Mohammedans, but of the vast Malay population less than 500,000 adhere to their ancient faith. The whole group of the islands is of volcanic origin, and one of the greatest active volcanoes in the world (Mayon) is within sight of Manila. Of the nearly 2,000 islands only about 400 are inhabited. Luzon is about 550 miles long, with a varying width of from 10 to 130 miles. It contains 57,500 square miles and has a population of over 4,500,000. Two of the largest rivers are the Apari, of 180 miles, and the Pasig, of 130 miles.

The Sulu Islands—The Sooloo group, or Suluk and Sulu Islands as they are also called—are an archipelago of the Indian Ocean, between the Mindoro or Sooloo Sea on the north, the Celebes Sea on the south, the Island of Borneo on the southwest and that of Mindanao on the northeast and between latitude 4:4 and 6:56 North and longitude 119:30 and 122:30 East. Their length from southwest to northeast is about 200 miles. The group consists of nearly 150 islands, most of them very small, and divided into three groups, named, respectively, after the three principal islands, Basilan on the northeast, Sooloo in the center and Tawee-Tawee in the southwest. The Philippine Islands are governed under the terms of the following provision, known as the Spooner amendment to the Army appropriation act of March 2, 1901:

All military, civil and judicial powers necessary to govern the Philippine Islands, acquired from Spain by the treaties concluded at Paris on Dec. 10, 1898, and at Washington on Nov. 7, 1900, shall, until otherwise provided by Congress, be vested in such person and persons and shall be exercised in such manner as the President of the United States shall direct for the establishment of civil government and for maintaining and protecting the inhabitants of said islands in the free enjoyment of their liberty, property and religion: Provided, That all franchises granted under the authority hereof shall contain a reservation of the right to alter, amend, or repeal the same.

Until a permanent government shall have been established in said archipelago full reports shall be made to Congress on or before the first day of each regular session of all legislative acts and proceedings of the temporary government instituted under the provisions hereof; and full reports of the acts and doings of said government, and as to the condition of the archipelago and of its people, shall be made to the President, including all information which may be useful to the Congress in providing for a more permanent government: Provided, That no sale or lease or other disposition of the public lands or the timber thereon or the mining rights therein shall be made: And provided further, That no franchise shall be granted which is not approved by the President of the United States, and is not in his judgment clearly necessary for the immediate government of the islands and indispensable for the interest of the people thereof, and which cannot, without great public mischief, be postponed until the establishment of permanent civil government; and all such franchises shall terminate a year after establishment of such permanent civil government.

Under the authority thus conveyed to the President, instructions were at once sent to the Philippine Commission to continue the government of the Philippine Islands under existing conditions. This Commission was composed of the following members: William H. Taft, President; Dean C. Worcester, Luke E. Wright, Henry C. Ide, Bernard Moses, Trinidad H. Pardo de Tavera, Benito Legarda and Jose Luzuriaga.

The change from military to civil government was made on July 4, 1901, when Judge Taft was inaugurated at Manila as civil governor and entered upon the performance of his duties. At the same time Maj.-Gen. McArthur transferred the command of the military division and the authority of military governor to Maj.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee.

On Sept. 1, 1901, a further step toward civil executive organization was made by the establishment of separate executive departments, to which members of the commission were assigned as follows: Dept. of the Interior, Dean C. Worcester; Dept. of Commerce and Police, Luke E. Wright; Dept. of Finance and Justice, Henry C. Ide; Dept. of Public Instruction, Bernard Moses.

The administrative affairs of the government are apportioned among these several departments as follows:

The dept. of the interior has under its executive control a bureau of health, the quarantine service of the marine hospital corps, a bureau of forestry, a bureau of mining, a bureau of agriculture, a bureau of fisheries, a weather bureau, a bureau of Pagan and Mohammedan tribes, a bureau of public lands, a bureau of government laboratories, and a bureau of patents and copyrights.

The dept. of commerce and police has under its executive control a bureau of island and inter-island transportation, a bureau of post offices, a bureau of telegraphs, a bureau of coast and geodetic survey, a bureau of engineering and construction of public works other than public buildings, a bureau of insular constabulary, a bureau of prisons, a bureau of lighthouses, a bureau of commercial and street railroad corporations, and all corporations except banking.

The dept. of finance and justice embraces the bureau of the insular treasury, the bureau of the insular auditor, a bureau of customs and immigration, a bureau of internal revenue, the insular cold storage and ice plant, a bureau of banks, banking, coinage and currency, and the bureau of justice.

The dept. of public instruction embraces a bureau of public instruction, a bureau of public charities, public libraries and museums, a bureau of statistics, a bureau of public records, a bureau of public printing, and a bureau of architecture and construction of public buildings.

Rapid progress was made in following out the President's policy of establishing municipal governments in which the natives of the islands, both in the cities and in the rural communities, were afforded opportunity of managing their own local affairs to the fullest extent to which they were capable.

The Philippine Commission, on Jan. 31, 1901, passed "a general act for the organization of municipal governments in the Philippine Islands." Under this act a town when organized becomes a municipal corporation having the customary corporate powers.

Under this code municipal governments had been organized in 765 towns by November 30, 1901.

On Feb. 6, 1901, the Commission passed "a general act for the organization of provincial governments in the Philippine Islands." Under this act a provincial government upon organization becomes a body corporate, with customary corporate powers.

The City of Manila was placed under a special government quite similar to that of Washington, provided by an act passed July 31, 1901. The Commission also established a judicial system by which the judicial power of the government of the islands is vested in a supreme court, consisting of a chief justice and six associate justices, sitting in Manila, Iloilo and Cebu, and a court of first instance in each of fourteen judicial districts, which include the entire archipelago, both of these being courts of record, and a justice's court in each municipality. The judges are appointed by the Commission.

After being first approved by the Secretary of War a special tariff was enacted by the Philippine Commission on Sept. 16, and went into effect on Nov. 15.

The operations of the Army in the Philippines during 1901 are reviewed as follows by Secretary Root in his annual report: The most important single military event of the year was the capture of Aguinaldo, accomplished by Grig.-Gen. Frederick Funston, under the supervision and guidance of his department and division commanders, Maj.-Gens. Wheaton and MacArthur. Soon after his capture Aguinaldo voluntarily subscribed to the oath of allegiance and issued a proclamation to the Filipino people, urging the termination of hostilities, that "lasting peace might come to them under the glorious banner of the United States." His capture was followed by the surrender of such prominent Filipino leaders as Tinio, Aglipay, Trias and Calles, with their entire following.

The operations of the field forces were so vigorous and unrelenting that more than 1,000 contacts occurred between our troops and the insurgents from May, 1900, to June 30, 1901, in which the insurgent casualties were: Killed, 3,854; wounded, 1,133; captured, 6,572; surrendered, 23,095; with a total of 15,693 rifles and nearly 300,000 rounds of small arms ammunition captured and surrendered. Our casualties during the same period were: Killed, 245; wounded, 490; captured, 143; missing, 20. On Nov. 30, 1900, formal and open resistance to American authority in the Philippines had practically terminated, and the Filipino insurgent forces had adopted a system of guerrilla warfare, closely approaching brigandage. To successfully contend against this condition and to suppress it, to afford protection to the peaceful and unarmed inhabitants, and to re-establish local civil governments had necessitated the distribution of our forces to more than 400 stations. This process continued until a maximum of 502 stations were occupied, holding every important town and strategic point in the archipelago. The scattered guerrilla insurgent bands obtained funds and supplies from the towns and the country in the vicinity of their operations. The people thus contributing to the support of these guerrillas had been rarely interfered with. Prisoners taken in battle had been disarmed and immediately released.

THE PRIMARY LAW OF NEW YORK STATE.

The Primary Election Law was originally Chapter 179, Laws of 1898, amended by Chapter 473, Laws of 1899, and in minor details was amended by Chapters 204, 205, 225, 506, Laws of 1900, and by Chapters 167, 360, Laws of 1901. The general object of the law is to grant to every registered voter the right to enroll with any party he desires to affiliate with for the purpose of participating in the primaries of such party for the ensuing year. This is accomplished by furnishing, through the inspectors of election, to every person registering as a voter an envelope and secret ballot. The voter indicates his choice of parties by a cross mark in a circle above the name of his party. The ballot is then inclosed in an envelope, which is sealed and endorsed by the inspectors with the name of the voter. The sealed envelope is then deposited in a box and kept inviolate until a week after the election, when all the envelopes are opened and the ballots examined, and the political faith expressed hereon of the voters is marked in the enrollment books opposite his name. Any voter who indicated a choice of parties at the time of registration cannot at a later time, enroll with a party by filing an affidavit with the custodian of primary records, and any person coming of age after the time of registration can also enroll by affidavit. The annual primary day is fixed for the seventh Tuesday before the day of general election, except a Presidential year, when it is fixed for the tenth Tuesday prior to the election. A primary is also held in March in a Presidential year for the election of delegates to a state convention for election of delegates to the National Convention. Independence in municipal elections does not deprive the voter of the right to participate in the primary of his party. Under the law a majority of the voters of any party can control the nominations if they so desire by making nominations direct at the primary instead of by electing delegates. A political party is defined to be an organization which polled at least 10,000 votes at the last election of Governor. The custodians of primary records are the officers or boards providing official ballots at general elections, viz., county clerks and the Board of Police in New York City. Unofficial primaries may be held at any time by the political parties at their own expense, but notice of the same must be published the same as for the official primary and the election.

N. Y. State Peddlers' Licenses.

The Secretary of State is authorized to issue a pedler's license on payment of a fee of $10 for six months. The license authorizes the holder to travel and trade within the State as a hawk and peddler, on foot, and to sell goods, wares and merchandise of the growth, produce or manufacture of any foreign country.

Clearing House Record From 1854.

The transactions at the New York Clearing House since the date of its commencement (1854) have been $1,283,388,007,071.54. This is more than sufficient to run the United States government for two thousand years and is more than 135 times as much as all the gold and silver money in the world.

THE BIRTH OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK—ITS FIRST CHARTER

BY WILLIAM C. DE WITT.

Upon a review of authorities, ample and conclusive, it must be conceded that the first charter of New York was granted by legislative authority in 1650 and conferred upon the people of New Amsterdam by Governor Stuyvesant on the 2d day of February, 1653.

Henry Hudson, in 1609, commanding the Half Moon, made the voyage of the Hudson from Manhattan to the site of Troy. It is not necessary to discuss the point whether or not there were earlier discoveries. The maps of Verrazano, or the logs of other navigators, now so interesting in the technical inquiries of the scholars, were certainly unknown to the world at the time of Hudson's death. His ample report of his voyage of the River of the Mountains, made upon his return to England to the two great commercial powers of the world, England and Holland, undoubtedly first gave this belt of the Western Continent of civilization. And, while the title of Holland was never specifically acknowledged, she was permitted to assume dominion. Says John Fiske: "At last, in 1653, the opposition gave way, and New Amsterdam was incorporated as a city. This year 1653 may be cited as marking a new era for the Dutch province. Down to this time its progress in numbers and wealth had been slow and precarious. Looking back to the arrival of Henry Hudson, in 1609, we can seem to distinguish five successive phases of colonial life: 1. The period of occasional visits of fur traders, from 1610 to 1614. 2. The period of unorganized and desultory effort under the New Netherlands Company's monopoly, from 1614 to 1623. 3. The first experiments of the West India Company, under May, Verhulst, Minuit and Van Twiller, from 1623 to 1638, including the establishment of patroonships. 4. The administration of Kieft from 1638 to 1647, beginning with the attempt to attract colonists by throwing down all monopolies and ending with exhaustion consequent upon a great Indian war. 5. The first six years of Stuyvesant, during which the province was rapidly recovering from this loss of strength."

It is surprising to observe how little in the way of establishing civil institutions was done under the dominion of Holland. The grant to the New Netherlands Company was simply a grant of a monopoly of trade and commerce with the Indians, together with the incidental right of government as exigencies might require. The grant to the West India Company, which followed the extinction of the New Netherlands Company, was in all respects similar. There was no recognition of any right upon the part of those hardy pioneers, who should settle in New Netherlands, to self-government or to personal liberty. They were left to the mercy of the director general and a council selected at Amsterdam by the West India Company. Stuyvesant having some idea that the people should in some way be consulted, gave orders for an election of eighteen men by the people of the territory that is now coincident with Greater New York, including Yonkers, Brooklyn participated with Manhattan in this election. From these eighteen men, selected by the people, Stuyvesant chose nine to be a council to confer with him whenever he saw fit and to exercise such powers as he might allow. Stuyvesant was merely the agent of the West India Company—call him director, general, governor, or what you will. A choleric, blustering, aggressive, self-willed tyrant was this same Stuyvesant. He regarded the West India Company as the fountain of all good and he looked upon the people as its vassals. He arrested anybody who questioned his supremacy.

It is not necessary to go minutely into the outrages which this petty despot perpetrated upon his subjects. Enough has been said to show what a merry time the nine men elected to confer with him upon the public safety, as a general council, must have had when in any way inclined to run counter to his wishes. The slightest expression of discontent among their number—he was always present—excited his wrath. He pounded the floor with his wooden leg and teetotally damned the unlucky malefactor. If this did not bring about the requisite obedience, the offending councilman was seized and lodged in the common jail.

These outrages at length brought upon the stage the noble and patriotic character of Adriaen Van der Donck. And we have, in the petition for municipal rights to the states general in Holland a fine example of his sterling qualities. This petition presents in telling form the claim of the colonists for municipal independence. It is dated July 26, 1649, and signed by the Council of Nine. Stuyvesant made haste to prevent and thwart Van der Donck was flung into jail. Nevertheless this fine gentleman made his escape and proceeded to Holland. Stuyvesant sent an ambassador to Holland to oppose him, but the personal conduct of his representative while there brought him irreparable disgrace. Van der Donck soon awaked among the states general a recognition of the rights of the colonists in New Netherlands. The states general issued a provisional order in directing the West India Company to give to Amsterdam a government like that of Amsterdam. O'Callaghan's History of New Netherlands is replete with evidence that this order was the act of the government of Holland and not of the West India Company.

The West India Company, as usual, discredited Van der Donck and, unfriendly to the action of the states general, neglected to put the order into force and sent tidings of it to Stuyvesant, secretly admonishing him to persist in his opposition. Van der Donck remained at The Hague and, a few years of agitation, this sturdy reformer brought the West India Company to terms. The government of Holland had become so persistent and determined in its orders that in 1652 the West India Company gave way and declared that Amsterdam should have and the right to elect a schout, two burgomasters and five schepens, with all the powers of city administration. The government possessed by Amsterdam itself. The order then went forth from them as well as from the states general that Stuyvesant must concur in the charter. Upon receipt of these commands Stuyvesant, having no other alternative, in pursuance of an old custom, on the Feast of Candlemas, 1653, having summoned the people together conferred upon them the charter of the City of New Amsterdam. Van der Donck returned to his part in the new administration. The burgomasters and schepens legislated and held court in all matters concerning the people of the new city, and the schout and his assistants enforced the laws and the judgments of these popular authorities. The city doubled its population in the nine years remaining before the seizure of the colony by Great Britain. Everybody found relief in the beginning of civil liberty in New Netherlands. We say that this was not a charter is not only an error in law but an error in historical fact. It would reduce the civil dominion of the Dutch in New Netherlands to a mere dream. As I have said, no other institution of civil government was established in New Netherlands. It is true that the system of patroonships was put in vogue; but the system of patroonships was a faint imitation of the feudal lords with few powers over the tenants; and surely no Dutchman would care to maintain that the patroonships were a system of government, even in the obscure judgment of those early days.

Nevertheless the Dutch left their mark in New Netherlands. The character of the Kieftsbickers, as the fathers of our city, has indelibly impressed upon the scholar by the satire and delightful romance of Irving. The virtues have been transmitted to their children. When we look back to 1653 we find among the people of New Amsterdam that hospitality, cheer and those sterling qualities everywhere characteristic of the Dutch, and we can see the picture of those early days many of the remaining features and characteristics of the present City of New York.

New Amsterdam was a city. It had the public buildings and the offices requisite to municipal purposes. It was known as a city to all the civilized nations of the world. It was a port of the utmost importance to commerce. It became a prize, long coveted and finally seized by Great Britain. And it cannot as a matter of history be obliterated from the legal and historical annals of the Western world.

CITY OF NEW YORK MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

THE CHARTER OF NEW YORK CITY.

The charter of the City of New York, as revised by the Legislature of 1901, the revision going into effect on January 1, 1902, is a development of the charters of the former cities of New York, Brooklyn and Long Island City, differing from all of them, however, by the introduction of the principle of local control over local affairs. In this feature the charter provides a system of government more nearly like that of London and continental cities than any prevailing in this country. The original charter of the City of New Amsterdam was granted by the Dutch government in 1653. Twelve years later, when the colony had passed under English control, Governor Nicolls granted a charter to "his Majesty's town of New York," substituting for the Schout, Burgomasters and Schepens of the Dutch government, Mayor, Aldermen and Sheriff. The subsequent colonial charters, known by the name of Governors Dongan, Cornbury and Montgomerie, were granted respectively by them under King James II in 1686, Queen Anne in 1708 and King George II in 1750. The last named charter was confirmed by act of General Assembly of the colony in 1752. The original state constitution, and subsequent ones, have reaffirmed all the rights of the city granted previous to 1775. The first complete charter from the State was granted in 1813, and in 1830, and again in 1873, revised charters were passed. In 1882 the Consolidation act, embodying a complete revision of the New York City Charter, was passed, and remained in force until the beginning of the year 1898.

The charter provided for the city at the time of consolidation remained in force with minor amendments until Jan. 1, 1902, when the charter now in force and which was prepared by a legislative commission of which Geo. L. Rives was chairman, with the view of correcting mistakes in the first Greater New York Charter, went into effect.

The original incorporation of Brooklyn as a village was effected by legislative action in 1816. This act was repealed and a new one passed in 1827. The first charter of Brooklyn as a city was enacted in 1854. This charter was revised in 1850, and in 1854 a new charter, consolidating the cities of Brooklyn and Williamsburgh was adopted. This charter was revised in 1873, and again in 1888. The last revision was in force until the independent existence of the municipality ended with the year 1897. The first charter of Long Island City was enacted in 1870, and a new one was granted in 1871.

The amended Greater New York Charter follows, in the main, the lines of the charter of the old City of New York, with important provisions adapted from the Brooklyn charter and from those of other American and European cities. The greater part of it is the law as it has existed for half a century, and the chief change has been made necessary by the adoption of the borough system and the system of giving control to localities over their own affairs.

The charter is the governmental instrument for the territory embraced within the new limits of New York, comprising the former city of New York on Manhattan Island, and in Westchester County, the former City of Brooklyn, coterminous with the County of Kings, the entire County of Richmond and the portion of Queens County included in Long Island City, the towns of Newtown, Jamaica and Flushing, and a part of the town of Hempstead. This territory is divided into these five boroughs: Manhattan, comprising Manhattan and the adjacent smaller islands; The Bronx, including the part of the former City of New York in Westchester County north of the Harlem River and Spuyten Duyvil Creek, and the islands adjacent; Brooklyn, comprising the whole of Kings County; Queens, including the part of Queens County named in the act of annexation, revised by Legislature of 1899; and Richmond, which consists of the county of that name, including the whole of Staten Island.

THE MAYOR.

The executive power of the city is vested in the Mayor, the Presidents of the Boroughs and the officers of the departments. The Mayor is the chief executive officer and he is a magistrate. His term begins at noon on the first day of January after his election and continues for two years. He is eligible for re-election. The salary of the office is $15,000 per year. The Mayor appoints the heads of departments and commissioners, except those over which the Presidents of the Boroughs have jurisdiction, and except, also, the head of the Department of Finance. He can remove at any time any official appointed by him, except the members of the Board of Education and Aqueduct Commissioners, trustees of the College of the City of New York and trustees of some hospitals, and certain judicial officers. Himself can be removed from office by the Governor, after a hearing upon charges. His duties are to communicate to the Board of Aldermen, at least once a year, a statement of the finances, government and improvements of the city; to recommend to the same body such measures as he deems expedient; to keep himself informed of the work of all departments, and to be vigilant in enforcing ordinances and the laws of the State. Every three months he must report to the Board of Aldermen the expenses and receipts of his office, stating the salaries paid to and the nature of the duties of his clerks and subordinates, whom he has the power to appoint. The Mayor has the power of veto over all ordinances and resolutions of the Board of Aldermen, but if he does not disapprove they become laws after a lapse of ten days. An ordinance or resolution can be passed over the Mayor's veto by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to the Board of Aldermen, except that when it involves the expenditure of money, the creation of a debt, or the laying of an assessment, a three-fourths vote is required. The Mayor countersigns all warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the Chamberlain for payments on behalf of the corporation. He has also to sign all bonds, together with the Comptroller. In the absence or sickness of the Mayor the President of the Board of Aldermen is the Acting Mayor. He shall not appoint to, or remove from, office any official, unless the absence or sickness of the Mayor continues thirty days, nor shall he approve or disapprove any resolution or ordinance unless such absence or sickness continue nine days.

SETH LOW.

Seth Low, Mayor of New York City, taking office Jan. 1, 1902, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 18, 1850; son of Abiel Abbot Low, a wealthy tea importer of Brooklyn. He was graduated from Columbia College, N. Y., in 1870. Upon graduation he entered his father's establishment and rose through successive clerkships to membership in the firm in 1875. He rapidly achieved importance in the mercantile world, became a member of the Chamber of Commerce and other commercial bodies, and served on various important committees. In 1881 he became candidate upon an independent ticket for Mayor of Brooklyn, and achieved a pronounced victory over James Howell. In 1888 he was elected for a second term over Joseph C. Hendrix. Resuming business after a brief term abroad, he, in 1890, succeeded Dr. Barnard as president of Columbia College. The institution at once received new life and vigor. He reorganized its departments and has put the university upon a sound financial basis, and it was through his initiative efforts that the splendid group of college buildings, now being completed on the heights of Morningside Park,—the site alone valued at $2,000,000—was erected. In 1897 President Low was a candidate for Mayor of New York City on the Citizens' Union ticket, but suffered defeat, through the division of the anti-Tammany parties. In 1899 he served as delegate to the Disarmament Conference at The Hague. In the Mayoralty campaign in New York City in 1901 a complete fusion of the Republican party with the Citizens' Union and other reform and anti-Tammany elements having been effected, Mr. Low became the logical anti-Tammany candidate for Mayor, and, resigning the presidency of Columbia College, he accepted the nomination, winning success at the polls by 31,486 votes over Edward M. Shepard, the Tammany candidate.

OFFICE OF BOROUGH PRESIDENTS.

The Presidents of the Boroughs hold office for a term of two years. They have offices in the Borough Halls of their respective boroughs and are ex officio members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. In that board the Presidents of the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn have two votes each and the Presidents of the other boroughs one vote each. The President of the Borough presides over each local board in his borough. He has the right to vote in and of veto over the action of any local board. Each Borough President is a member of the Board of Aldermen and has the same right to vote as any member elected to the Board of Aldermen. The Borough President may appoint and at pleasure remove a Commissioner of Public Works for his borough, who may discharge all the administrative power of the President of the Borough relating to streets, sewers, public buildings and supplies, and who shall in the absence or illness of such president discharge the duties of such president. The President of the Borough has cognizance and control of all matters relating to the improvement and repair of streets and sewers. He has control of the public buildings within his borough, except schools, hospitals, fire and police stations, penitentiaries, etc. He is empowered to exercise the supervision vested in the city over the construction of buildings in this borough, except such powers as are directly vested in the Tenement House Commission, and to that end he is authorized to appoint a Superintendent of Buildings. In the Boroughs of Richmond and Queens the Presidents of the Boroughs, in addition to other powers, have jurisdiction over the cleaning of streets and the removal of ashes and garbage. The Secretary appointed by the Borough President acts also as Secretary of the local boards. The Borough Presidents have also the right to appoint the members of local school boards.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The legislative power of the City of New York is vested in the Board of Aldermen, consisting of 73 members elected from that number of aldermanic districts, of the President of the Board and the Presidents of the Boroughs. They are elected for a term of two years. The aldermen elected to the board are paid one thousand dollars per year and the president of the board paid five thousand dollars per year, and are elected on a general ticket by the voters of the city. Each head of an administrative department of the city entitled to a seat in the Board of Aldermen, shall attend its meetings when required by a board. He is required also to answer any quesons put to him by any member relating to the affairs of his department, providing he is given twenty-eight hours' notice that such a question is to be put. He is given a right to partake in the discussion of the Board, but no right to vote. No member elected to the Board of Aldermen is eligible to any other office under the city during the term for which he was elected. The Board is required to meet at least once a month except during the months of August and September. Resolutions and ordinances of the board must be passed by a vote of a majority of the members of the board. It cannot authorize the expenditure of any money for any celebration, processions, funeral, reception or entertainment, except by a vote of four-fifths of its membership. If resolution or ordinance of the Board of Aldermen is vetoed by the Mayor it can be repassed by a two-thirds vote; provided that in case of ordinance or resolution involves the expenditure of money, the collection of a debt, or the levying of an assessment a three-fourths vote is required. The Board of Aldermen is required to act within six weeks upon certain resolutions or votes of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment relative to the creation of a debt by the issue of bonds, the granting of a franchise and the right to use the streets, avenues, water works or highways of the city. If a majority of the Board of Aldermen votes against any such proposition it is deemed as rejected. If majority does not vote against such proposition within the six weeks specified, the proposition is regarded as having passed by the requisite vote of the board. The Board of Aldermen is authorized to fix salaries of all city employes other than laborers, teachers, examiners and members of the supervising staff of the Board of Education. Such action, however, can only be taken upon the recommendation of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and the Board of Aldermen cannot increase any salary recommended by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, but may decrease any salary recommended. In case, however, of the board voting to reduce any salary, the Mayor may veto such action.

THE LOCAL BOARDS.

The districts of local improvements in the entire city are numbered 1 to 25 and each in addition is given a name by which it will be known. (See Page 101). The President of the Borough as chairman and the Alderman residing in each local improvement district constitute local board. The local boards are empowered to initiate such improvements as grading and paving streets and constructing sewers, subject to the approval of the Board of Estimate, if they involve an assessment. If the improvement involves a cost of more than five hundred thousand dollars it must be approved by the Board of Aldermen. When the cost of flagging sidewalks, grading lots or fencing is less than two thousand dollars the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is not necessary, and it then becomes the duty of the Borough President to execute the work. In all other matters resolutions of the local boards must be approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and in some instances by the Board of Aldermen also, and when so approved the resolution of approval is transmitted to the Borough President who then directs the execution of the work. The local boards are also authorized to hear complaints of nuisances in streets or against disorderly houses, drinking saloons conducted without the observance of licenses, gambling houses or other matter concerning the peace or good government and concerning the condition of the poor within their respective districts. In such matters they are empowered to pass such resolutions as may not be inconsistent with the powers of the Board of Aldermen or with the respective administrative powers of the City of New York.

HOW TO OBTAIN LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS.

All petitions for local improvements should be addressed to the President of the Borough, for presentation in the Local Board having jurisdiction. Petitions for original improvements, such as grading and paving and the construction of sewers and for the opening of streets should be signed by a majority of the property owners, or by the owners of a majority of the property along the line of the proposed improvement; although in case of public necessity for the improvement it may be ordered, even if a majority of the property owners assessable do not petition for it. If the Local Board, after hearing, approves any proposed original improvement it forwards a proper resolution to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and to the Board of Aldermen, if required, and when that Board approves, the result of its action is transmitted to the Borough President, who then executes the work. Assessments on such improvements are not levied until after the work is completed, and the city loans its credit for doing the work by issuing assessment bonds. When the work is finished and assessments levied, 7 per cent. interest is charged until assessments are paid.

Repaying is done at the expense of the city at large, unless a majority of property owners by petition offer to bear a part or all of the expense.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

Stewart Building, Chambers st. and Broadway Manhattan.

The Comptroller of New York City is the head of the Department of Finance, which has control of the fiscal affairs of the corporation. His term of office is two years from noon on the first day of January succeeding his election, and he may be removed from office by the Governor upon charges and a hearing. Any vacancy in the office is to be filled by the Mayor. The salary of the office is $15,000 a year. The Comptroller is ex officio a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the Aqueduct Commission, the Board of City Record, the Bank Commission, the Board of Revision of Assessments, the Rapid Transit Railroad Commission and the Sinking Fund Commission. He has power to appoint deputies, who shall have all the powers and duties of the Comptroller for a period not exceeding three months whenever so designated in writing by the Comptroller. He also appoints the heads of the bureau for the collection of city revenue who is also Superintendent of Markets; of the bureau for the collection of taxes; of the bureau for the collection of assessments and arrears; of the auditing bureau in his department.

There is another bureau in the Comptroller's office for the reception and safe keeping of moneys paid into the treasury and for the payment of money on warrants drawn by the Comptroller and countersigned by the Mayor. At the head of this is the Chamberlain, but he is appointed by the Mayor and serves during the pleasure of the Mayor. He gives a bond of $300,000 and receives a salary of $12,000 a year. He shall receive all moneys paid into the treasury. He shall pay all warrants issued by the Comptroller and countersigned by the Mayor. The receiver of taxes and the collector of assessments and arrears each give a bond for $25,000 to be approved by the Comptroller and City Chamberlain. Each has his chief office in Manhattan and a branch office in each of the other boroughs where taxes and assessments upon property are payable.

The Comptroller is authorized to advertise proposals for the purchase of bonds and stocks of the city. All bonds issued after January 1, 1902, except assessment and revenue bonds, shall be known as "corporate stock of the City of New York." For its redemption and payment the faith and credit of the city are pledged. The form the same shall be designated by the Comptroller and be signed by him and the Mayor and sealed with the city seal and attested by the City Clerk. In coupon form the stocks shall be in sums of less than $500 each share, or it may be registered, and it shall be redeemable in not more than ten nor more than 50 years after date, to be paid in gold coin or in the legal currency of the United States, at the option of the Commission of the Sinking Fund. Bonds may be issued in registered form in denominations of $10 or any multiple thereof. Revenue bonds, to be redeemed from the proceeds of the tax levy, may be issued to meet the expenditures under the appropriations each current year. Special revenue bonds may be issued for certain specified purposes. When authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the Comptroller can issue assessment bonds to meet expenses incurred in regulating paving streets, building sewers and all other work

DEPARTMENT OF WATER SUPPLY, GAS AND ELECTRICITY.

Office, 15th floor, 21 Park row, Manhattan.

The Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity has charge of all property connected with the supply and distribution of water for public use; the maintenance of the supply; the collection of water revenue, and the enforcement of regulations concerning the use of water. He has power throughout the State, with the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, with the concurrence of the Board of Aldermen, to select the sources of water supply for the city. The Commissioner may spend not more than two million dollars annually to extend the water service, with the consent of the Board of Estimate, without concurrence of the Board of Aldermen. Also may use the water income in Brooklyn in the same manner to improve the service in that borough. He executes contracts, when authorized, for the lighting of the city, and has certain powers of inspection over gas and electricity used for lighting, heating and power purposes.

DEPARTMENT OF FIRE.

157-159 E. 67th st., Manhattan.

The Fire Commissioner is the head of the Fire Department. His salary is $7,500 a year. He is required to appoint a deputy, whose office shall be in Brooklyn. The members of the three cities consolidated are made members of the Fire Department with the same rank and grade as before. The Commissioner is treasurer of the department and has to give a bond of $20,000. He is also trustee of the Fire Department Relief Fund. He possesses all powers and performs all duties for the government, management, maintenance and direction of the department, which has sole and exclusive power and authority to extinguish fires in the city. The Commissioner has power to select the heads of bureaus and assistants and as many officers and firemen as may be necessary, but the assignments of duty of the uniformed force are to be recommended by the chief of the department. The Commissioner prescribes the rules and regulations for the government of the department. He is to appoint a Fire Marshal for Manhattan, The Bronx and Richmond and a Fire Marshal to be seated in Brooklyn and to exercise his powers in Brooklyn and Queens, each with a salary of $3,000, and empowered to inquire into the origin of fires. A pension bureau is connected with the department. A tax may be laid on the business of foreign insurance companies, which shall go to this pension fund.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

Clerk's Office, 280 Broadway, Manhattan.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment consists of the Mayor, Comptroller, President of the Board of Aldermen and Presidents of the Boroughs. The Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen have three votes each; the Presidents of the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn two votes each, and the Presidents of the other Boroughs one vote each. Between the 1st day of October and the 1st day of November the Board of Estimate and Apportionment prepares a budget of the amounts estimated to be required to pay the expenses of the city during the coming year. When such budget is prepared it is submitted to the Board of Aldermen, which may decrease any appropriation but may not increase any appropriation. In case of a decrease of an appropriation by the Board of Aldermen, such action is reviewable by the Mayor, and if he vetoes such action, it can be overridden only by a three-fourths vote of the Board of Aldermen. The Board of Estimate also succeeds to all the powers of the Board of Public Improvements not transferred to the Presidents of the Boroughs or other officials. In important instances the Board of Estimate and Apportionment may issue bonds for public improvements, without the concurrence of the Board of Aldermen.

The Children's Court.

11th st. and 3d av.

The establishment of this court is authorized by Section No. 1,399 of the new charter, which directs that a separate court for children under 16 years old shall be maintained, and all children brought before magistrates of the First Division shall be transferred to this court, where a regular magistrate shall hear the case.

The object of the children's court is to prevent children who are arrested for trifling offenses from coming in contact with older and more hardened criminals, whom they are likely to meet at the regular courts. The number of children under 16 who are annually brought before city courts is estimated to be more than ten thousand. This number does not include dependent children who are attended to by the Charity Department and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Police Clerk of Children's Court, Edmund E. Lee, $2,500.

STATISTICS OF INDUSTRIAL COMBINATIONS, 1900.

Census statistics on industrial combinations show a total authorized capitalization of $3,607,539,200 for the 183 corporations reported May 31, 1900. The capital stock issued was $3,085,200,868. Of this total he authorized capital includes $270,127,250 in bonds, $1,259,540,900 in preferred stock, and $2,077,871,050 in common stock. The capital stock comprises 216,412,759 in bonds, $1,066,525,963 in preferred stock, and $1,802,262,146 common stock.

The total value of all the products of the combinations is $1,661,295,364, and after subtracting he value of the products of the hand trades, or mechanical and neighborhood industries, which amount to $1,216,165,160, the products of the industrial combinations in 1900 is found equivalent to more than 20 per cent. of the total gross products of the manufacturing industries of the country as they existed in 1890. The 183 corporations reported employed an average of 399,192 wage earners, receiving $194,534,515 in wages. Employment also was given to 24,585 salaried officials, receiving a total of $32,653,628 in salaries.

Miscellaneous expenses of the combinations aggregated $151,851,077, and the total cost of material used was $1,085,083,828. The gross value of products, less the value of material purchased in partly manufactured form, gives the net or true value of products of these combinations as $1,051,815,586. This represents the increase in the value of the raw materials resulting from the various processes of manufacture.

Control of 2,029 plants that were active during he census year and 174 that were idle during that period was reported. The returns show an average of 11 active plants to each corporation.

The statistics exclude all corporations manufacturing and distributing gas and electric light and power, as it is impossible to trace all of the latter, and they do not generally possess the same economic significance. The returns show that he iron and steel industry is at the head of the list, with a gross product of $508,626,482, which is more than double the value of the product of any other group, except food and kindred products, and represents nearly one-third of the total gross value of products of all the industrial combinations.

The capital invested and the value of products in the various classes of industrial combinations

THE JUDICIARY.
Courts.

The courts having jurisdiction are the Supreme Court, County Court and the Surrogate's Court.

The Supreme Court is the highest court of original jurisdiction in all actions in law and equity and in criminal cases. The County of Kings forms a part of the Second Judicial District and of the Second Appellate Department of the State.

The County Court has jurisdiction of all actions for partition of real property; for dower, foreclosure of a mortgage, etc.; for specific performance of a contract relating to real property where the real property is situated in the county; in an action to foreclose a lien not exceeding $1,000 on a chattel when the chattel is found in the county, in favor of the executor, administrator or assignee of a judgment creditor, etc.; for any other cause where the defendant or all the defendants are residents of the county at the time of beginning the action, when judgment is demanded for money only, not exceeding $2,000, or to recover chattel or chattels not exceeding in value $1,000; to the custody of the person and care of the property concurrently with the Supreme Court, if the person is a resident of the county, etc.

The court has jurisdiction over all criminal cases. Its jurisdiction is coextensive with that of the criminal branch of the Supreme Court.

The Surrogate's Court has jurisdiction in all matters appertaining to the estates of deceased persons who were at demise residents of Kings County; or where the deceased, not being a resident of State, died within the county, leaving personal property within the State; or where the deceased, not being a resident of the state, died without the State, leaving personal property within this county and no other; or where the deceased was not, at the time of his death, a resident of the State, but died possessed of real estate in this county, and no other.

Stenographers, G. L. Betts, Herbert A. Briggs, each $3,000, and 5 attendants, $1,800 each.

CALENDAR PRACTICE.

Beginning with January term, sixteen copies of the cases and points must be delivered to the clerk before commencement of argument.

When an appellant is in default the appeal may, without previous notice, be dismissed on motion when the case is reached for argument, and when a respondent is in default he will not be heard except by leave of the court. This rule does not apply to appeals from Municipal Courts.

(1) Appeals from orders, heard as non-enumerated motions, will be placed upon a separate calendar and called upon the first day of the term. (2) A new calendar will be made for January term and calendars for subsequent terms are made up by adding to the calendar of the previous term all new appeals. (3) Appeals for orders will also be heard on the third Monday of each term, in which the terms of the court are appointed to be held and notices of argument may be given for such day, and the calendar for such day will consist of causes not called on the first Monday, and other causes in which the appeal papers and affidavit of service thereof have been filed with the clerk. (4) The day calendar for the first and third Mondays of the term will consist of non-enumerated causes only. For other days it will consist of twelve causes, which will be placed thereon from the general calendar in their numerical order. (5) Causes can be reserved by consent for a day subsequent to the time when they would be reached in their order only when stipulation to that effect is filed with the clerk before the day calendar is made up (1 o'clock P. M.). (6) Motions, other than appeals from orders, will be heard on the first and third Mondays of the term, and notice of issue therefor must be filed with the clerk at least two days before the time for which they are noticed. (7) Notes of issue in appeals from orders must be placed on non-enumerated calendar. The party intending to move such an appeal shall, at least eight days before the making of the calendar, file with the clerk a note of issue specifying date of service of notice of appeal. Papers required by General Rule 41 must be filed with the clerk before cause is put on either calendar. (8) Preferred causes must be in note of issue state claim for preference, or if, in an order giving cause, preference has been made, the note of issue must be accompanied with copy of such order. (9) Appeals in criminal causes brought after making calendar or too late to put on calendar may be put on calendar at any time and brought on for hearing as preferred causes upon 10 days' notice to the adverse party. The note of issue must be filed 5 days before cause is heard. (10) In order to facilitate the work of the reporter the counsel who argues the cause orally shall indorse his name on upper right hand corner of first page of brief. (11) Motions for re-argument will be heard only on notice to the adverse party, stating briefly the ground upon which a re-argument is asked, and such motions must be submitted upon printed briefs, stating the points supposed to have been overlooked or misapprehended by the court, with proper reference to the particular portion of the case and the authorities relied on; and a copy of the opinion delivered by the court in deciding the cause; and counsel will not be heard orally. (12) When statute is cited so much thereof as may be deemed necessary to the decision of the case should be printed at length on the brief.

Rule governing admission of attorneys in 2d Dept.—Notice of time of application for admission as attorneys will be published in the "Law Journal," when applicant must file with clerk papers enumerated under Rule 1 of General Rules of Practice, appear personally before committee on character.

THE JUDICIARY.

The Courts.

The courts having jurisdiction in New York County are: Supreme Court, Surrogate's Court, City Court of the City of New York. The Supreme Court is the highest court of original jurisdiction in all actions in law and equity and in criminal cases. The County of New York forms the First Appellate Division of the Supreme Court and the First Judicial District. The Supreme Court is divided into four parts—special terms for trials, of which there are eight parts, and trial terms of which there are twelve parts; supreme court, criminal branch; appellate term, to try appeals from City and Municipal Courts; appellate division, to hear appeals from the special and trial terms and from the appellate terms; also from the Surrogate's Court of New York County, and the courts of general and special sessions (criminal).

The City Court has jurisdiction in common law actions involving property to the value of $2,000.

The Surrogate's Court has the same jurisdiction in New York County as Surrogate in Kings County, which see.

There are eleven Municipal Courts in Manhattan and two in The Bronx having jurisdiction in civil cases involving property to the value of $250.

The Court of General Sessions has jurisdiction as a city court in criminal cases.

The Court of Special Sessions, held by 3 city magistrates, tries cases without jury for minor causes.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD TUNNEL.

The Pennsylvania Railroad project of tunneling under the North and East Rivers, the Boroughs of Manhattan and Queens, giving a continuous track connection between the Pennsylvania and Long Island railroads, with a central station in the Borough of Manhattan and a terminal emergence of the tunnel system at a point near Thompson ave., Long Island City, in Queens, was made public Dec. 12, 1901. The plan, devised by Charles M. Jacobs, consulting engineer of the L. I. R. R., and Chief Engineer of the Pennsylvania New York Extension Railroad Co., a company organized for the purpose of constructing the tunnel system and capitalized at $1,000,000, calls for at least five tubes; three, 18 ft. 6 in. inside diameter, 100 ft. below high tide, resting on pile piers at short intervals driven down to rock bottom under the North River, and two similar tubes at rock bottom under the East River, each tube holding a single track. The tunnel system will converge at a central station located in a space between 7th and 10th aves., Manhattan. The station structure, designed after the Quai d'Orsay, Paris, but twice as large, will be 1,500 ft. in length by 500 ft. in width, three deked, inclose 25 tracks at tunnel level which will be approached by gradual carriage drive and walkway. The tunnel tube will be laid below 31st st. in Manhattan, and underneath L. I. City, in Queens, and will be laid at a sufficient depth to avoid all possible interference with subways or foundations. A second central station is contemplated for Brooklyn Borough in East New York. The entire length of the tunnel system will be 15 miles, cost in round numbers not over $50,000,000, without a cent's expense or inconvenience to the City of New York, and will be completed within three years' time from securing permits from the city.

A Wealthy Indian Tribe.

The Osage Indians of Oklahoma, numbering 1,970 own $3,000,000 cash on deposit in Washington, 1 C. N., and one and a half millions of acres of land worth over another $3,000,000. Their realty holdings give a per capita wealth of $4,000 for every man, woman and child of the tribe. The interest on their cash deposits in Washington affords annually a little over $300 cash to every man, woman and child, as all their holdings are in common. They are the richest people on the face of the earth.

ANALYSIS OF BUDGET FOR BOROUGH PRESIDENTS FOR 1902.

The new city charter of 1901, in changing the administration of certain departments to the different Borough Presidents, necessitated a careful estimate of the expense of conducting the various new bureaus by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in making up the budget for 1902. The Board appointed Deputy Comptroller J. Edgar Levy and Commissioner of Accounts John C. Hertle a committee to prepare estimates of the amounts to be appropriated for the administration of the office of President in each Borough. The following tables, based upon the pay rolls for August, 1901, show the results of their investigation:

A statement applying the charter of 1901 to the appropriations made for 1901 for those departments whose powers will be exercised by Borough Presidents after January 1, 1902, and showing distribution of those appropriations.

TAXATION STATISTICS, 1901.

Information for Tax-Payers.

DIRECTIONS AS TO THE PAYMENT OF TAXES.

Persons applying for bills of taxes are requested to state whether the tax is upon personal or real estate; and before paying any tax bill the same should be carefully examined, to see that it embraces all the property on which taxes are intended to be paid, and that there are no mistakes in the ward, block and lot numbers of the real estate stated thereon.

Real estate is described and distinguished on the maps kept in the office of the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments, by a separate ward, block and lot number, and persons applying for tax bills on real estate should be careful to state the correct ward, block and lot numbers, as shown on the maps, which can be readily referred to by applicants for bills before making payments.

The Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments have power to correct an erroneous assessment on real estate before the collection of the tax. The application therefor must be made to the Commissioners within six months from the time the tax books are delivered to the receiver for collection.

Persons who pay their taxes before the first day of November next are entitled to a discount at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, to be computed from the time of payment to the first day of December next succeeding. Bills must be rebated before drawing check in payment.

Penalties for non-payment—If any tax is not paid before the first day of December, 1 per cent. will be added to it. If not paid before the first day of January, interest is charged at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum from the day the books are delivered to the Receiver of Taxes. If personal taxes are not paid by the 15th day of January the Receiver may issue his warrant to the Marshal for their collection by distress and sale.

Real estate taxes not paid before June 1st will be returned to the Bureau for the Collection of Arrears.

McKinley Memorial Association.

At the request of Mrs. McKinley, President Roosevelt appointed a board of twenty-one trustees from fifteen states to collect funds for the erection of a monument at Canton, O., to the late President. The board organized with Wm. R. Day, of Ohio, Pres.; Myron T. Herick, Ohio, Treas.; Ryerson Ritchie, Sec. The purposes of the association are the erection and maintenance at Canton, O., of a suitable memorial to the late President and raising the necessary funds for said purposes, and after fully providing therefor, the surplus, if any, to be devoted to a memorial at the National Capitol. The officers of the New York branch organization are Gov. Benj. B. Odell, Pres.; James G. Cannon, Sec.

The School Ship "St. Marys."

The object of this school is to provide officers for the merchant marine. The course is two years and there is no expense attached to it beyond the sum of $25, which must be deposited upon admission. For this the student is provided with uniforms and board, instructed in common school branches and given instruction and training in seamanship and navigation. Two summer cruises are taken in foreign waters, and during this period the senior class is provided with sextants, chronometers and charts, and each one has to navigate the ship, finding the latitude and longitude by observations of the sun, moon, planets or stars, plotting each day's position on the chart from the time the ship leaves Montauk Point in May until she returns in October. About April 20 the ship goes into Long Island Sound for a month of exercise. The ship then proceeds to set, and usually touches at some of the following ports: Azores Islands; Southampton, England; Cherbourg, France; Lisbon, Portugal; Cadiz, Spain; Gibraltar and the Madeira Islands. The rest of the summer is spent in practical exercises on our coast until the middle of October, when the vessel returns to her dock in New York.

Forest Areas.

Forty-six per cent. of the upland in the State of New Jersey is in forest, the total area of wood-land being 2,069,819 acres, or nearly equal to the 2,424,731 acres of cleared upland. This is more than the average of forest area. Massachusetts has 51 per cent. of forest, New York 34, Connecticut 39, Pennsylvania 45, Delaware 32 and Maryland 39.

The chimney of the Royal Saxon Smelting Works at Halsbrucke, Freiberg, Saxony, is the highest chimney in the world, rising 429 feet and 6 inches above the valley. A flue thence connecting it with a second chimney upon an adjoining hill top gives an efficient draft height of over 656 feet. The smokestack of the Oxford Copper Company, Bay-onne, N. J., is 360 feet high.

U. S. Vital Statistics.

Comparison of death rates in the United States between 1890 and 1900 in cities of 8,000 inhabitants and more, issued by the U. S. Census Bureau, shows the average death age of Americans to be 35.2 years in 1900, as against 31.1 in 1890, a gain in longevity of 13 per cent. The death rate from consumption was 245.4 for every 10,000 persons in 1890 and only 190.5 in 1900. From pneumonia there were 191.9 deaths among every 10,000 people in 1900 and only 186.9 in 1890. The difference puts this disease slightly ahead of consumption as a destroyer of human life.

WATER SUPPLY OF NEW YORK CITY.

BROOKLYN.

Brooklyn's water supply is obtained from streams that drain the portion of the southern slope of Long Island lying west of Amityville, supplemented by wells driven at different points in same territory. The water is delivered into iron pipes or brick conduits, which conduct it to the main pumping station at Ridgewood. Here it is raised to the Ridgewood reservoirs, having a capacity of about 300,000,000 gallons, and from them is passed into distribution mains supplying the greater part of the borough. A portion of Brooklyn, near Prospect Park, gets its water from Mount Prospect reservoir and tower, near the park, the water being raised from Ridgewood by an additional pumping. The supply system includes $7\frac{1}{2}$ miles of brick conduit from Massapequa pond to Millburn engine house, $\frac{1}{2}$ miles of cast iron pipe from Millburn engine house to Smith's pond, and $12\frac{1}{2}$ miles each of cast iron pipe and brick conduit from Smith's pond to Ridgewood pumping station. From Ridgewood engine house 6 force mains lead to the reservoir. Along the conduit lines are 14 driven well stations, one pond pumping station and a station at Millburn that raises the water delivered there from the east to a higher level. The gravity supply is obtained from 12 ponds, having an aggregate storage capacity of about 1,060,000,000 gallons. On Jan. 1, 1901, the Ridgewood, New Utrecht and Gravesend distribution systems consisted of about 607 miles of distribution mains, with 5,109 stopcocks and 6,480 fire hydrants. The Ridgewood pumping station has 10 engines, with a pumping capacity of about 140,000,000 gallons daily.

There are four other plants within Brooklyn, deriving their supply from driven wells—the Flatbush Water Works, owned by a private company, and supplying the 29th Ward; the New Lots, Gravesend, and New Utrecht plants, now owned by Brooklyn, supplying the 26th, 30th and 31st Wards. The New Lots plant is located on New Lots av., at the head of Fresh Creek; it has 2 engines, one of 3,000,000 gallons and one of 3,500,000 gallons daily capacity; about 45 miles of distributing mains and a reservoir of about 5,000,000 gallons capacity; the average daily consumption is about 3,700,000 gallons. The Flatbush Water Works are located at the head of Paerdegat Creek; there are 1 5,000,000-gallon and 2 3,000,000-gallon engines, a standpipe at Franklin and Washington avs., and about 50 miles of distributing mains; the average daily consumption is about 2,200,000 gallons. The New Utrecht plant is located at E. 14th st. and Avenue U; there are 1 1,500,000 and 2 2,000,000-gallon engines; the consumption is about 2,000,000 gallons daily. The Gravesend plant is at E. 17th st. and Av. R; it has 2 engines, the average daily consumption being about 2,900,000 gallons. The average daily consumption from the Ridgewood, Gravesend, New Utrecht and New Lots systems in 1901 was about 96,000,000 gallons.

MANHATTAN AND THE BRONX.

The water supply of Manhattan is received from the Croton watershed, thirty miles north of the borough. The capacity of the aqueducts and reservoirs is 380,000,000 gallons per day. In Bronx the territory west of the Bronx River is supplied from the Bronx and Byram River watersheds, through a pipe conduit 15 miles in length from the storage reservoir at Kensico to the receiving and distributing reservoirs at Williamsbridge, from which the maximum capacity is 200,000,000 gallons per day. The Williamsbridge reservoir has a capacity of 140,000,000 gallons. The territory east of the Bronx River is supplied by the New York and Westchester Water Company. The work of constructing the reservoirs and mains was begun in 1835 by an act of the Legislature. The system was completed in 1842 and the water was turned on on the 4th of July of that year. The conduit from the Croton Dam to 135th st. gate house is 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles. The new Croton Aqueduct was opened July 29, 1890, and has a capacity of 300,000,000 gallons. High Bridge has a reservoir with 10,000,000 gallons. The reservoir in Central Park will hold 1,000,000 gallons, and the receiving reservoir below it 150,000,000 gallons more. The system of water mains in Manhattan and Bronx now includes 867 miles of water mains, with 11,822 fire hydrants. The combined storage capacity of the reservoirs in the Croton, Bronx and Byram River sheds is 44,000,000,000 gallons.

The main wall of the Croton dam is 200 ft. thick at the bottom, 1,000 ft. long, with a spillway of 1,000 ft., making an extended masonry of 2,000 ft.; is embedded 150 ft. under ground, is 150 ft. high above ground, 216 ft. above tide water and 100 ft. above the reservoir in Central Park. The dam was commenced in 1892, and is to be completed in 1905. The estimated cost was $4,150,573. The actual cost will be upward of $5,000,000. It will have a storage capacity of 30 billions of gallons, and the lake, when the water rises to the spillway, will be between 19 and 20 miles long.

RICHMOND.

There are 4 water plants in the borough, one of which is owned by the city. This plant is located at Tottenville. It has a capacity of 864,000 gallons per day; capacity of stand pipe, 140,000 gallons, and the daily consumption is about 110,000 gallons. The water is drawn from 4 driven wells. The system has $5\frac{1}{2}$ miles of mains and 61 fire hydrants. The other 3 plants are private enterprises and comprise the following: Crystal Water Co. at Stapleton, supplying village of Edgewater and towns of Southfield, Northfield and Middletown, outside of incorporated villages; the South Shore Water Co. at New Dorp, and Staten Island Water Supply Co. at New Brighton, supplying villages of New Brighton and Port Richmond and town of Northfield.

The Crystal Water Co. has capacity of 5,000,000 and daily consumption of 2,500,000 gallons.

The South Shore Water Supply Co. has a pumping capacity of 90,000 and consumption of 36,000 gallons per day.

The Staten Island Water Supply Co. has a pumping capacity of 8,000,000 gallons and consumption of 4,000,000 gallons per day; has 70 miles of mains. The water comes from artesian wells.

There are in the borough 132 miles of water mains, 991 fire hydrants and 75 draw hydrants. The city pays $25 per year each for 570 fire hydrants, $30 per year each for 339 fire hydrants, $40 per year each for 21 fire hydrants and $30 per year each for 65 draw hydrants.

QUEENS.

There are 7 water plants owned by the city, 3 in the 1st Ward (Long Island City), 4 in the 3d Ward (Flushing, College Point, and Whitestone). The total pumping capacity is 16,000,000 gallons per day, and the capacity of the wells but 5,000,000 gallons per day. The public water system includes 84 miles of mains, 606 fire hydrants, 454 stop cocks, and 7,200 houses are supplied from this system. A considerable portion of the borough, however, is supplied by private water companies. Three million gallons are furnished to the 1st Ward by Citizens' Water Supply Co. The city pays to these companies at the rate of $20 to $25 per year each for following hydrants: Queens County Water Co., 254 hydrants; Woodhaven Water Co., 484 hydrants; Citizens' Water Supply Co., 393 hydrants; Jamaica Water Supply Co., 640 hydrants.

The water supply of Jamaica has its source in driven wells located near the village. The daily pumping capacity is 3,500,000 gallons; daily consumption is 2,000,000 gallons and annual consumption is 750,000,000. There are 60 miles of mains.

The water supply of Flushing is derived from 26 driven wells at Bay Side. The capacity is 2,000,000 gallons daily and the daily consumption is about 1,100,000. This is a city plant.

The water supply of the town of Newtown is derived from 177 driven wells. The Citizens' Water Supply Co. has 5 pumping stations, with a total pumping capacity of 16,000,000 gallons per day. The stations are situated as follows: No. 1, at Clermont av., Elmhurst, the capacity of which is 3,750,000 gallons, from 28 driven wells; No. 2 is at Trains Meadow, Woodside, with a capacity of 5,000,000 gallons, from 90 driven wells; No. 3 is at Willow Glen, near Jamaica, with a capacity of 4,000,000 gallons, from 29 driven wells; No. 4 is located on the Backus Farm, at Whitepot, and has a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons, derived from 16 driven wells; No. 5 is on the Backus Farm, Hoffman boulevard, with a capacity of 1,750,000 gallons, derived from 14 driven wells. The system has about 70 miles of mains, with 400 hydrants and 2,600 private consumers, beside supplying the 1st Ward, Borough of Queens, with 3,700,000 gallons daily. The average daily output is 7,000,000 gallons, but the pumping capacity is 16,000,000 gallons.

GUIDE TO THE BROOKLYN NAVY YARD.

The Brooklyn Navy Yard was established Feb. 23, 1801, when the first land, consisting of 30 acres, was bought from John Jackson for $40,000. It now comprises 144 acres, situated on Wallabout Channel of the East River, and has a water front of nearly 3 miles. The main entrance is at Sands and Navy sts., and was opened in 1896. The water front of the Navy Yard is protected by a sea wall of granite about 3 miles in length.

The ship of the line "Ohio" was the first vessel built in this Yard, and the "Maine," which was blown up in Havana harbor, was the last vessel constructed here. In 1815 the "Fulton," the first steam war vessel, was built at the Yard after plans prepared by Robert Fulton.

The Navy Yard is open daily, except Sundays and holidays, from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M., when any one may enter and inspect the place. Passes to visit the Yard must be obtained by letters addressed to the "Captain of the Yard." Permission to visit ships must be obtained from their commanding officers. A "Special" pass is necessary on Sundays and on holidays.

Main st. extends from the main gate to the water front. Passing the guard house, the first building at the left is the Commandant's residence. The Lyceum, or Commandant's office, is a three story structure. It contains the offices of the Captain of the Yard, the Commandant and Aides, examination and courts-martial room, where the records of the Yard are preserved. Trophy Park, adjoining the Commandant's office, is filled with relics. In front of the Commandant's office are a number of relics of the Spanish-American War, taken in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

The small octagonal building near the Sands st. entrance is the office of the chemist. The building for provisions and clothing is just below the old octagon-shaped office building of the Surgeon of the Yard. In this building is cut out by machinery all the clothing used in the Navy, except that worn by officers. In this building and adjoining it are stored clothing and supplies. It is in one of these buildings that all the coffee used by the Navy is roasted, ground, put up in tins, and all canned goods, hard tack, and condensed goods are received here from the wholesale houses.

The work-shops, machine-shops and foundries are on Chauncey, Warrington and Morris av.

Building No. 7 contains the flag loft, where all flags and bunting used by the United States Navy, as well as flags of other nations, are made. Other buildings on this avenue are the blacksmiths' shop, paint shop, yard and docks, construction department and steam engineering department. The machine shop for the steam engineering department is near the Flushing av. entrance. On Morris av. are a joiners' shop, offices, boat house, and plating shops.

The Cob Dock is an artificial island, separated from the main Navy Yard by Wallabout Channel, contains 19 acres, and used for storage purposes.

On the Cob Dock, just beyond the receiving ship "Columbia," is the meteorite, brought from the Arctic regions by Lieut. Peary in 1897. The ordnance dock is also here. Moored to the Cob Dock is the cruiser "Columbia," used as a receiving ship. All enlistments are made on board. The old receiving ship "Vermont," condemned and out of commission, is moored to the dock.

There are three dry docks along the Wallabout Channel, known as Stone Dry Docks Nos. 1 and 2, and Timber Dry Dock No. 3. Around these dry docks are 18-foot railway tracks on which 2 40-ton lifting cranes travel.

The marine barracks and drill yard are located along Flushing av.

The only department outside the enclosure is the Naval Hospital on Flushing av., consisting of 15 acres, and contains the Naval Cemetery.

One of the most curious attractions is the first submarine boat built in the United States, which lies on the Cob Dock. It was constructed under an agreement with Cornelius S. Bushnell, Augustus Rice and others living in New Jersey. The first contract was signed for its construction Nov. 2, 1863. The Government spent $30,000 on the boat, which cost over $60,000. A man named Halstead, of Newark, N. J., completed the boat. Secretary of the Navy George M. Robeson appointed a Naval Board and ordered a test made of the submarine boat. The name "Intelligent Whale" was then painted on the boat, which was brought to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, but beyond a preliminary test nothing was ever done with it by the government.

 Elevated railroad companies, $250 per day.

Statistics of the Structure.

Construction commenced January 3, 1870. Bridge opened to the public May 24, 1883. Railroad opened September 24, 1883. Size of Manhattan caisson, 172x102 feet. Size of Brooklyn caisson, 165x102 feet. Manhattan tower contains 46,945 cubic yards masonry. Brooklyn tower contains 38,214 cubic yards masonry. Depth of tower foundation below high water, Brooklyn, 45 feet. Depth of tower foundation below high water, Manhattan, 78 feet. Size of towers, high water line, 140x59 feet. Size of towers at roof course, 136x53 feet. Height of towers above high water, 272 feet. Clear height of Bridge in center of river span above high water, at 90 deg. F., 135 feet. Height of floors at towers above high water, 119 feet 3 inches. Grade of roadway, 3/4 feet in 100 feet. Height of towers above roadway 152 feet 9 inches. Weight of each anchor plate, 23 tons. Diameter of each cable, 15 1/2 inches. First wire was run out May 29, 1877. Length of each single wire, 3,578 feet 6 inches. Ultimate strength of each cable, 12,200 tons. Weight of wire, 11 feet per pound. Each cable contains 5,296 parallel (not twisted) galvanized steel, oil coated wires, closely wrapped to a solid cylinder, 15 1/2 inches diameter. Permanent weight suspended from cables, 14,680 tons. Width of Bridge, 85 feet. Length of river span, 1,595 feet 6 inches. Length of each land span, 930 feet. Length of Brooklyn approach, 971 feet. Length of Manhattan approach, 1,562 feet 6 inches. Total length of carriageway, 5,889 feet. Total length with extensions, 6,537 feet. Length of driving cable, 11,600 feet. Speed of trains, 12 miles an hour. Original cost of construction, $15,000,000.

During 1900 1,348,864 trolley round trips were made on the structure. It is estimated that the number of people who crossed the Bridge during the year 1900 was not less than one hundred millions. An accurate count taken Sept. 4, 1901, gave the following result:

Number of people carried in Bridge trains, 114,464; carried in trolley cars, 168,695; total, 283,159. To this should be added the people crossing on foot and by the carriageway, so that it is estimated that on that day about 300,000 people passed through the Manhattan terminal of the bridge.

East River Bridges Nos. 3 and 4.

Bridges Nos. 3 and 4 over the East River were begun under the Van Wyck administration. On November 30, 1898, Mayor Van Wyck submitted proposals to the Board of Public Improvements that a third bridge between Manhattan and Brooklyn be authorized and one between Manhattan and Queens Borough. Action was taken by that body, which ordered the preparation of preliminary plans for both proposed structures. On July 1, 1899, Richard S. Buck was appointed chief engineer of these bridges at a salary of $5,000 per annum.

On December 2, 1899, Chief Engineer Buck submitted to Bridge Commissioner Shea, who forwarded to the Secretary of War, plans for a steel suspension bridge between Canal st. and the Bowery, in Manhattan, and Willowby st., between Gold and Prince sts., Brooklyn. $50,000 of bonds for preliminary surveys and $1,000,000 for construction had been duly authorized. On Jan. 8, 1900, the ordinance authorizing construction of the bridge was approved by Mayor Van Wyck and on Jan. 29 the Secretary of War approved the plans. The estimated cost was fixed at $15,833,600, of which $9,552,000 was for the structure and $4,000,000 for land required in Manhattan and $2,281,600 for land in Brooklyn.

On Jan. 18, 1901, proceedings for the condemnation of land required for the Brooklyn tower foundations and land span were instituted, and in April Commissioner Shea asked the Board of Estimate to authorize bonds to the amount of $3,240,545 to pay for the land required for and the construction of the Manhattan tower foundation and the Manhattan and Brooklyn anchorages. This money has not yet been appropriated. On March 11, 1901, six bids were opened for the construction of the Brooklyn tower foundation, all being rejected later. On a subsequent bidding this contract was awarded to John C. Rodgers, who executed his contract May 1, and is now at work. His bid was $471,757.

The general plan for a cantilever bridge from 60th st. and 2d av., Manhattan, over Blackwell's Island to the intersection of Academy and Jane sts., Queens, was submitted to Secretary of War Elihu Root on Dec. 2, 1899. Its estimated cost was $12,548,500, of which $9,400,000 was for the structure itself, $2,398,500 for land required in Manhattan and $750,000 for land in Queens. Owing to the failure of the city authorities to adopt the ordinance authorizing construction, the Secretary of War long delayed his approval of the plans.

Finally on Nov. 15, 1900, the ordinance was approved by the Mayor, and on Feb. 23, 1901, the approval of the War Dept. was given. Prior to this, on Jan. 8, 1900, the Mayor had approved a bond issue for $1,000,000 for construction. On March 29, 1901, the Board of Estimate authorized condemnation proceedings for land required and a bond issue of $550,000 to pay for land taken was approved by Mayor Van Wyck on May 21, 1901.

On June 24, 1901, a contract for the erection of the steel towers in Manhattan, Queens and on Blackwell's Island was awarded to Ryan & Parker, whose bid was $745,547. The contractors commenced work on July 19, 1901.

*From May to December.

THE NEW EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

Office of Commissioners, 258 Broadway, Manhattan; office of Chief Engineer, 84 Broadway, Bklyn.

The new East River Bridge Commission, which is authorized to construct a bridge from the foot of Broadway, Brooklyn, to the foot of Delancey slip, Manhattan, was organized under the provisions of Chapter 789 of the Laws of 1895. The act was approved by the Governor on May 27, 1895. In accordance with the provisions of the law six Commissioners were appointed, three each by the Mayors of Brooklyn and New York, the two mayors acting as ex-officio members of the Commission. Mayor Van Wyck on Jan. 19, 1898, appointed a new commission, which, under the revised charter in effect Jan. 1, 1892, ceased to exist. The completion of the bridge will be made under the supervision of the Department of Bridges. For members of the original commission, see Almanac, 1901.

The original commission purchased all the rights of the East River Bridge Company, which was organized in 1892, to build a bridge between the same points, for $200,000 on December 18, 1895.

The route agreed upon by the Commission is from a point between So. 5th and So. 6th sts., to a point near the foot of Delancey st., Manhattan.

The bridge ends between Attorney and Clinton sts., in Manhattan, and just west of Driggs av., in Brooklyn, two full blocks being taken in each city for an entrance plaza.

It is proposed that the bridge shall be 118 feet wide, and 135 feet high for 400 feet at the middle of span at high water and lowest position of bridge, and will furnish accommodations for 4 surface railroad tracks, 2 tracks for elevated trains, 2 roadways for vehicles, 2 footways for pedestrians and 2 cycle paths. The towers will be made of steel. The estimated cost is $10,000,000, exclusive of the right of way.

The general plans for the bridge were duly adopted by the Commission on Aug. 19, 1896, and formally filed in the Department of Public Works in the cities of Brooklyn and New York. An amended plan was adopted and filed in May, 1897, covering a change in the line of the bridge on the Brooklyn side, authorized by the Legislature, and making the bridge straight from end to end.

Extensive diamond drill borings were made on both sides of the river at the sites of the tower foundations, during the summer of 1896. The contract for the Manhattan tower was executed on Oct. 28, 1896, with the lowest bidder, Mr. F. H. Flynn. Work was begun under this contract on Saturday, Nov. 7, of that year, and the work was completed in Sept., 1898. Both piers rest on solid rock, the north pier at a depth of 56 feet, and the south pier at a depth of 66 feet below high water.

Land has been acquired on both sides of the river, as far as Clinton st., in Manhattan, and to within about 200 feet of Roebing st. in Brooklyn, condemnation proceedings for the greater portion of which are now pending before the Commissioners of Estimate, appointed by the Supreme Court. All the buildings thereon have been removed and the site turned over to the contractor for the construction of the approaches on both sides of the river. On the approach in Brooklyn about two-thirds of the work has been done, and on that in Manhattan about one-third.

The contract for the Brooklyn tower foundations was let to Colin McLean, the lowest bidder, and work was commenced under this contract in July, 1897. The first caisson for the Brooklyn tower foundation was launched on Sept. 30, 1897; the second caisson was launched in Dec. of that year. The Brooklyn tower foundations were completed in March, 1899. Both piers rest on solid rock, the south pier at a maximum depth of about 90 feet and the north pier at a maximum depth of about 115 feet below high water.

The first wire for the construction of the temporary footbridge was strung on April 11, 1901; the first wire of the first permanent cable was strung Friday, Nov. 29, 1901.

Fourteen bids were received, and opened on Sept. 22, 1897, for each of the two anchorages. These varied from $659,349 to $1,238,100. The Manhattan anchorage was let to Shanly & Ryan, the lowest bidders, for the sum of $750,770. The Brooklyn anchorage was let to the Degnan-McLean Construction Co. for the sum of $723,578.

There will be about 1,500,000 ft. of timber, 10,000 cubic yds. of concrete, 45,000 cubic yds. of stone masonry, and 1,700 tons of cable anchor steel in each anchorage. The Manhattan anchorage rests on 3,500 piles and the Brooklyn anchorage on the natural sand. Both anchorages have been completed as far as can be before the cables are made.

The contract for the steel towers and end spans, involving the manufacture and erection of about 12,000 tons of steel, was let to the New Jersey Steel & Iron Co. for $1,220,230, on Feb. 21, 1899. The steel towers are now completed and the end spans as far as they can be until the cables are made. The contract for the steel cables, etc., involving about 5,000 tons of steel wire and castings, was let to the John A. Roebling's Sons Co. of New York, on Dec. 9, 1899, for the sum of $1,338,000. The temporary foot-bridge for the construction of the cables, etc., has been completed, and cable making is now going on. The contracts for the approaches were awarded on Oct. 18, 1900, to the Pennsylvania Steel Co., they to receive $1,464,000 for the Manhattan approach and $947,000 for the Brooklyn approach. There will be about 12,000 tons of steel in the Manhattan approach and about 6,000 tons of steel in the Brooklyn approach. Bids were received on April 25, 1901, for the steel suspended structure, involving the manufacture and erection of about 8,000 tons of steel in the main span over the river. The erection cannot be done until the cables are practically completed. The King Bridge Co. bid $1,151,500 and the Pennsylvania Steel Co. $1,123,400 for the work. The contract was awarded to the last named company at the price quoted, and they are now preparing shop drawings for the work.

The contracts for construction which have been thus far entered into by the Commission are as follows: New York tower foundations, $373,462.71; Brooklyn tower foundations, $485,082.75; New York anchorage, $797,770; Brooklyn anchorage, $717,778; steel towers and end spans, $1,221,726.60; steel cables and suspenders, $1,338,000; Manhattan approach, $1,464,000; Brooklyn approach, $947,000; steel suspended structure, $1,123,400.

The Commission has acquired and paid for real property of the value of $1,582,764.67. The amount placed to the credit of the Commission from the proceeds of the sale of bonds to date for the purpose of constructing the new East River Bridge is $10,215,339.91, of which there has been expended, on account of construction, purchase of real property, and sundry expenses, to date, $6,612,749.36.

On Nov. 16, 1901, initial steps were taken for the institution of condemnation proceedings to acquire the property for the plazas in Manhattan and Brooklyn not yet in the possession of the city.

The engineering and executive office staff is as follows: L. L. Buck, Chief Engineer, $10,000. O. F. Nichols, Prin. Asst. Eng., $7,500. H. D. Robinson, K. L. Martin, Resident Engs., each, $3,500. J. D. Wilkins, Draughtsman, $2,750. N. S. L. Robinson, Asst. to Engineering staff, $2,400. F. L. Pruyn, Alex. Johnson, each, $200 per mo.; Robt. E. Hawley, W. R. Bascome, each, $2,000 per year; E. D. Knap, $155 per mo.; Geo. S. G. Lewis, Olaf M. Kelly, each, $150 per mo.; J. A. Tilly, Asst. Engs., $125 per mo. L. Krummel, Rodman, $60 per mo. Edward Joyce, Chief Clerk, $2,400. Willard D. Avery, Stenographer and Typewriter, $1,200.

State Fisheries Statistics.

During the year 1901, 1,631 applications for fish were received by the State Forest, Fish and Game Commission and 1,259 were granted. The number of petitions rejected was 193. The following is a summary of the fish distributed from the various hatcheries of the State during the year ending Sept. 30, 1901: Shad, 19,675,000; whitefish, 32,250,000; pike, 46,900,000; muscalonge, 4,520,000; frost fish, 4,900,000; shrimp, 158,000; cliscos, 100,000; tom cods, 35,000,000; bullheads, 50; perch, 4,500; bass, 1,500; lake trout fingerlings, 399,210; lake trout yearlings, 46,450; rainbow trout fingerlings, 132,325; rainbow trout yearlings, 109,975; brown trout fingerlings, 131,600; brown trout yearlings, 102,475; brook trout fingerlings, 351,550; brook trout yearlings, 65,363; lake trout fry, 2,405,000; rainbow trout fry, 26,000; brown trout fry, 1,187,000; brook trout fry, 2,262,000; Scotch sea trout yearlings, 1,700; red trout trout, 1 year old, 13,350; steel head salmon, 2 years, 12; red trout fingerlings, 22,000; lake trout, 4 years old, 12; rainbow trout, 5 years, 76; brown trout, 5 years, 507; brook trout, 5 years, 646; total, 150,760,856.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

On January 22, 1901, Queen Victoria died at Osborne House, her residence on the Isle of Wight. As Queen of Great Britain and Ireland she had occupied the throne nearly 64 years, a reign unequalled in length or brilliancy by that of any of her predecessors. The only child of Edward, Duke of Kent, fourth son of George III, she was born in Kensington Palace on May 24, 1819; her mother was Victoria Mary, Princess of Saxe-Coburg Saalfeld, who, prior to her marriage to the Duke of Kent, was the widow of the Prince Leiningen. The Duke died eight months after the birth of his daughter, who, seventeen years later, ascended the throne as the successor of her uncle, William IV; this was on June 20, 1837. On June 28, 1838, the youthful sovereign was crowned in Westminster Abbey. On Feb. 10, 1840, the Queen was married to her cousin, Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. Nine children were born of this marriage. They were: The Princess Royal Victoria, born Nov. 21, 1840, married Jan. 25, 1858, to Frederick William, then Crown Prince of Prussia, afterward Emperor of Germany and father of the present Emperor; she died last year; Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, born Nov. 9, 1841, and married March 10, 1863, Princess Alexandra, eldest daughter of Christian IX, King of Denmark; Princess Alice, born April 5, 1843, married in 1862 to Prince Frederick William of Hesse (died Dec. 14, 1878); Prince Alfred, born Aug. 6, 1844, created Duke of Edinburgh 1866, married Jan. 23, 1874, Marie, only daughter of the Emperor of Russia; Princess Helena, born May 25, 1846, married in 1866 to Prince Christian of Schleswig Holstein; he became Duke of Saxe-Coburg in succession to his uncle and died July 30, 1900; Princess Louise, born March 18, 1848, married in 1871 to the Marquis of Lorne, now Duke of Wyke; Prince Arthur, born May 1, 1850, created Duke of Connaught 1874, married in 1879 to Princess Louise Marguerite of Prussia; Prince Leopold, born April 7, 1853, created Duke of Albany in 1881 and married to Princess Helena of Waldeck-Prymont in 1882; he died March 28, 1884; Beatrice, born April 14, 1857, married July 23, 1885, to Prince Henry of Battenberg, who died on Jan. 20, 1896.

The reign of Queen Victoria saw the development of the railway and the telegraph from insignificant beginnings to their present magnificent estate. It witnessed the introduction of steam into all branches of manufacture, the application of electricity to widely differing fields of commerce and science, the enlargement of ocean traffic to marvelous proportions under the stimulus of steam and the inception, progress and end of great international and civil conflicts which greatly changed the maps of Europe, Asia and Africa.

Some conception of the growth of the British Empire under Queen Victoria may be formed from the following table. In addition, it must be remembered that in 1837 the Indian territory, even indirectly under British sway, included neither of the great frontier provinces of Burmah and the Punjab. Their acquisition followed the transfer of rule from the British East India Co. to the Crown brought about by the mutiny. Racially and religiously India is more heterogeneous than Europe, yet, despite that and pestilence and famine, railways, reservoirs, a system of justice and other vast improvements show the firm, civilizing hand of its one ruler. Representative government was granted to all the important colonies in 1856. Distress in the British Isles during the early years of the reign led to a wave of emigration to the islands across the seas. In the case of Australia, a new impetus was given by the discovery of gold. Canadian federation began in 1867, and the dawn of this year saw the union of Australia take effect. Beside territory actually acquired, Great Britain has assumed practical control of Egypt, while restoring the Sudan to Khedivial rule.

Colonies founded, territories acquired or protectorates assumed during the reign, exclusive of Egypt, were as follows, aggregating more than eight and a half million square miles: 1839, Aden; 1840, New Zealand; 1842, Hong Kong; 1847, Labuan; 1851, Victoria; 1854, Kauria-Maria; 1855, Perim; 1856, Natal; 1859, British Columbia; 1859, Vancouver; 1859, Queensland; 1861, Lagos; 1868, Basuto-land; 1868, Gold Coast; 1870, Manitoba; 1870, Northwest Territories; 1871, Leeward Islands; 1871, Windward Islands; 1874, Fiji Islands; 1875, Suez Canal shares; 1877, North Borneo; 1877, Empire of India; 1878, Cyprus; 1885, Somali coast; 1886, Socotra; 1888, East Africa; 1888, Part New Guinea; 1889, Central Africa; 1890, Zanzibar; 1896, Ashanti; 1898, Wei-Hei-Wei; 1900, Transvaal; 1900, Orange Free State.

On Dec. 14, 1861, the Prince Consort died and for some years thereafter the Queen remained in seclusion. In 1876, at the suggestion of the Earl of Beaconsfield, Queen Victoria added the dignity of Empress of India to her other titles. The Queen's funeral, which began on Feb. 2, 1901, was one of the most imposing and remarkable in the history of nations. Her coffin was followed by sixty princes walking, and on the way from Cowes to Portsmouth passed through ten miles of English and German warships and representative ships from other powers. Services were held in churches all over the world. Wreaths were sent by the late President McKinley, Mrs. Garfield and U. S. Ambassador Choate. On Feb. 4 the Queen's body was interred near that of her husband in the mausoleum at Frogmore.

On Jan. 24, 1901, the Prince of Wales was proclaimed King of England under the name of Edward VII.

British-Boer War.

The situation in South Africa at the beginning of the present year shows that the British, by extending the blockhouse system, have managed to retain almost undisputed control of the railway lines and of the principal centers of population. Skirmishes of more or less importance are still frequent, and it is likely that the war will drag on for an indefinite period in its present guerrilla phase. Lord Kitchener has under his control a force of nearly 225,000 men, but these are strung out over an enormous stretch of country, offering numerous weak spots for the enemy's attack. Of late the British have pursued a vigorous policy in their treatment of the Cape rebels, of whom several have been put to death for violations of the rules of war. Lord Kitchener's proclamation of banishment against recalcitrant Boers went into force on Sept. 15, but it has in no way lessened the armed opposition of the burghers.

An Historic Landmark.

The old court house where Patrick Henry made his famous Stamp Act speech, in Williamsburg, Va., is still standing. This court house was designed by Sir Christopher Wren, the architect of St. Paul's Cathedral.

Lieut.-Col. Nataniel B. Thurston, ordnance officer and inspector of small arms practice, in his latest report, gives the result of the rifle practice of the land and naval forces of the National Guard of this State for 1901:

No less than 9,797 men qualified as reliable marksmen at outdoor ranges at 200 and 300 yards, by making 30 points or more out of a possible 50. Those who have qualified for the grade of sharpshooter by making a score of 42 or more out of a possible 50 at 500 and 600 yards numbered 8,647.

In the expert class 330 men qualified by making a score of 40 or more points at 700 and 800 yards as skirmishers. The First Brigade of Manhattan leads all the brigades in the State and the Seventh Regiment leads the regiments.

The following are the figures of rifle practice throughout the State in detail:

The total number of marksmen in 1901 is 221 less than in 1900. During 1900 every organization practiced and qualified nearly its full strength, and the qualifications during 1900 may be taken as a record. The 7th Regt. qualified 961 men in 1901 as against 956 in 1900, showing a loss of 25, although every man in the organization qualified during both years.

Squadron A lost, in 1901, 2 experts, gained 14 sharpshooters, the aggregate loss being but 4.

The greatest loss in the State was in the 65th and 74th Regts., stationed at Buffalo, which fell off in the aggregate 23 experts, 89 sharpshooters and 189 total.

During 1901 there have been many changes in the National Guard of the State.

In the reorganization of the Guard by Gov. Odell the two brigades in the Borough of Manhattan, commanded respectively by Gen. McCoskry Butt and Gen. Geo. Moore Smith, were consolidated into one brigade of seven infantry regiments, commanded by Gen. Smith. The strength of this brigade is 5,154 officers and men. Last year the same regiments numbered 5,161, a loss of 7. The strength of the Second Brigade of Brooklyn is 2,237 officers and men, a decrease of 11 from 1900. Both of these brigades are composed entirely of infantry.

Gen. Frederick Phisterer, Acting Adj. Gen. and Maj. Gen. Chas. F. Roe, commanding the Guard, have transferred and attached to headquarters all the artillery, all the cavalry and all the Signal Corps, thus reducing the brigades and creating an independent body numbering 1,764 officers and men responsible directly to the Maj.-Gen. commanding.

Throughout New York City the National Guard shows a general increase in strength. The greatest gain has been made by the 13th Regt., Heavy Artillery, which, from a strength of 728 a year ago, now numbers over 1,000 officers and men. The 7th Regt. is second in size, with 954 officers and men; the 12th is third, with 843. Squadron A has lost a score of men and Troop "C" has gained ten members. The greatest loss was suffered by the 71st Regt. That organization is smaller by 46 than it was last year. The other regiments in New York City have held their own well.

COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENTS

The College Dept. is in charge of universities, professional, technical and other special schools and all matters pertaining to degrees or licenses.

The High School Dept. is in charge of academies and all interests of secondary education.

The report of the college department for the year ending July 31, 1901, shows that during the nine years in which the medical licensing examinations were held 6,349 physicians have been examined, of which number 78 per cent. were licensed. At the dental licensing examinations, which have been given for six years, 1,264 dentists have been examined, of which number 79 per cent. were licensed. At the veterinary licensing examinations, which have also been held for 6 years, 93 veterinarians have been examined, of which number 56 per cent. were licensed. During the five years in which examinations for expert public accountants have been held, 79 have been examined, of which number 58 per cent. received certificates. In these statistics each candidate who fails is counted as often as examined. During the last year, in medicine, 671 old school candidates, 58 homeopaths and 20 eclectics have been examined. There were no failures in the case of graduates of six of the New York medical schools, and in only two of the New York schools did the percentage of accepted candidates fall below 90. In 1901, of the 194 examined in dentistry 161 received licenses; of the 12 examined in veterinary medicine 7 received licenses; of the 17 examined in public accounting 13 received certificates as certified public accountants.

The 1901 report of the high school department shows that there were 595 academic departments of public schools and 146 chartered academies on the university roll Oct. 1, 1901. The number of students instructed during the year in the secondary schools of the State was $3,796, an increase of 4,431 over the preceding year. A noteworthy fact is that the number of boys instructed has increased 5.98 per cent. and the number of girls but 5.28 per cent.; 35 academic departments have been admitted to the university and seven academies have been incorporated during the year. The number of official visits made to university institutions was 1,415; requests have been received for the approval of 237 courses of laboratory work and approval has been granted in 180 cases.

The whole number of papers written in the regents' academic examinations was 538,741; of these 410,948 were claimed by the principals and 353,847 allowed after being read and rated by the university. These numbers are the largest ever reported in the history of the university. The honor papers for the year number 75,674.

STATE LIBRARY AND HOME EDUCATION.

The State library was established by the Legislature in 1818. In 1889 it was made an integral part of the University and was moved to the third, fourth and fifth floors of the western front. The library contained, Oct. 1, 1901, 451,283 books, 200,860 pamphlets and 250,100 manuscripts. It is open daily, except Sundays, from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M.

The home education dept. was established in 1891. Its object is the promotion and wider extension of opportunities and facilities for education to those unable to attend the usual teaching institutions, and its most important work is the provision of the best reading for all citizens through the public libraries division and by means of traveling, extension home and capitol libraries, bibliographic publications, annotated lists, reading courses and lending books to students. It is organized in six divisions: (1) Extension teaching; (2) study clubs; (3) exchanges; (4) traveling libraries; (5) public libraries; (6) library school.

STATE MUSEUM.

Established 1843—In 1889 the State Museum was made an integral part of the University.

A large part of the museum, the collections in mineralogy, geology, zoology, ethnology, with a portion of that in paleontology, are on the four floors of Geological hall on State street, Albany.

The offices of the State geologist and director, botanist and entomologist, together with the collections, are in Geological hall; that of the paleontologist in the State hall, where is also the main collection in paleontology.

The United States Military Academy at West Point.

Each Congressional District and Territory and Dist. of Columbia is entitled to have one cadet at the Academy. Ten are at large. Appointments (except those at large) are made by Sec. of War at request of Representative in Congress from the District or Territory; and persons appointed must be an actual resident of the District from which appointment is made. Applications at large are made by the President. Applications can be made to the Sec. of War to have name of applicant placed upon register that it may be furnished to proper Representative when vacancy occurs. The application must exhibit full name, date of birth, permanent abode of applicant, with number of Congressional District in which he resides. Appointments are made one year in advance of date of admission, except in cases which cannot be provided for by such appointment in advance. These vacancies are filled in time for the next annual examination. The Representative in Congress may nominate a second candidate, to be designated the alternate. The alternate will receive from the War. Dept. a letter of appointment, and will be examined with regular appointee, and, if qualified, will be admitted to the Academy in event of failure of principal to pass. The alternate must report at time designated in his letter of appointment. Candidates selected are instructed to appear for mental and physical examination before Boards of Army Officers on March 1 annually (except on Sunday, in which case on following Tuesday). Successful ones are admitted following June. Candidates selected to fill vacancies unprovided for at the March examinations report at West Point for examination early in June. No candidate is examined at any other time, unless prevented by good cause, in which case he is examined during last week in August. No one is admitted under 17 or over 22 years of age, or less than 5 ft. 3 in. in height, or is deformed or afflicted with any disease or infirmity. Candidates must be unmarried. They must be well versed in reading, writing, including orthography, arithmetic, elements of English grammar, descriptive geography, history of United States. The pay of a cadet is $50 per year, commencing with his admission. The expenses of a candidate, prior to admission, is about $10. Immediately after being admitted the cost of uniform is $90, making a total of $100.

HOW TO SECURE A COPYRIGHT.

The person desiring a copyright must on or before day of publication in this or foreign country, deliver at the office of the Librarian of Congress, or mail in United States to his address a printed copy of the book, map, chart, musical composition or picture; or a description of the painting, statue, statuary, model or design, if the copyright is desired for work of the fine arts. He must deliver at the office of the Librarian of Congress or deposit in the mail addressed to the Librarian of Congress, two copies or such copyright book or picture, etc.

To be eligible for copyright a book or photograph must be printed from type set within the United States, or from plates made from them, or from negatives or drawings on stone, or from transfers made therefrom. The fees are:

1st—Fifty cents for recording title or description of any copyright; and 2d—Fifty cents for every copy under seal of such record actually given to the person claiming copyright or to his assigns.

For recording and certifying instrument of writing for assignment of copyright, $1.
For every copy of an assignment, $1.

For recording instrument for assignment of copyright, 15 cents per 100 words.

For copy of assignment, 10 cents per 100 words.

The first copyright is good twenty-eight years.

The benefits of copyright are available to American citizens in Belgium, Chile, Costa Rica, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain and her possessions (Australia, Canada, India, etc.), Italy, Mexico, Netherlands (Holland) and possessions, Portugal, Spain and Switzerland. Protection is not secured abroad by virtue of registration in this country. Librarian of Congress, Herbert Putnam; Register of Copyrights, Thorvald Solberg.

Admission of Immigrants to the U. S.

There is no fixed law regarding the qualifications of immigrants seeking admission to the U. S. The law is that no one shall be admitted to the U. S. who for want of any or all of the three qualifications named or others is apt to become a "public charge." This is at the discretion and judgment of the Immigrant Inspectors. If in their opinion an immigrant—notwithstanding that he may be possessed of certain means—is apt to become a "public charge" because of an unhealthy condition of mind or body he may be rejected. If rejection is made by an Immigration Inspector a re-examination is made by a Board of Special Inquiry, composed of four members, three of whom constitute a majority for admission or rejection.

THE SCHLEY COURT OF INQUIRY.

In July, 1901, the newspapers printed extracts from Edgar Stanton MacLay's "History of the Navy," wherein the author severely criticised Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley for his conduct during the Spanish war. The wide publicity given to the strictures, and the fact that it was announced that the history had been adopted as a text book at the United States Naval Academy, led Admiral Schley to take official notice of the matter. On July 22 he wrote to the Secretary of the Navy, calling attention to the criticisms made of him in MacLay's history, and adding, "I think the time has now come to take such action as may bring this entire matter under discussion." Following this the Secretary of the Navy immediately ordered a Court of Inquiry to investigate the conduct of Admiral Schley during the war with Spain. The following officers were selected to compose the Court: Admiral George Dewey, Rear Admiral Lewis A. Kimberly, and Rear Admiral Andrew E. K. Benham. Admiral Kimberly requested to be relieved on account of ill health, and he was succeeded by Rear Admiral Henry L. Howison. Capt. Samuel C. Lemly was appointed Judge Advocate, and the court was ordered to convene at the Washington Navy Yard on Sept. 22. The precept issued to Admiral Dewey by Secretary Long ordered the court to convene at the Navy Dept., Sept. 12, or as soon thereafter as practicable. Special attention was called to the following points upon which the court was directed to report:

(1) His conduct in connection with the events of the Santiago campaign. (2) The circumstances attending, the reasons controlling, and the propriety of the movements of the "Flying Squadron" off Cienfuegos in May, 1898. (3) The circumstances attending, the reasons controlling, and the propriety of the movements of the said squadron in proceeding from Cienfuegos to Santiago. (4) The circumstances attending the arrival of the "Flying Squadron" off Santiago, the reasons for its retrograde turn westward and departure from off Santiago, and the propriety thereof. (5) The circumstances attending and the reasons for the disobedience by Commodore Schley of the orders of the Department contained in its dispatch dated May 25, 1898, and the propriety of his conduct in the premises. (6) The condition of the coal supply of the "Flying Squadron" on and about May 27, 1898; its coaling facilities; the necessity, if any, for, or advisability of, the return of the squadron to Key West to coal; and the accuracy and propriety of the official reports made by Commodore Schley with respect to this matter. (7) Whether or not every effort incumbent upon the commanding officer of a fleet under such circumstances was made to capture or destroy the Spanish cruiser "Colon" as she lay at anchor in the entrance to Santiago Harbor, May 27 to 31, inclusive, and the necessity for, or advisability of, engaging the batteries at the entrance to Santiago Harbor, and the Spanish vessels at anchor within the entrance to said harbor, at the ranges used, and the propriety of Commodore Schley's conduct in the premises. (8) The necessity, if any, for, and advisability of, withdrawing at night the "Flying Squadron" from the entrance to Santiago Harbor to a distance at sea, if such shall be found to have been the case; the extent and character of such withdrawal; and whether or not a close or adequate blockade of said harbor, to prevent the escape of the enemy's vessels therefrom, was established, and the propriety of Commodore

Schley's conduct in the premises. (9) The position of the "Brooklyn" on the morning of July 3, 1898, at the time of the exit of the Spanish vessels from the harbor of Santiago. The circumstances attending, the reasons for, and the incidents resulting from the turning of the "Brooklyn" in the direction in which she turned at or about the beginning of the action with said Spanish vessels, and the possibility of thereby colliding with or endangering any other of the vessels of the United States fleet, and the propriety of Commodore Schley's conduct in the premises. (10) The circumstances leading to, and the incidents and results of, a controversy with Lieutenant Albon C. Hodgson, U. S. Navy, who, on July 3, 1898, during the battle of Santiago, was navigator of the "Brooklyn," in relation to the turning of the "Brooklyn"; also the colloquy at that time between Commodore Schley and Lieutenant Hodgson and the ensuing correspondence between them on the subject thereof, and the propriety of the conduct of Admiral Schley in the premises.

The foregoing specific directions were given primarily for the information and guidance of the court, but did not limit or restrict the scope of its inquiry into the "entire matter," the investigation of which was asked by Admiral Schley.

Rear Admiral Schley was informed of his right to be present, either in person or by counsel, during the investigation, to cross examine witnesses, and to offer evidence before the court, should he so desire, and the court could at any time grant to others interested and entitled thereto like privileges.

At the first session of the court Admiral Schley objected to the service of Admiral Howison on the ground that the latter had expressed an opinion hostile to the applicant. The court declared Admiral Howison to be ineligible, and he was succeeded by Rear Admiral Francis M. Ramsay. Secretary Long detailed, as assistant to Judge Advocate Lemly, Mr. E. P. Hanna, solicitor in the office of the Judge Advocate of the Navy Department. Admiral Schley was represented by the following attorneys: Judge Jere M. Wilson, Isidor Raynor and Captain James Parker. Early in the proceedings Judge Wilson died, and the bulk of the defense fell upon Mr. Raynor. The sessions of the court continued until Nov. 7, when adjournment was ordered. Upward of 75 witnesses were examined, including almost every officer of advanced rank who took part in the campaign on the south coast of Cuba.

On Dec. 13, 1901, Admiral Dewey submitted the findings of the court to Secretary Long. There were two reports, one signed by Rear Admirals Benham and Ramsay, and one signed by Admiral Dewey. The majority report was, in the main, a condemnation of Rear Admiral Schley, but the latter was given the credit for the naval victory of July 3, by Admiral Dewey. The opinion of the court was as follows:

Commodore Schley, in command of the Flying Squadron, should have proceeded with utmost dispatch off Cienfuegos, and should have maintained a close blockade of that port.

He should have endeavored, on May 23, at Cienfuegos, to obtain information regarding the Spanish squadron by communicating with the insurgents at the place designated in the memorandum delivered to him at 8:15 A. M. of that date.

He should have proceeded from Cienfuegos to

Santiago de Cuba with all dispatch, and should have disposed his vessels with a view of intercepting the enemy in any attempt to pass the Flying Squadron. He should not have delayed the squadron for the "Eagle." He should not have made the retrograde turn westward with his squadron. He should have promptly obeyed the Navy Department's order of May 25.

He should have endeavored to capture or destroy the Spanish vessels at anchor near the entrance of Santiago harbor on May 29 and 30.

He did not do his utmost with the force under his command to capture or destroy the "Colon" and other vessels of the enemy which he attacked on May 31.

By commencing the engagement on July 3 with the port battery, and turning the "Brooklyn" around with port helm, Commodore Schley caused her to lose distance and position with the Spanish vessels—especially with the "Viscaya" and "Colon."

The turn of the "Brooklyn" to starboard was made to avoid getting her into dangerous proximity to the Spanish vessels. The turn was made towards the "Texas," and caused that vessel to stop and to back her engines to avoid collision.

Admiral Schley did injustice to Lieut.-Commander A. C. Hodgson in publishing only a portion of the correspondence which passed between them.

Commodore Schley's conduct in connection with the events of the Santiago campaign prior to June 1, 1898, was characterized by vacillation, dilatoriness and lack of enterprise.

His official reports regarding the coal supply and the coaling facilities of the Flying Squadron were inaccurate and misleading.

His conduct during the battle of July 3 was self-possessed, and he encouraged, in his own person, his subordinate officers and men to fight courageously.

Admiral Dewey's separate statement was as follows:

In the opinion of the undersigned the passage from Key West to Cienfuegos was made by the Flying Squadron with all possible dispatch. Commodore Schley having in view the importance of arriving off Cienfuegos with as much coal as possible in the ships' bunkers.

The blockade of Cienfuegos was effective. Commodore Schley, in permitting the steamer Adula to enter the port of Cienfuegos, expected to obtain information concerning the Spanish squadron from her when she came out.

The passage from Cienfuegos to a point about 22 miles south of Santiago was made with as much dispatch as was possible while keeping the squadron a unit.

The blockade of Santiago was effective.

Commodore Schley was the senior officer of our squadron off Santiago when the Spanish squadron attempted to escape on the morning of July 3, 1898. He was in absolute command and is entitled to the credit due to such commanding officer for the glorious victory which resulted in the total destruction of the Spanish ships.

George Dewey, Admiral, U. S. N.

Secretary Long, on Dec. 21, approved of the findings of fact and the opinion of the full court; also the recommendation that no further proceedings be had.

NICARAGUA CANAL.

Under authority of the act of March 3, 1899, known as the River and Harbor act, the President appointed a Commission to investigate and report upon the feasibility of a canal across the Isthmus of Panama. The Isthmian Commission was composed of the following members: Rear-Admiral John G. Walker, U. S. Navy, Pres.; Samuel Pasco, Alfred Noble, George S. Morison, Col. Peter C. Hains, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army; William H. Burr, Lieut.-Col. Oswald H. Ernst, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army; Lewis M. Haupt, Emory R. Johnson, Lieut.-Com. Sidney A. Staunton, U. S. Navy, Sec. It was directed to make an "investigation of any and all practicable routes for a canal across said Isthmus of Panama, and particularly to investigate the two routes known, respectively, as the Nicaraguan route and the Panama route, with a view to determining the most practicable and feasible route for such canal, together with the proximate and probable cost of constructing a canal at each of two or more of said routes.

In Dec., 1901, the Isthmian Commission made its report to the President, favoring the Nicaragua route. The estimated time for the completion of the work was six years after its beginning, exclusive of two years for the period of preparation. It was estimated that eight years of work, and two years of preparation would be required to finish up the Panama Canal. The total length of the Nicaragua route from sea to sea is 183.66 miles; the total length of the Panama route is 49.03 miles.

The cost of constructing a canal by the Nicaragua route and of completing the Panama Canal, without including the cost of acquiring the concessions from the different governments, was estimated by the Commission as follows: Nicaragua, $189,864,062; Panama, $144,233,358. To the latter item was added $40,000,000 as the cost of acquiring rights and property of the new Panama Canal Co.

The Commission added: "The total amount for which the company offers to sell and transfer its canal property to the United States is $109,141,500. This, added to the cost of completing the work, makes the whole cost of a canal by the Panama route $253,374,858, while the cost by the Nicaragua route is $189,864,062, a difference of $65,510,796 in favor of the Nicaragua route. In each case there must be added the cost of obtaining the use of the territory to be occupied and such other privileges as may be necessary for the construction and operation of the canal in perpetuity."

Following the presentation of this report to Congress, a number of bills providing for the construction of the canal were introduced. Senator Morgan introduced a measure, authorizing the expenditure of $180,000,000 for the canal, of which $5,000,000 was made immediately available. It provided, further, for a board of eight citizens of the United States to have control of the canal, in addition to the Secretary of War, to be its president. There was a provision for the establishment of a regime from the regular army on the canal belt to guard it properly. This measure was favorably reported to the Senate by the Committee on Nicaragua Canal.

Representative Hepburn, Chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, introduced a canal bill, which was also favorably reported upon. It authorized the President to acquire from Costa Rica and Nicaragua control of such territory as might be required for a canal. The limit of the project was placed at $180,000,000, of which $10,000,000 was made immediately available.

During the Summer and Fall of 1901 Secretary of State Hay and Lord Pauncefoot, the British Ambassador, negotiated a convention to facilitate the construction of a ship canal to connect the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. It was intended to supersede the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and make the way clear for the United States to construct, operate and control an isthmian canal. The convention was signed at Washington Nov. 18, 1901, and was sent to the Senate by the President on Dec. 4. It was ratified by the Senate Dec. 17, by a vote of 72 to 6.

The United States of America and His Majesty Edward the Seventh of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King and Emperor of India, being desirous to facilitate the construction of a ship canal to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, by whatever route may be considered expedient, and to that end to remove any objection which may arise out of the convention of the 19th of April, 1850, commonly called the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, to the construction of such canal under the auspices of the Government of the United States, without impairing the "general principle" of neutralization established in Article VIII of that convention, have for that purpose appointed as their plenipotentiaries:

The President of the United States, John Hay, Secretary of State of the United States of America.

And His Majesty Edward the Seventh of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, and Emperor of India, the Right Honorable Lord Pauncefoot, G. C. B., G. C. M. G., His Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the United States, who, having communicated to each other their full powers which were found to be in due and proper form, have agreed upon the following articles:

I. The high contracting parties agree that the present treaty shall supersede the afore-mentioned convention of the 19th April, 1850.

II It is agreed that the canal may be constructed under the auspices of the Government of the United States either directly at its own cost, or by gift or loan of money to individuals or corporations, or through subscription to or purchase of stock or shares, and that, subject to the provisions of the present treaty, the said government shall have and enjoy all the rights incident to such construction, as well as the exclusive right of providing for the regulation and management of the canal.

III. The United States adopts, as the basis of the neutralization of such ship canal, the following rules, substantially as embodied in the convention of Constantinople, signed Oct. 23, 1855, for the free navigation of the Suez Canal, that is to say:

1. The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules, on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation, or its citizens or subjects, in respect to the conditions or charges of traffic, or otherwise. Such conditions and charges of traffic shall be just and equitable.

2. The canal shall never be blockaded, nor shall any right of war be exercised nor any act of hostility be committed within it. The United States, however, shall be at liberty to maintain such military police along the canal as may be necessary to protect it against lawlessness and disorder.

3. Vessels of war of a belligerent shall not revictual nor take any stores in the canal except so far as may be strictly necessary; and the transit of such vessels through the canal shall be effected with the least possible delay in accordance with the regulations in force, and with only such intermission as may result from the necessities of the service.

Prizes shall be in all respects subject to the same rules as vessels of war of the belligerents.

4. No belligerent shall embark or disembark troops, munitions of war, or warlike materials in the canal, except in case of accidental hindrance of the transit, and in such case the transit shall be resumed with all possible dispatch.

5. The provisions of this article shall apply to waters adjacent to the canal, within three marine miles of either end. Vessels of war of a belligerent shall not remain in such waters longer than twenty-four hours at any one time, except in case of distress, and in such case shall depart as soon as possible; but a vessel of war of one belligerent shall not depart within twenty-four hours from the departure of a vessel of war of the other belligerent.

6. The plant, establishments, buildings, and all works necessary to the construction, maintenance and operation of the canal shall be deemed to be part thereof, for the purposes of this treaty, and in time of war, as in time of peace, shall enjoy complete immunity from attack or injury by belligerents, and from acts calculated to impair their usefulness as part of the canal.

IV. It is agreed that no change of territorial sovereignty or of international relations of the country or countries traversed by the before-mentioned canal shall affect the general principle of neutralization or the obligation of the high contracting parties under the present treaty.

V. The present treaty shall be ratified by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, and by His Britannic Majesty; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Washington or at London at the earliest possible time within six months from the date hereof. (Nov. 18, 1901.)

THE UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY, ANNAPOLIS, MD.

There is allowed at the Academy one naval cadet for every member of or delegate to the House of Representatives, one for the District of Columbia and ten at large. The course is six years, four years at the academy and two years at sea, at the expiration of which time the cadet returns to the academy for final graduation and the district then becomes vacant. Appointments to all vacancies that may occur during a year in the lower grades of the Line and Engineers Corps of the Navy and of the Marine Corps are made from the naval cadets, graduates of the year, in the order of merit as determined by the Academic Board of the Naval Academy. At least fifteen appointments from such graduates are made each year. Surplus graduates who do not receive such appointments are given a certificate of graduation, an honorable discharge and one year's sea pay. The Secretary of the Navy, after March 5 in each year, notifies each member and delegate of the House of Representatives of any vacancy that exists in his district. The nomination to fill the vacancy is made upon the recommendation of the member or delegate, if such recommendation is made by the first day of July of that year; but if it is not made by that time the Secretary of the Navy fills the vacancy by appointment of an actual resident of the district in which the vacancy exists, who has been for at least two years immediately preceding the date of his appointment a resident of the district. The candidate allowed for the District of Columbia and candidates appointed at large are selected by the President. Candidates must be residents of the districts from which they are nominated. All candidates must be between the ages of 15 and 20 years, physically sound, well formed and of robust constitution. Examinations are held on May 15th and Sept. 1st. If dates fall on Sunday then the Monday following. Candidates enter the academy immediately after passing examinations. They are examined mentally in reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, geography and English grammar, United States history, world's history, algebra, through quadratic equations and plane geometry. Whenever any naval cadet shall have finished four years of his undergraduate course of six years, the succeeding appointment may be made from his congressional district or at large. The appointees to follow the two classes of cadets now at sea may enter the Academy during the present year and those to succeed the class which is now finishing its four years of study shall be appointed before March 4 next, to enter the Academy during the year 1901. (Act of Congress, June 7, 1900.) Each cadet is required to sign articles by which he binds himself to serve in the United States Navy eight years (including his time of probation at the Naval Academy), unless sooner discharged. The pay of a naval cadet is $500 a year, commencing at date of his admission. Superintendent, Commander Richard Wainwright, U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

Result of the War in China.

In the closing weeks of Dec., 1900, the so-called joint note of the Powers interested in the Chinese situation growing out of the Boxer uprising was presented to the representatives of the Imperial Chinese court, Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching. In brief this joint note provided that proper reparation should be made to Germany and Japan for the murder of legation officials, that reparation should also be made wherever foreign cemeteries had been desecrated, that heavy indemnities be paid to the Powers which had taken part in the rescue of the Peking legations and in the restoration of order throughout the empire, that arms or other war material should not be imported except under certain restrictions, that officials connected with the Boxer outrages should be severely punished, that the forts lying between Peking and the sea should be destroyed and that the department of foreign affairs should be reformed in accordance with the suggestions of the Powers. After a good deal of parleying these propositions were substantially agreed to. The final acts of reparation occurred in Sept., 1901, when expiatory missions were dispatched from China to Germany and Japan, conveying to the emperors of those countries the regrets of the Chinese Emperor because of the assassinations of Baron Von Ketteler and Secretary Sugiyama.

UNITED STATES TREASURY.

RECEIPTS.

The revenues of the Government from all sources for year ended June 30, 1901, were $699,316,530.

The expenditures for the same period were $621,598,546, showing a surplus of $77,717,984.

In addition to the revenues collected during the year and the amounts received on the indebtedness of Pacific railroads, the cash in the Treasury was increased $1,553 from the issue of 4 per cent. bonds in liquidation of interest accrued on refunding certificates converted during the year.

The securities redeemed on account of the sinking fund were as follows:

Longfellow's Home.

The Longfellow mansion at Portland, Me., was built in 1785 by General Peleg Wadsworth, grandfather of the poet. A third story was added to the original two stories in 1826. Unaltered since, it is now surrounded by business blocks on three sides. Upon the recent death of its last occupant, Mrs. Anna Longfellow Pierce, a sister of Longfellow, it became the property of the Maine Historical Society, upon condition that the house be kept in its present form and a memorial hall be erected in connection therewith.

War Revenue Taxes Repealed.

The law modifying the war revenue tax went into effect July 1, 1901, and repealed entirely the tax on the following:

Two cent tax on bank checks; 1 cent on telegraph and telephone messages; 10 cents on export bills of lading; 25 cents on warehouse receipts; 2 cents on each $100 domestic money order; ½ of 1 per cent. on bond by guarantee company; ¼ on each 5 cents' worth of patent medicines; 35 cents on certificates of damage; 2 cents on certificates of deposit; 10 cents on certificates not otherwise specified; all charter party taxes; 4 cents on each $1 worth of chewing gum; $20 for commercial brokers; 2 cents on sight drafts; 25 cents on $1 on leases; 1 cent on express receipts; $1 to $5 on manifests for Custom House entry; 25 cents on each $1,500 on trust mortgages and conveyances; ¼ cent on each 5 cents' worth of cosmetics and perfumery; 10 cents on power of attorney to vote; 2 cents on each $100 promissory note.

CHANGES IN THE LAW.

The law has been modified in these respects:

On tobacco and snuff, discount of 20 per cent. changed to 12 cents a pound.

On cigars weighing not more than 3 pounds a thousand the tax of $1 a thousand is changed to 18 cents a pound.

On cigars weighing more than 3 pounds a thousand $3.60 is changed to $3 a thousand.

The tax of $1.50 a thousand on cigarettes weighing 3 pounds a thousand is changed to 18 cents a pound on cigarettes worth $2 per thousand, and 36 cents a pound on those valued at more than $2 per thousand.

On conveyances a tax of 50 cents each will be imposed. Under the old law all less than $2,500 are exempt, and all more than $2,500 paid 25 cents for each $500.

On beer a flat rate of $1.60 internal revenue will be charged, instead of $2 per barrel, with 7½ per cent. rebate, as formerly.

On foreign exchange the rate will be changed from 4 cents to 2 cents per $100.

An amendment excluding from taxation legacies of a charitable, religious, literary or educational nature went into effect on March 4, 1901.

Foreign money orders by express or telegraph are reduced from 4 cents to 2 cents per $100.

On steamship tickets, on which the original war tax ranged from $1 to $3, there is an exemption on tickets costing less than $50. On $50 the rate is 50 cents, and for each additional $50, or any part thereof, 50 cents.

The tax on sales of merchandise in actual transit has been repealed. The tax of 1 cent for each $100 sold at exchanges is retained.

TAXES RETAINED.

New taxes imposed, and which have been in force since April 1, 1901, are $50 special on brokers and 2 cents per $100 on bucket shop transactions.

All the other taxes imposed in the original revenue act of 1898 are retained.

a The amounts in this column include receipts from duties on imports, from tonnage tax, hospital dues, etc. b The amounts in this column represent the total receipts of money covered into the Treasury by warrant, whereas the internal revenue receipts, as shown in the Annual Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, represents amounts reported by collectors of internal revenue as having been collected during each fiscal year. c Amounts heretofore credited to the Treasurer as unavailable and since recovered and charged to his account.

In the tariff law of 1894 provision was made for levying a tax upon incomes, to be paid by individuals as well as by corporations. Before the first assessment became due the tax was declared to be unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The returns made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue before the decision was rendered gave the amount of tax returned by individuals (48,672 returns) to be $6,128,051, and by corporations (29,653 returns) to be $9,815,697, or a total of $15,943,748. When the bill was before Congress it was estimated that it would produce in the first year of operation $30,000,000.

REMARKS.

All officers paid under this table below rank of rear-admiral or brigadier-general are entitled by law to 10 per cent. upon the full yearly pay of their grades for each and every period of 5 years' service, as increase for length of service, or "longevity pay," computed upon their total actual service in Army, Navy, and Marine Corps; provided the total amount of increase shall not exceed 40 per cent. upon full yearly pay of the grade; also, that pay of a captain in the Navy or colonel of Marines shall not exceed $4,500 per annum, and of a commander in the Navy or lieutenant-colonel of Marines $4,000 per annum.

Naval officers of the line, Medical and Pay Corps receive 15 per centum less than the full pay (salary and increase) of their rank when on shore, and full pay when on sea duty or shore duty beyond seas. Reduction of pay on shore does not apply to chief boatswains, gunners, carpenters or sailmakers.

Officers of the line, Medical and Pay Corps of the Navy retired prior to passage of act approved March 3, 1899, receive same pay on the retired list that they received before passage of said act. Those retired subsequently receive 75 per cent. of pay (salary and increase) of their rank.

During a period of twelve years from June 7, 1900, any naval officer on retired list may, in the discretion of the Sec. of Navy, be ordered to such duty as he may be able to perform at sea or on shore, and while so employed shall receive pay and allowances of an officer of the active list of the grade from which he was retired.

Allowances—The monthly commutation allowance for quarters of the Admiral of the Navy is fixed by law at $125. All other commissioned officers of the line and Medical and Pay Corps of the Navy, and officers of Marine Corps, receive same allowances, except forage to naval officers, as are or may be provided by law for the officers of corresponding rank in the Army. When quarters in kind are not supplied, commutation is allowed at the rate of $12 per month per room.

The pay of officers serving on shore in Porto Rico, Cuba, Philippine Islands, Hawaii and Alaska will be increased 10 per cent. of the pay proper, exclusive of longevity additions, and the pay of enlisted men of the Marine Corps serving on shore in those places will be increased 20 per cent. above the regular rates of pay exclusive of longevity additions, to be computed from and including May 26, 1900.

The 20 per cent. increase heretofore allowed to enlisted men of Marine Corps ceased from and including May 26, 1900, with the exceptions noted above. (Act May 26, 1900.)

The Philadelphia U. S. Mint.

The new United States Mint at Philadelphia, said to be the finest and best equipped building of its kind in the world, was completed in April, 1901, and accepted by Treasurer Gage in June, 1901. The building is of gray granite, the main structure being 318 feet long, and, including terraces, 395 feet, and 208 feet in width. The vaults are in the basement. That for silver dollars will hold $100,000,000.

*Includes shore duty on foreign soil.

FINANCIAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR 1901.

The financial record of 1901 presents many spectacular features that are not only of interest to the student of finance but also to the man of business and of affairs. Speculatively it was extremely active, with the New York Stock Exchange making many new high records for the largest total of transactions in a single session, as compared with former years. Price fluctuations for the year were also extremely wide apart and were extremely violent at times. The year is also memorable for the sharpest panic of the financial history of the country. This occurred on May 9, and the movement was also remarkable for the causes that brought it about as well as the short duration of the panic and its rapid recovery from the extreme point of depression in security values. With the close of the year security values as a whole show favorable comparison with those that prevailed at the beginning of the year. In nearly all high class investment issues, and particularly bonds and railroad stocks, values are even higher than a year ago, and the return to the investor, measured by the dividends and interest payment, averages closer to 3 3/4 per cent. than ever before in the country's history. Transactions on the Stock Exchange averaged during the early months of the year well over 1,500,000 shares per day, and on January 7, for the first time in the history of the Stock Exchange, the recorded sales on the ticker passed to 2,000,000 share mark and amounted to 2,164,500 shares. This result was obtained with fractional trades cut off from the record on the ticker by orders of the authorities, and on account of the pressure of the big speculation. On April 4 the two million share day was again exceeded, the total record by the ticker being 2,094,000, and again on April 19 the recorded sales were 2,226,700. Again on April 22, 24, 25, 29 and 30, and also on May 2, 3, 4 and 9 the two million mark was exceeded. For the week ending May 4 the total sales amounted to 15,626,892 shares, a high record for this period. In this period two of the sessions mentioned yielded records of transactions exceeding in one day the three million share mark. The first of these was on Tuesday, April 30, when the total recorded by the ticker was 3,335,400 shares. This is the high record so far as officially known, as the second three million share day was during the panic of May 9, when the official record was 3,300,800 shares. Still another record was contributed to financial history during this period in the shape of the largest transactions in a single stock in one day, this occurring on April 24, when 660,900 shares of Union Pacific were dealt in.

Prices at the end of April were higher in the majority of issues than ever before and there is no telling how long the bull campaign would have been continued had it not been for the fact that the bubble was pricked and public confidence so rudely shattered that it was never fully restored during the remainder of the year by the panic of May 9. It grew out of the fight between leading railroad and banking interests for control of the Northern Pacific and Burlington R. R. systems. On one hand were arrayed such powerful interests as J. J. Hill of the Great Northern and assisted by the powerful banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., with all the influence it commands. On the other hand were arrayed the big financiers who control the Union Pacific system and their allies and who were commonly known as the Harriman, Gould and Kuhn-Loeb party. When the battle was acute Northern Pacific stock in a week advanced from a little above par to 1,000; sales at that level being made in the open market. The big rally naturally tempted short sales and both sides had deliveries due them of stock that would give each side control. As this amount of stock was not in existence the shorts were in a quandary of great seriousness and many of them, in order to settle, were forced to sell out other issues. The evidences that the big financial interests, whom it was generally believed by the public were acting in harmony in order to bring about stability of railroad rates, came as a shock to the public, which hastened to throw over its holdings. Everybody was mad to sell and there were few buying orders. In consequence prices fell with a crash on the day of the panic, the losses ranging from 10 to 60 points in the prominent stocks.

The panic was short lived, as the following day the committee of prominent banking officials raised a fund to relieve the money market, which on May 9 had ruled at 400 to 100 per cent. for call funds, and the two fighting financial parties came to an agreement by which all shorts were permitted to settle in Northern Pacific at a basis of 150. In spite of the severe losses made by the speculative community the recovery from the low level of prices on the panic day was so great that not a single Stock Exchange house reported any difficulty.

Early in June the market became dull, irregular and professional, with prices showing a general sagging tendency. A feature of this month was the failure of the Stock Exchange firm of Marquand & Co. and the suspension of the Seventh National Bank. Money rates also rallied to 15 per cent. in June, preliminary to the half year interest and dividend disbursements. About the middle of July the big steel strike was inaugurated and also the shorter lived coal strike, which were destined to have so long continued an adverse effect upon the market. Adverse reports of a poor corn crop also had a depressing effect and induced liquidation in securities. These conditions practically prevailed all through July and Aug. Early in Sept. there was some revival of activity, but this was again checked by the shooting of President McKinley. This unfortunate and greatly deplored event caused initial violent reactions in values, and during the period of uncertainty as to the result, speculation was marked by heaviness and depression. This was accentuated by the Government monthly crop report, indicating a corn crop of 1,300,000,000 bushels, as against last year's crop of 2,200,000,000 bushels. All the Exchanges closed on the day following the death of the President and also on the day of the public funeral.

President Roosevelt's first statement that he would carry out the policy of the late President also had much to do with return of confidence.

In Nov. was announced the formal settlement of the Northern Pacific controversy. The ending of this fight for control of a big property caused a general rally in values. The settlement was a victory for the Harriman party as, instead of the original one-third interest in the Burlington asked for, they secured one-half interest in the new Northern Securities Company, capitalized at $400,000,000, to take over the securities of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern systems. Speculative markets during the last two months of the year were marked by decided irregularity. In the main prices showed steadiness and even firmness for the railroads, which were sustained by continued earnings that were record breaking in size. In fact, so great was commercial activity that the railroads complained of inability to handle freight on account of the scarcity of cars. Gross and net earnings for the year of the prominent railroad systems show increases ranging from 5 to 15 per cent. over those of last year.

The feature of the closing month of the year was the break in Amalgamated Copper and the demoralization of the copper trade, with a sharp cut in the prevailing high price in that metal. This stock, which sold last June at 130, was early in Dec. lowered to less than half that figure, and the losses sustained by so severe a drop, as well as the adverse effect upon the general market, had much to do with holding the general list in check. Another important feature of the final months of the year was the stringent monetary market. Interior shipments began early in August and slowly the reserves of the banks were depleted so that by the first part of December they had only $5,000,000 above legal requirements. The foreign exchange market during the fall also presented the unusual spectacle of heavy gold exports, which amounted to nearly $23,000,000 after October 30. This departure from the normal was due to several unusual causes. One was the tighter money markets abroad due to the heavy expenditures by the British government on account of the Boer war and the industrial and commercial depression in Germany. Both these causes also influenced heavy selling during the year of American securities held abroad, and, according to experts in this line, resulted in a large reduction in the estimated sum of $2,000,000,000 of American securities held abroad at the first of the year.

Another cause for the gold exports was the fact that during the May fight over Northern Pacific both barking houses conspicuous in that controversy sold heavily of long time sterling and used the funds to pursue their fight. As these fell due in the Fall it became necessary to send gold in payment, as foreign bankers refused to extend the loans. An interesting exhibit in the monetary situation of the year was shown in the Treasury settlement of Dec. 1. According to these official figures the total circulation in the country on that date was $2,250,256,230, as compared to a circulation the year previous of $2,246,300,542.

Another statistical exhibit of the government that is worthy of thought is the statement showing the condition of our foreign trade. This is causing some natural alarm in some quarters, as it indicates a reaction from the commanding position taken by this country during the past five years. The financial and industrial depression abroad has partly been responsible for the decline noted in our foreign business, but it is also held to be due to a more active and modern competition for the world's trade, together with a more general adoption of American methods, on the part of our foreign competitors. For the eleven months of the calendar year our total exports were $1,328,103,184, as against $1,332,056,242. This is a small loss in total exports of only approximately $3,500,000. But our imports tell another tale, as the total for the same eleven months are $800,424,837, as against $760,452,507 last year, or an increase of approximately $40,000,000. The excess of exports over imports for the eleven months was $528,668,764 and as against an excess last year of $571,603,735. It is also significant to note that most of this loss has been made in the latter half of the year, $7,000,000 alone being made in Nov. This decline in our foreign trade, combined with the year's serious failure of the corn crop, is the first sign of any deterioration from the high pressure of national prosperity that has ruled for the past five years. Otherwise, every indication points to continued national prosperity during the coming year.

The year 1901 has been made important by the many promises of improved transit service which have been made. The municipal authorities have planned a tunnel to connect this borough with Manhattan; the Long Island R. R. has planned a tunnel for the same purpose, and the Pennsylvania R. R. has a similar scheme. In addition to this progress has been made in the new Eastern District bridge, and ground has been broken for Bridge No. 3. The principal thing, however, was the hope that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. would devise some plan by which its service could be improved.

Various plans for changing the terminal facilities at the bridge were proposed, but none of them appear to have gone beyond the stage of a possibility. Early in March Jacob L. Greetsinger, representing the new controlling interest in the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., succeeded Clinton L. Rossiter, who had for six years built up the physical condition of the property and increased its net earnings. Mr. Greetsinger has arranged for the expenditure of several millions of dollars upon the railroad system, and thus far has increased the gross earnings from 5 to 6 per cent. each month, but has, at the same time greatly increased the operating expenses of the company. Its annual report, which was made public in Oct., was a distinct disappointment, and the stock declined to 56. The highest level of the year previous to that time had been 88½. During President Greetsinger's term of office the Union street railroad has been built, but up to the present time no cars have been operated. In June the Brooklyn Heights R. R. leased the Elevated R. R. systems and the Rapid Transit Co. has guaranteed the interest upon their bonds.

The Coney Island and Brooklyn R. R. Co. in Oct. increased its dividend rate to 16 per cent. a year. In May the lease of the Union Ferry Co. of its dock privileges from the city expired and it demanded a reduction in the rent. This was refused by the city officials and the matter has dragged along and has not yet been settled. The ferry company is still operating, but under no definite arrangement.

Early in the year the New York and New Jersey Telephone Co. increased its capital stock from eight to fifteen millions, and a considerable portion of this new stock has been sold to the old stockholders at par. The remainder of it will probably be sold on same terms during the next year or two.

The Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Co., which went into a receiver's hands about two years ago, has been reorganized. The knife was put in pretty deeply and the over-capitalization was cut down to a normal basis. It is said the reorganized company is doing well.

In July the Associated Manufacturers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., which had been maintaining a bare existence for several years previous, was forced to retire from business.

A few days after the spring panic in Wall street the Consolidated Stock Exchange firm, made up of Thomas Nevins and Edward Graft, suspended, and the failure was found to be a bad one, with disagreeable details involving a number of other well known people. The firm's affairs have not yet been wound up.

The E. W. Bliss Co. in the spring made an advantageous contract with the American Can Co., which resulted in a sharp advance in the market value of the Co.'s stock. It has had a remarkably successful year. The United States Projectile Co., which is also controlled by Col. Bliss, has made so much money that it pays dividends at the rate of 16 per cent.

Banking institutions have generally made money. Events of importance was the absorption of the Hamilton Bank by the Union and the absorption of the Schermerhorn Bank by the Mechanics. An effort to join the Kings County Bank with another financial institution failed.

All of the trust companies have done well. The Long Island doubled its capital and surplus by a sale of stock and then moved into the finest trust company quarters in the borough, taking a part of the lower floor of the "Temple Bar" Building. Late in May the Nassau Trust Co. moved into handsome new offices.

The Realty Associates, a company to buy and sell real estate and connected with the Title Guaranty and Trust Co., was organized late in the fall and is reported to be doing well. It has three millions of capital stock.

The Empire State Surety Co., with a capital of $125,000 and a surplus of an equal amount, was organized during the summer and is doing a large business. It has among its stockholders many well known men. John G. Jenkins is the president.

The Brooklyn Union Gas Co. at the close of the year found that its output had reached the capacity of its works, and President Jourdan has made arrangements to increase the plant at an expenditure of about half a million dollars.

LOCAL SECURITIES.

The quotations for local securities at the close of business Dec. 21, 1901, will be found below. Beside market value, the table contains other valuable information. The various classes of securities are arranged so as to show at a glance the controlling company and, so far as possible, the relation of all securities to each other:

CANAL TONNAGE OF STATE.

The tonnage during the season just closed on the State canals as compiled in the office of the Superintendent of Public Works, shows a total of 3,420,613 tons as against 3,345,941 tons during the season of 1900. This is an increase of 74,672 tons for the season, notwithstanding the fact that the navigation period during 1901 was nearly three weeks shorter than during the year 1900. This is nearly sufficient time, under ordinary conditions, for the round trip, so that had the length of the season been the same as last year, the business of the canals as reflected in tonnage figures would have very greatly exceeded that of any season in many years.

The excess of tonnage for the season over that of 1900, covering the same period, is 132,323 tons. Coming to the specific freight movement the statistics show there was an increase in way freight east of 160,033 tons, while there was a decrease in way freight west of 35,337 tons, leaving a total increase in way freight of 124,696 tons. This would indicate that the increased business on the canals is very largely made up of way shipments, since the increase in through freight east is only 1,015 tons, while there was an actual decrease in through freight west of 51,039 tons. The total increase in tons east was 161,048, while there was a total decrease in tons west of 86,376.

Deep Water Harbors of Atlantic Coast.

The placing in 1901 of Portland, Me., on the list of contract ports on the Atlantic Coast entitled to the lowest rate of marine insurance adds another deep water harbor to the Atlantic seaboard. The list of grain shipping ports of the first rank now includes New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Va.; Newport News, Va., and Portland, Me.

College Entrance Examinations.

The first series of uniform college entrance examinations by authority of the College Entrance Examination Board of the Middle States and Maryland, were held during the week ending June 22, 1901, at sixty-one different points in the United States, and at London, England, and Dresden, Saxony. A total of 900 candidates were examined by the board.

THE EAGLE ALMANAC

Did it ever occur to you that the Eagle Almanac is, each year, a complete history of Brooklyn for the previous twelve months? It is, and more than that; as an advertising medium results are secured not only during the present year but for years to come, because the Eagle Almanac is kept by every person who is the owner; and each year the book becomes more valuable. Remember this when you are requested to loan your Eagle Almanac to a friend.

COMFORT TO MANKIND

And since 1870 adding years to a man's life—Schnoter's Army and Navy Suspensory Bandage is the only permanent relief for Varicocele, Hydrocele and Rupture.

Before taking notice of Startling Advertisements of so-called Varicocele Cures, see your family physician. Incidentally ask him about the Celebrated Schnoter's Suspensories—Don't be surprised if he tells you he wears them himself. Any better endorsement wanted?

A Schnoter's Suspensory is the only safeguard against Varicocele, Rupture, etc.

In use by all prominent Athletes, Professional Men, Business Men, Policemen, Firemen, Letter Carriers and used in the United States Army and Navy.

Wheelmen should not be without one. Endorsed by prominent physicians and surgeons since 1870, also by the "United States Health Reports."

We are specialists in Suspensory Making, and we will cheerfully give you any information regarding Varicocele and Rupture.

Ask your druggists for the "Genuine Schnoter's Suspensory Bandages" (look for our Trade Mark, J.C.S.). If he has not our make in stock, and refuses to get it for you, send direct to us, and we will mail you in plain wrapper on receipt of price.

Plain style, Cotton, 30c., 40c.; Linen, 50c.; Silk, 50c., 60c., and 75c.; A. & N. Style, no elastic, 30c.

Army and Navy Style, with lisle elastic belt and straps, Cotton, 65c.; Linen, 75c.; Best Silk, $1 00.

Guaranteed and manufactured solely by the J. C. SCHNOTER CO., (Headquarters)

RESOLUTIONS A SPECIALTY

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

OF NEW YORK

RICHARD A. McCURDY, President

Did more business in 1901 than during any previous year of its history. It easily maintains its position as "the largest, strongest, most progressive life insurance company in the World."

Income exceeds = = $200,000.00 a day
Assets over = = = $350,000,000.00

The assets of The Mutual Life are clean and well invested. The Company refuses to take risks in countries where climatic conditions are at all dangerous, and it does not write insurance on subjects who are in any respect below standard. The result of this careful management is that a policy in The Mutual Life is not only an absolute protection, but a profitable investment as well.

The Mutual Life has returned to Policy-holders the enormous sum of over $550,000,000

Its rates are lower than those of any of the other great companies and its guarantees are higher. Its policies are free from technicalities and broadly liberal. Every penny of profit belongs to the policy-holders.

Chart, Compass and Voyage

To be a PURELY MUTUAL Company;

To issue the BEST POLICY, one combining the most advantages and one from which all objectionable features have been eliminated;

To be most CONSERVATIVE in investing the policy-holders' money;

To give policy-holders and the public the most COMPLETE REPORT, at the earliest moment after the close of the year;

To do business under all the INSURANCE DEPARTMENTS OF THE WORLD in order to get the benefit of the wisdom of all; and

To REDUCE THE RATE OF EXPENSE a little every year;

These are the conditions which the New York Life imposes upon itself, while writing the LARGEST BUSINESS of any Life Company in the world.

EVERGREENS CEMETERY

BROOKLYN, N. Y.

"The Evergreens."

THE EVERGREENS CEMETERY is situated in the Counties of Kings and Queens, and contains 300 acres. Its main entrance is on Bushwick Avenue and Conway Street, Brooklyn, at the focus of all the principal lines of travel, and conveniently accessible from the most widely remote parts of Brooklyn and New York. Notwithstanding these unequalled facilities of access, the location is appropriately secluded from the noise and bustle of the great world of life, whose surges break into silence at its borders. Its grounds are absolutely unequalled in their fitness for a necropolis. Nature has endowed the spot with varied and picturesque sylvan beauties and a charming diversity of landscape. Magnificent woodland vistas and reaches of mossy emerald sward loom up in panoramic surprises as the visitor rambles over the knolls and slopes, across the dells and plains, and by the margin of the lakelets that here abound. From the terraces of the cemetery and from the summits of its higher hills the prospect embraces the great cities with their manifold engineering and architectural wonders, and in sedate or poetic contrast hamlets nestling amid their rural charms, visions of bays dotted with slumbering islands, and, southward yet, the majestic main, bearing the nation's commerce on its breast. To these admirable natural advantages are to be added the elaborate adornments of art which an stinted outlay on the part of the Trustees has supplied and is continually supplying, and which arise in costly cenotaphs, shrines, and monuments, erected by wealthy patrons as tributes to the memory of their dead.

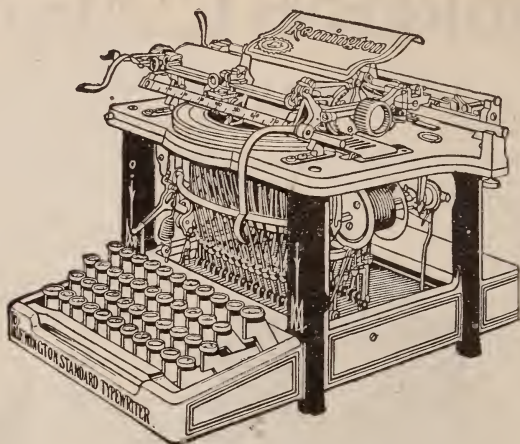

Purchasers of lots desiring time for payment will be accommodated.

The EVERGREENS became a chartered institution October 6th, 1849.
